[This text is intended for users whose text readers cannot use the "real" (Unicode/UTF-8) version of the file. The main difference is that letters with macron ("long" mark) are shown instead with circumflex accents:

âêîôû ÂÊÎÔÛ

Long y (rare) is unmarked in the body text, and shown as y: in the Glossary. The circumflex accent in its own right does not occur.

There is no Greek in this book.

Boldface text is shown with #marks#, sans-serif type (only in the Advertising) with =marks=, and italics with _lines_.

The text as printed includes several hundred cross-references to footnotes, numbered from 1 on each page, and to lines of text, numbered continuously within each selection. Each selection is therefore given twice, in "stripped" and "as printed" forms.

In the complete form, all page numbers and line breaks have been retained. Words split across line or page breaks may appear on either the first or second line, depending on space. Footnote anchors are shown in [brackets], page numbers in [[double brackets]] on separate lines, and line numbers in {braces} at the end of the line. The printed line numbers use multiples of five; in the e-text, some numbers have been moved up or down when required by line length.

The stripped form gives the bare text, without macrons. Note that selections XXVIII-XXX were edited; see first footnote to XXVIII.

The two large maps can be found in the "images" directory associated with the HTML version of this text, under the names frontis_large.jpg and foldout_large.jpg. Map thumbnails and the other illustrations-- mainly line drawings-- are in the same place.]

PREFACE

[Decoration]

Upon the reviving perception of the true scope of Latin teaching has followed a return to some of the methods of former times, which, with all their faults, were yet imbued with the true spirit of the Classics. Since for many years the study of Latin lay in bondage to the spirit which regarded the language merely as a _corpus vile_ for grammatical dissection, and ignored the rich literature lying beyond the classical trinity of authors, it is not surprising that it fell into disfavor as unsuited to the requirements of the times. The revival upon which the study has now entered is due largely to a recognition of the fact that mental culture rather than mere mental training is its true aim, and that, with this aim kept steadily in view, the study of Latin is not a barren waste of time and energy, but a most potent agency in securing that broad and sympathetic culture which must ever remain the mark of the educated man. The results of classical study most valuable to the character are surely not to be found in the ability, usually lost after a few years, to recite paradigms faultlessly, to give the principal parts of verbs, and to enumerate the various kinds of _cum_-constructions and the subdivisions of the ablative. Of far greater worth are the mental breadth and sympathy, the weakening of prejudice and Philistinism, and the increased power of entering into higher forms of enjoyment which must inevitably flow from the study of the life of a great people as revealed in its literature and art.

This conception of the sphere of Latin study has brought with it some modifications of the initial steps and a return to some of the texts in use fifty years since. In the traditional sequence of authors, and particularly in the selection of a purely military work as the means by which to introduce the student to the language, the entrance into the fields of Latin literature has frequently been made so distasteful as to destroy the desire for further exploration. More attractive paths, however, are opening to the beginner; and of these the _Viri Romae_ offers in a notable degree material of real interest to the young, and, from the very outset, gives a foretaste of the contents of the literature.

The history of this work is of interest, as showing an early recognition of the correctness of the standpoint to which we are now returning. It was compiled by a Professor of the University of Paris, Charles François Lhomond, who lived from 1727 to 1794, and enjoyed an enviable reputation as a successful teacher, especially of younger pupils. His experience taught him the need of an introductory text combining interest of story with simplicity of style. The best proof of the excellence of his work is the fact that it has ever since remained a favorite with teachers of Latin. The material is taken from the works of various authors, chiefly Livy and Eutropius, but was simplified by Lhomond in vocabulary and construction wherever necessary to fit it to the requirements of beginners. As its title indicates, it deals with the early stories of Rome, so fascinating in any dress to the young, and it is therefore eminently fitted to arouse a desire for further reading.

The present edition has been prepared with reference to the difficulties most likely to embarrass the young pupil at the outset of the new study. One of the most perplexing of these difficulties is the inability to discover in an alphabetical vocabulary the inflected forms encountered in the text. This is met, in part at least, by giving in italics in the footnotes the vocabulary form of verbs not easily recognizable. For a similar reason grammatical constructions are, on their first occurrence, explained in simple language, or their nature briefly indicated, in order that the student may more intelligently consult the grammatical references which follow. For purposes of comparison, and as a means of helping the pupil to form proper habits of study and observation, subsequent occurrences are referred to previous instances, or to the tables of constructions on pages xvi-xxvi.

Although the compiler of the _Viri Romae_ greatly simplified the language of his authorities, there yet remain in the early part of the book many constructions which the beginner is not fitted to discuss. It is strongly recommended, therefore, that the treatment of the more difficult and complex of these constructions be postponed to a later period. At the outset the attention of the pupil should be centered upon matters of primary importance and upon the simplest and most common usages, such as the form of the sentence, the relation of its parts to one another, the significance of terminations, and the modes of expressing the constantly recurring relations of time, place, cause, means, purpose, and result. Even these should be treated as simply as possible and with constant regard to English usage. It is the experience of many teachers that reference to a Latin grammar to explain a construction possessed by English as well as by Latin frequently creates a difficulty where the student, if left to his own devices, would have experienced none.

The notes on matters of Roman custom have been made intentionally full with the aim of adding reality to the stories, and of inducing the pupil, under the teacher's guidance, to discover for himself further details. The use of other accounts, whether in ancient or modern authors, of photographs, plates, and other graphic aids can not be too strongly encouraged, in accordance with the dictum of Horace:--

Segnius irritant animos demissa per aures Quam quae sunt oculis subiecta fidelibus.

All vowels known to be long have been carefully marked. The text of this edition is, in the main, that of C. Holzer (tenth edition, Stuttgart, 1889). In orthography, however, Brambach has been followed. In the vocabulary compound verbs are given under the simple verbs as an aid to the fuller appreciation of the methods by which they are formed and their meanings derived. The exercises in prose composition have been made simple in order that they may occupy their legitimate place as subordinate and auxiliary to the development of the more important reading power.

The thanks of the editors are due to Mr. E. G. Warner, of the Brooklyn Polytechnic Institute, for his hearty coöperation in the work, and particularly for the labor which he has expended upon the exercises.

SUGGESTIONS TO THE STUDENT

[Decoration]

To read Latin quickly and intelligently, and to enjoy the reading properly, we must possess (1) a vocabulary, _i.e._ a collection of Latin words with whose meanings, whether used singly or in combination, we are thoroughly familiar; (2) a knowledge of the inflectional system of the language, _i.e._ its declensions and conjugations; (3) a knowledge of its syntax; and (4) a knowledge of the plan upon which the Latin sentence is constructed, or, in other words, we must be able to overcome the difficulties arising out of the peculiar order of the words and clauses that form a Latin sentence.

#Vocabulary.#--Words are the material out of which sentences are constructed. Hence it is of prime importance to know their meanings. The best way, in fact the only way, to acquire a vocabulary, is by constant reading, and by noting carefully the force of individual words as they occur. It soon becomes evident that certain words are very frequently used, especially verbs which denote actions that have to do with everyday life, such as _dîcô_, _eô_, _faciô_, _habeô_, _veniô_, _sum_, and their compounds. These at least must be mastered at the very outset. It is worth while to notice what prefixes are used in forming compound verbs, and the modifications of meaning which they produce. If the force of the simple verb is mastered, a little practice will enable the student to detect at sight the meaning of any of its compounds without reference to any dictionary.

It is useful also to group together in memory words derived from the same stem, _e.g._ _canô_, _cantus_; _certô_, _certâmen_; _dûcô_, _dux_; _regô_, _rêx_, _rêgius_; _caedô_, _caedês_. A specially interesting study consists in noting the English words which go back to Latin originals. From various causes a large part of our English vocabulary is borrowed from Latin. Cf. _donate_ with _dônô_ and _dônum_, _lucid_ with _lûx_, _regent_ with _rêx_ and _regô_.

Finally, it will be found very helpful constantly to read Latin aloud, for thus the _ear_ will help the _eye_ and words will have meaning when _heard_ as well as when _seen_. Indeed, we ought to use our ears far more than our eyes in acquiring a Latin vocabulary, in order that Latin words, when heard, shall suggest at once to our minds the same pictures which they suggested to the minds of Roman boys.

#Inflections and Syntax.#--It is not enough, however, to be familiar with the meanings of individual words, however many we may succeed in mastering. We must possess a knowledge also of _inflections_, _i.e._ of the declensions and conjugations, which tell us how individual words may be altered in form in order to express different relations to other words, and of _syntax_, which tells us how words are combined together into sentences. A knowledge of inflections and an understanding of syntax are the tools by which we arrive at the meaning of sentences as a whole. As the wise workman uses the best and most efficient tools, so one who undertakes to read Latin with speed and pleasure must make his mastery of inflections and syntax as complete as possible. It is assumed that students of this book have already had some drill in the commoner inflections. The principles of syntax can best be studied as they occur in actual reading. The commonest, and therefore most important, are discussed in the notes and illustrated by appropriate references to the grammars in common use and by the tables of constructions on pages xvi to xxvi. A very practical way of fixing the principles of syntax firmly in mind is by frequent translation from English into Latin. It should be remembered, however, that we study syntax simply because such study enables us to read and enjoy the great works of Latin literature.

#The Order of Words.#--The greatest difficulty that confronts the student of Latin literature is the fact that the order of the words in a Latin sentence is widely different from that which he ordinarily finds in an English sentence. This difference is due mainly to two causes. (1) Every Latin sentence is a kind of word picture, in which the meaning is developed stroke by stroke, _the separate parts being introduced in the order of their importance_. (2) It is a principle of Latin to keep the meaning in suspense until the very end, so that the last word completes not only the form, but also the meaning of the sentence. Both these principles may be seen at work in lines 1 to 5 of selection I, page 1. _Proca_ naturally stands first, partly because the whole work is a story of the deeds of men, partly because at this point he is especially important, as being the reigning king, with power to choose his own successor. The phrase _rêx Albânôrum_ very properly follows, as defining the scene of the action. _Numitor_ and _Amûlius_ are next mentioned because the Latin loves to emphasize contrasts of persons. The sense of the whole is not complete till we reach the very last word, _habuit_. In the next sentence _Numitôrî_ is first, because now Numitor is more important, as being Proca's successor. The relative clause _quî . . . erat_ not only states a fact, but also gives the reason why Proca bequeathed his kingdom (_rêgnum relîquit_) to Numitor. So in the words _ut . . . fêcit_, the _ut_-clause tells why Amulius performed the act indicated by the words _Rhêam Silviam . . . fêcit_, so that by the time we know _what_ the act was we know also exactly _why_ it was performed. The Latin thus pictures the parts of the scene in their true order, for the motive in every case precedes the act. We see therefore that, however strange at times the Latin order may seem to be, there is always good reason for it. It is our task at the outset, as it soon will be our pleasure, to determine just what this reason is.

Now this freer order of words in the Latin sentence is rendered possible by the fact that Latin possesses an elaborate inflectional system, whereas English does not. Note, however, that one familiar with Latin declensions would know at once that in the first sentence discussed above Proca was actor (_i.e._ subject), and Numitor and Amulius acted upon (_i.e._ object). So in the sentence _ut . . . fêcit_ it is clear that Amulius is the actor and that Rhea Silvia is acted upon. Thus the inflectional system serves to relieve, in part at least, the very difficulty which it creates.

#How to Read.#--By far the best way for the beginner to make himself familiar with the Latin order and its meaning is to _make a practice from the very outset of reading the sentence aloud from beginning to end before attempting to translate at all_. If the meaning is not clear at once, a repetition of such reading will often serve to make it clear, provided the student knows the force of the individual words and constructions. If he does not, he must seek the aid of the vocabulary or the notes. Then let him read the sentence once more aloud, slowly and carefully. He should not, however, look into either vocabulary or notes until he has read the Latin through at least once. Progress at first will necessarily be slow, but it will be sure. By every page read in the manner indicated above the pupil is preparing himself to read with more and more intelligence and pleasure the pages that remain. Besides, in this way he reads his Latin precisely as he reads English, word after word, in the order in which it is written, and precisely as a Roman boy 1800 years ago read his Latin story or poem. He will gain further the advantage of training his ear as well as his eye and of making it do its fair share of the work. In translating, too, it will be wise to follow as closely as possible the Latin order. Often it will be found that the resulting English order, even if not very common, is none the less intelligible. So the sentence _ut . . . fêcit_ discussed above may be translated almost exactly in the Latin order.

LATIN COMPOSITION

#Its Value.#--An exercise which is very practical and helpful, and which may also become extremely delightful, is the rendering into Latin of English sentences based upon that portion of the Latin text which has already been carefully studied. This exercise is helpful, because it calls upon us to put into practice the knowledge which we have acquired in reading; it may become delightful because it shows us accurately the measure of our advance and thus affords us the pleasure which comes from the feeling that one is making sure progress in a given line of study.

#Essentials.#--To write Latin well one needs precisely the things which we found necessary in reading (page ix). The words and constructions required in the sentences for translation given on pages 112 to 129 are illustrated by the corresponding pages of the Latin text. The pupil should always endeavor to recall the word, inflectional form, phrase, or construction for himself before referring to his text or to his grammar. In other words, he should make the exercise one of thought rather than of mere mechanical copying from a printed model.

#The Object.#--We read the Latin text in order to understand the thoughts of the writer. So in turning English sentences into Latin our chief object is to clothe the _thoughts_ which such sentences convey in proper Latin dress, not merely to substitute Latin _words_ for English _words_. Every language has its own peculiar expressions, which are called _idioms_. Such expressions can never be literally translated from one language into another. Hence in attempting to turn an English sentence into Latin, we must begin by noting carefully the thought which it expresses, and then consider how the Romans gave expression to that thought.

#Choice of Expression.#--In Latin, just as in English, it often happens that the same thought may be expressed in several ways, which differ greatly in the words used as well as in the form and expression. In English it is often impossible to give a reason for the choice of one form of expression in preference to others. Sometimes the choice is made consciously for the sake of variety, or because there is a very slight shade of difference in meaning,--so slight that we can perhaps feel it, but cannot put it into words; sometimes unconsciously, because every one falls into the habit of using certain phrases and manners of speech with no deeper reason than the habit. The same is true of Latin writers. Their various forms of expression have been noted and collected, and we find them laid down in the grammars as _rules_. Some of these expressions are found to be used by the best writers more frequently than others, and these are considered the best models. But the student must avoid the error of confining himself absolutely to one iron-bound form because most stress is laid upon it by the grammars, if he finds other modes of expression in the writings of good authors. By searching out the greatest variety of forms in which an idea may be expressed, by trying to discover the differences in meaning between them, and by placing yourself as far as possible in the writer's place, you will gain a far greater grasp and appreciation of the language than by learning a single rigid rule and forcing it to fit every case.

One of the central ideas of the following exercises, then, should be to render the thought in as many ways as possible, drawing your authority from the text on which the exercise is based, as well as from your grammar.

Examine the tables on pages xvi to xxvi, where you will find several of the most important constructions treated. Compare the examples given and try to trace out the reasons for the different forms. In many cases you will not be able to do so, and are free to choose one of several modes of expression. In others the meaning of the sentences and the aid of the grammar will give the reason for your choice.

#Caution.#--The pupil should note that all the words and constructions necessary to enable him to write in Latin the sentences given below, pages 112 to 129, are to be found on the pages of the Latin text upon which the exercises are based. _An English-Latin vocabulary or dictionary is, therefore, wholly unnecessary._ Additional sentences based on the text may be made up by student or teacher as required.

TABLES OF CONSTRUCTIONS

The following tables have been prepared for the purpose of affording the pupil material for study and comparison, by grouping together under appropriate heads examples of certain constructions as they actually occur in this book. It is expected that they will be helpful to the student in two ways: (1) by supplementing and illustrating the notes, and (2) by affording him guides which he may follow in his writing of Latin. No attempt whatever has been made to include under any given head all the examples that are to be found in the text. The pupil will find it both interesting and instructive to add to the lists himself as he finds new instances in his own reading.

_A._ EXPRESSIONS OF PLACE

1. PLACE AT OR NEAR WHICH:

#Rômae#, VII, 26, and often; #Tarentî#, XV, 30; salûbriôra #mîlitiae# quam #domî# esse iuvenum corpora, IV, 70 (locative: chiefly used with names of towns);--#in siccô#, I, 10; #in iîs locîs#, I, 11; #in# (on) #sinistrîs manibus#, II, 21; #in colle Quirînâlî#, II, 54; #in ârâ#, III, 4; #in mediâ urbe#, V, 23; ponte . . #in# (over) #Tiberî# factô, #in# (at) #ôre# Tiberis, V, 27;--#multîs locîs#, XXV, 17; #terrâ marîque#, XXI, 125;--#apud Tîcînum# amnem . . #apud Trebiam#, XIX, 16;--#ad# Caprae #palûdem#, II, 44; #ad# tertium #lapidem#, XIII, 12; #ad flûmen# Bagradam, XVII, 18.

_B._ EXPRESSIONS OF MOTION

1. PLACE FROM WHICH:

#Curibus# . . accîtus est, III, 2; #Tarquiniîs# . . profectus, VI, 1 (simple abl., especially with names of towns);--#â portâ# . . pergit, XIII, 5; #ab urbe# profectus, XIII, 13; #â lûdîs# pûblicîs revertêns, XVIII, 17;--dêlâbitur #ê caelô scissô# scûtum, III, 15; #ex eô locô# . . aufûgerat, IV, 20; dônec novae côpiae #ex Âfricâ# advenîrent, XVII, 3; #ex angustiîs# êvâsit, XIX, 38.

2. PLACE TOWARDS WHICH:

#Albam# properâvit, I, 25; Quî cum #Rômam# vênisset, III, 3; #Rômam# also in IV, 64, V, 20, and often; Pergunt inde #Collâtiam#, VIII, 21; Profectus #Delphôs#, IX, 4; #Carthâginem# rediit, XVII, 54; #domum# dêdûcunt, IV, 31; #domum# refugiêns, VII, 45; cum . . #domum# redîret, VII, 48 (simple accusative, chiefly with names of towns);--Cum lupa saepius #ad parvulôs# . . reverterêtur, I, 16; Remum . . #ad Amûlium# rêgem perdûxêrunt, I, 27; #ad Gabînôs# sê contulit, VIII, 4;--#in Âfricam# . . trâiêcit, XVII, 15; #in Îtaliam# vênit, XIX, 15; abiêcit #in Tiberim#, I, 7; Sabînôs #in urbem# recêpit, II, 38; aciem #in# (to) #collem# subdûxit, IV, 58; cum #in# (upon) #tribûnal# êscendisset, XII, 20; #In# (against) #eum# . . rediit, IV, 22; ausae sunt sê #inter têla# . . înferre, II, 36.

3. WAY BY WHICH:

#portâ# (abl. of means) #quâ# profectî erant, XI, 19; #Per# (over) #loca alta# âgmen dûcêbat, XIX, 23; Quî cum . . #per montês, per silvâs# hûc illûc discurrerent, XIX, 35.

_C._ EXPRESSIONS OF TIME[I.1]

1. TIME AT WHICH:

#Posterô diê#, IV, 61, VIII, 24; #Prîmô impetû#, II, 29; #Kalendîs Mârtiîs#, III, 20; #eâ tempestâte#, VI, 17; #nocte mediâ#, XIX, 68.

2. TIME WITHIN WHICH OR IN THE COURSE OF WHICH:

#Annô trecentêsimô# ab urbe conditâ, XII, 1; #eôdem annô#, XIII, 11; #bellô Latînô#, XIV, 11; #hôc bellô#, XIV, 12; #in proeliô#, VI, 26; #In proeliô quôdam, in quô#, VII, 8; #In quô bellô#, XV, 2.[I.2]

3. AGE:

fîlium #tredecim annôrum#, VI, 25; Hannibal . . #novem annôs nâtus#, XIX, 1.

[Footnote I.1: See also below, Ablative Absolute, _K_ 3.]

[Footnote I.2: The form with #in# is the more exact.]

_D._ DURATION OF TIME AND EXTENT OF SPACE

1. DURATION OF TIME:

Rômulus #septem# et #trîgintâ# rêgnâvit #annôs#, III, 38; rêgnâvit #annôs duôs# et #trîgintâ#, IV, 75; rêgnâvit #annôs quattuor# et #quadrâgintâ#, VII, 52; #per tôtum bîduum#, XIII, 87; #omnî deinde vîtâ#, XIII, 60. (This last form should not be imitated.)

2. EXTENT OF SPACE:

Iam #aliquantum# spatiî . . aufûgerat, IV, 20; centum et vîgintî #pedês# longum, XVII, 27; quînque diêrum #iter# . . abest, XXI, 163.

_E._ EXPRESSIONS OF PURPOSE

1. Pure purpose: #ut# or #nê# with the subjunctive:

#ut# eum subole #prîvâret#, I, 3; #ut# populum ferum religiône #mîtigâret#, III, 3; #ut esset# index pâcis et bellî, III, 25;--#nê# fûrtô auferrî #posset#, III, 16; #nê# duo violenta ingenia mâtrimôniô #iungerentur#, VII, 38.

2. Relative clause:

mîsit #quî# societâtem . . #peterent#, II, 5; Centum . . êlêgit, #quôrum# cônsiliô omnia #ageret#, II, 40; sacerdôtês lêgit, #quî# ancîlia . . #cûstôdîrent# et . . #ferrent#, III, 19; Rômam missus, #ubi# (= ut ibi) . . #interesset#, XXVIII, 8.

3. #Quô#[I.3] (whereby) with subjunctive:

#quô frequentius habitârêtur#, IV, 66 (see note); #quô minor# turba Rômae #foret#, XVIII, 21; #quô diûtius# in magistrâtû #esset#, XIX, 46.

4. Gerundive:

coniugî dedit #êducandôs#, I, 19; îgnem . . perpetuô #alendum# virginibus dedit, III, 4; agellum #colendum# locâvit, XVII, 36; #ad exercitum lûstrandum#, II, 44; mîlitês #ad vindicandum# facinus accendit, XII, 26.

5. Future participle:

quasi dê pâce #âctûrus#, rê vêrâ ut tempus extraheret, XVII, 2 (see note).

6. Supine:

aquam . . #petîtum# ierat, II, 17; ê suîs ûnum . . mittit #scîscitâtum#, VIII, 8; Cum . . lêgâtî Rômam vênissent #conquestum#, XIII, 81; pecora . . quae #pâstum# prôpulsa essent, XIX, 63.

7. Substantive clauses:

adfîrmâns . . Rômulum . . praecipere #ut# sêditiônibus #abstinêrent# et rem mîlitârem #colerent#, II, 51-53; Latînôrum populîs suâsit #ut# . . fânum Diânae . . in Aventînô monte #aedificârent#, VII, 25; optâvit #ut# frâter . . #revîvîsceret# atque iterum classem #âmitteret#, XVIII, 19; êdîxit #nê# quis . . in hostês #pûgnâret#, XIII, 42; Veritus autem #nê# . . poenâs #daret#, XVI, 21; petiit â patribus cônscrîptîs #nê# quid dê eâ rê #statuerent#, XIII, 83.

[Footnote I.3: This is merely a special form of (2), but its importance entitles it to separate treatment.]

_F._ EXPRESSIONS OF RESULT

1. Pure result: #ut# or #ut nôn# with the subjunctive:

ita omnium animôs eâ pietâte imbuit #ut# fidês . . cîvês #continêret#, III, 33; adeô frâctî . . sunt spîritûs . . #ut# nûllî reî posthâc nisi sacrîs operam #daret#, IV, 72; ita eôs adliciêns #ut# apud omnês plûrimum #posset#, VIII, 6.

Note that in the main clause there is usually some word like #ita#, #adeô#, #tam#, #tâlis#, #is#, which paves the way for the result clause.

2. Relative (characteristic):

invenîrî potuit nêmô, #quî . . peteret#, XXIII, 119; Ûnus adulêscêns fuit, #quî audêret# querî, XXIV, 50. Here too belongs #quîn# with the subjunctive: haud procul erat #quîn . . âgnôsceret#, I, 33; nôn esse dubium #quîn . . oportêret#, XVI, 27; Nêminî dubium est #quîn . . restituerit#, XIX, 105.

3. Substantive:

(Rômulus dîxit) #futûrum ut# omnium gentium dominî #exsisterent#, II, 53; #oportet# dîsciplînam, quam solvistî, . . #restituâs#, XIII, 54; #concessum est ut# . . praecinente tîbîcine â cênâ #redîret#, XVI, 16.

_G._ TEMPORAL CLAUSES[I.4]

1. #Ubi#, #ut#, or #postquam# with the indicative mood, especially the perfect tense:

#Ubi# spectâculî tempus #vênit#, II, 11; #Ut . . increpuêre# arma micantêsque #fulsêre# gladiî, IV, 13; Is #postquam adolêvit#, VII, 7; Quî #postquam# frequentês #convênêre#, XIII, 52.

2. #Dum# (while) with the indicative (the tense employed is generally the present):

Ea rês #dum# Numitôris animum anxium #tenet#, I, 36; #dum# Albânus exercitus #inclâmat# Cûriâtiîs, IV, 23; Latînus #dum# ad Tiberim #dêscendit#, sacerdôs bovem immolâvit, VII, 34.

3. #Dum#, #dônec# (until) with the subjunctive:

#dum convalêsceret# (indirect discourse also), VII, 17; ut tempus extrâheret, #dônec# novae côpiae ex Âfricâ #advenîrent#, XVII, 3 (partly purpose).

4. #Antequam# and #priusquam# with the subjunctive:

Alterum . . #priusquam# tertius #posset# cônsequî, interfêcit, IV, 24; #priusquam# eîs bellum #indîceret#, lêgâtum mîsit quî rês repeteret, V, 7; petiit . . nê quid . . statuerent #antequam# ipse #înspexisset# Macedonum . . causam, XIII, 83 (indirect discourse).

5. #Cum# with the imperfect or pluperfect subjunctive:

#cum# iîs #însidiâtî essent# latrônês, I, 22; #cum# Numitor . . #comparâret#, I, 30; #cum# (as) Rômae #appropinquârent#, II, 15; cum (while) . . côntiônem . . #habêret#, II, 44; Quî #cum# Rômam #vênisset#, III, 2. This form of temporal clause is extremely common.

[Footnote I.4: Cf. also Ablative Absolute, _K_ 3.]

_H._ CAUSAL CLAUSES[I.5]

1. Relative clause with the subjunctive:

quîppe #quî cerneret# ferrum ante oculôs micâns, accûsâtiônem dîmîsit, XIII, 8; cum in eam cîvitâtem animadvertere dêcrêvisset #quae# (= cum ea) sibi #adversâta fuisset#, XXVII, 37.

2. #Cum# with the subjunctive:

#Cum# vêrô uxôrês . . nôn #habêrent#, lêgâtôs circâ vîcînâs gentês mîsit, II, 3; #cum# sê invidiôsum . . #vidêret#, Vêientês . . adversus Rômânôs concitâvit, IV, 55; #Cum# . . facinora clandestîna #fierent#, Ancus carcerem . . aedificâvit, V, 21-25.

3. #Quod#,[I.6] #quia#, #quoniam#, or #quandô#, with the indicative:

#quia# tribus impâr #erat#, . . fugam capessîvit, IV, 18; #quandôquidem . . pûgnâvistî#, XIII, 53; #quia# nôn #pâruistî#, XIII, 77.

4. #Quod# with the subjunctive:

cum sê invidiôsum apud cîvês vidêret, #quod# bellum ûnô paucôrum certâmine #fînîsset#, IV, 55-56 (see note); Tarquinius fîlium . . #quod# in proeliô hostem #percussisset#, praetextâ . . dônâvit, VI, 25-27.

5. #Quasi# with the subjunctive (assumed reason):

eum accûsantês, #quasi# Numitôris agrôs înfêstâre #solitus esset#, I, 28; Is cum îrâtus ad mortem dûcî iussisset mîlitem, #quasi# (because, as was supposed,) #interfêcisset# commîlitônem, XIII, 65.

NOTE.--These clauses resemble those in 4, as giving the reason ascribed to some one other than the writer. They show also that the reason is fictitious, and invented by the person who advances it.

[Footnote I.5: Cf. also Ablative Absolute, _K_ 4.]

[Footnote I.6: These conjunctions are regularly used with the indicative. They are employed with the subjunctive only when the writer is indirectly quoting the reason given by some one else.]

_I._ CONCESSIVE OR ADVERSATIVE CLAUSES

1. #Cum# (although) with the subjunctive:

#cum retinêrêtur# â propinquîs et amîcîs, tamen Carthâginem rediit, XVII, 53.

2. #Quamquam# with the indicative:

#quamquam . . pellêbâtur#, XXI, 242.

3. #Quamvîs# with the subjunctive:

#quamvîs sîs# molestus, XXVI, 158.

_J._ CUM CLAUSES

The temporal, causal, and concessive uses of #cum# have already been given separately. #Cum# was originally a temporal conjunction. From the temporal idea were developed its other meanings. So the English _when_ frequently contains the ideas of time and cause, or time and concession combined, and _while_ also is frequently at once temporal and concessive. So #cum# also may represent these ideas in combination as well as separately. In many cases, indeed, it is difficult, if not impossible, to decide which meaning is more prominent: cf.

#Cum# (_when_ and _since_) lupa saepius ad parvulôs . . #reverterêtur#, I, 16; Hîs artibus #cum# (_when_ and _although_) Hannibalem Fabius . . #clausisset#, ille . . sê expedîvit, XIX, 31.

_K._ THE ABLATIVE ABSOLUTE

1. FORM.--The ablative absolute consists usually of a noun and a participle. The participle is generally passive, but often active: #Eô rêgnante#, IV, 3; #relâbente flûmine#, I, 9.

2. Often, however, the ablative absolute consists of a noun and adjective, or of two nouns, or a noun and pronoun. In such cases there is an ellipsis of the lost present participle of #sum#:

#mâgnâ glôriâ# bellî, IV, 75; #parî# ferê #ôrnâtû#, X, 6; #Appiô iûdice#, XII, 15; #Valeriô# et #Cossô cônsulibus#, XIV, 1.

3. MEANING.--The ablative absolute may denote

TIME; compare Temporal Clauses, _G_ 1, 2, and 5.

#pulsô frâtre#, rêgnâvit, I, 3; #Eâ rê côgnitâ#, parvulôs . . abiêcit in Tiberim, I, 5; #armâtîs pâstôribus#, Albam properâvit, I, 25.

NOTE.--This is the original and most frequent use of the ablative absolute.

4. CAUSE: compare Causal Clauses, _H_ 2 and 3.

#ortâ# inter eôs #contentiône#, I, 40; dûrissimâ squâmârum #lôrîcâ# omnia têla facile #repellente#, XVII, 22; in cônfertâ multitûdine aegrê #prôcêdente carpentô#, XVIII, 17.

5. CONCESSION:

agrum êius, #omnibus# circâ #vâstâtîs#, intâctum relîquit, XIX, 39.

6. Often time and cause together: compare note on Cum Clauses, _J_. Examples are:

#mîlitibus# sêgnius #dîmicantibus#, raptum sîgnum in hostem mîsit, VII, 9; #occîsô Tatiô#, ad Rômulum potentâtus omnis recidit, II, 40.

7. CONDITION:

#rê# male #gestâ# (if he fails), XVI, 31; nê, #dêsertô# agrô, nôn esset (lest, if he neglected his farm, he might not have), XVII, 34.

8. MEANS:

#advectîs ballistîs# et #catapultîs# (by bringing up, etc.) . . dêiciendus hostis fuit, XVII, 23.

9. ATTENDANT CIRCUMSTANCE:

#crînibus passîs#, II, 36; #mâgnâ glôriâ# bellî rêgnâvit, IV, 75; scrîbâ cum rêge #parî ferê ôrnâtû# sedêbat, X, 6.

10. The ablative absolute is often best translated by the English perfect active participle with an object: #armâtîs pâstôribus#, I, 25, _having armed_ the shepherds. A combination of an abl. abs. and a finite verb is often best rendered by two verbs in the same mood and tense: #interêmptô Amûliô#, Numitôrem in rêgnum #restituit#, I, 37, _he killed_ Amulius _and restored_ Numitor to the throne.

_L._ PARTICIPLES

In Latin the participles, especially the perfect passive participle, are used far more frequently than in English, and with a much larger variety of meanings. The use of the participle tends to produce brevity of expression. Thus the Latin participle may be equivalent to

#raptae# mulierês, II, 35; Rômânus . . male #sustinentem# (= quî male sustinêbat) arma Cûriâtium cônficit, IV, 29; ab laniô cultrô #adreptô# (with a knife _which he caught up_ from a butcher's stall), XII, 24; #volentibus# (= eîs quî volêbant) cônsulere sê dê iûre praebuit, XIII, 97.

2. A CAUSAL CLAUSE:

necessitâte #compulsus# indicâvit, I, 24; nômina mûtâre nôn potuit #dêterritus# . . Nâviî auctôritâte, VI, 16; Hôc terrôre cêterî #adâctî# nômina prômptius dedêrunt, XV, 25.

3. A CONCESSIVE CLAUSE:

#victus# (though beaten) crucis supplicium effûgit, XVI, 30.

4. Latin often uses a perfect passive participle in agreement with a noun, where, judging from English usage, we should expect a noun with a limiting genitive:

ob #virginês# raptâs (on account of the _seizure of_ the maidens), II, 14; Annô trecentêsimô ab #urbe conditâ# (from the _founding of_ the city), XII, 1.

5. English is fond of coördinated verbs, that is, verbs in exactly the same mood, tense, and construction, _e.g._ 'They took the ass and saddled him.' Latin, however, objects to such constructions, and prefers to replace the former of the two verbs by some other form of expression, _e.g._ a passive or deponent participle. We have to notice here two classes of sentences:

(_a_) Such sentences as fulmine #îctum cônflagrâsse#, IV, 74, which = fulmine #îctum esse et cônflagrâsse#, _i.e._ 'he _was struck_ by lightning _and burned_,' etc.

(_b_) such sentences as the following: parvulôs alveô #impositôs abiêcit#, I, 6 = parvulôs alveô #imposuit et abiêcit#; #êlatam# secûrim in êius caput #dêiêcit#, VI, 37 = #extulit# secûrim #et# in êius caput #dêiêcit#; côniugem ê Cûriâ #êvocâtum# . . rêgem #salûtâvit#, VII, 47 = côniugem ê Cûriâ #êvocâvit et# eum rêgem #salûtâvit#.

_M._ INDIRECT DISCOURSE

1. INDIRECT DISCOURSE DEFINED.--The terms _Direct Discourse_ and _Indirect Discourse_ denote the two distinct ways in which a writer may quote the statement or represent the thought of another person. If the writer gives the exact words in which the statement was made, or in which the thought was formulated (if put into words at all), he is said to use the _direct_ discourse. If, on the other hand, he gives merely the substance or the gist of his own or another's statements or thoughts, he is said to use the _indirect_ discourse. In Latin, as in English, the indirect discourse is more common than the direct.

2. In passing from the direct discourse to the indirect, numerous changes become necessary. These may, however, be readily grouped under two heads: (_a_) those which occur in principal clauses, and (_b_) those which occur in subordinate clauses.

3. CHANGES IN PRINCIPAL CLAUSES.--Principal clauses may be declarative, interrogative, or imperative; that is, they may make a statement, ask a question, or give expression to a command. We thus have to consider three forms of principal clauses: (_a_) Statements, (_b_) Questions, (_c_) Commands.

4. STATEMENTS IN INDIRECT DISCOURSE.

All Statements of the Direct Discourse, on passing into the Indirect, fall into the infinitive mood, because they become objects of verbs of saying:

adfîrmâns #vîsum# (sc. #esse#) â sê Rômulum . . eundemque #praecipere#, II, 51 (direct form, #vîsus est# â mê Rômulus . . îdemque #praecipit#); prôclâmâbat fîliam suam iûre #caesam esse#, IV, 43 (direct form, fîlia mea iûre #caesa est#); minâtur sê vî #abstrâctûrum#, XII, 12 (direct form (ego) vî tê #abstraham#).

5. QUESTIONS IN INDIRECT DISCOURSE.

All Questions of the Direct Discourse, on passing into the Indirect, fall into the subjunctive mood, because they are in reality dependent on a verb of asking. No example of a question in formal indirect discourse occurs in the selections contained in this book. Indirect questions (cf. p. 3, n. 2), however, fall under this general head as giving some one's thoughts without quoting his exact words.

6. COMMANDS IN INDIRECT DISCOURSE.

All Commands of the Direct Discourse, on passing into the Indirect, fall into the subjunctive, because they are in reality dependent on some verb like _imperâvit_, to be supplied in thought:

proinde #nê gravârêtur# sê spectandum praebêre, XXI, 289 (direct form, #Nôlî gravârî# tê spectandum praebêre); satis cônstat Sullam . . prôclâmâsse, #vincerent#, dummodo scîrent, XXVII, 12-15 (direct form, #Vincite#, dummodo sciâtis).

7. SUBORDINATE CLAUSES IN INDIRECT DISCOURSE.

All Subordinate Clauses of the Indirect Discourse have their verbs in the subjunctive mood:

Tatius . . Tarpêiae optiônem mûneris dedit, #sî . . perdûxisset#, II, 19-21 (direct form, dô or dabô optiônem mûneris, #sî . . perdûxeris#: see note); Illa petiit quod #gererent#, II, 21 (direct form, Petô quod . . #geritis#).

[Illustration: THE HILLS OF ROME]

The original Latin city comprised only the Palatine and a small portion of the surrounding territory. The Etruscans inhabited the Caelian Hill, and extended toward the Esquiline. The Sabine town occupied the Quirinal, which was originally connected with the Capitoline, on which was the Sabine citadel, by a ridge sloping toward the Forum and the Campus Martius. Ancus Marcius added to the city the Aventine, and built a fortress on the Janiculum. Servius Tullius added the Viminal and Esquiline, and inclosed the seven hills with a line of fortifications, of which one portion is still traceable. The ridge connecting the Capitoline and Quirinal was a barrier which cut the town in two. The only means of communication between the two halves of the city, when its population had reached nearly two million inhabitants, were the narrow strip of land between the Capitoline and the river and a lane ten feet wide crossing the ridge. To relieve the pressure, this ridge was cut away by the Emperor Trajan, in whose Forum on the site of the excavations stands the well-known 'Trajan's Column,' 140 feet high, 'erected to show to posterity how high was the mountain leveled by the Emperor.' The business portion of the modern city occupies the Campus Martius, its main artery, the famous 'Corso,' following the line of the ancient street shown on the plan. URBIS RÔMAE VIRÎ INLÛSTRÊS

#I. Romani imperii exordium# [[stripped text]]

Proca, rex Albanorum, Numitorem et Amulium filios habuit. Numitori, qui natu maior erat, regnum reliquit; sed Amulius, pulso fratre, regnavit et, ut eum subole privaret, Rheam Silviam, eius filiam, Vestae sacerdotem fecit, quae tamen Romulum et Remum geminos edidit. Ea re cognita Amulius ipsam in vincula coniecit, parvulos alveo impositos abiecit in Tiberim, qui tunc forte super ripas erat effusus; sed, relabente flumine, eos aqua in sicco reliquit. Vastae tum in iis locis solitudines erant. Lupa, ut fama traditum est, ad vagitum accurrit, infantes lingua lambit, ubera eorum ori matremque se gessit.

Cum lupa saepius ad parvulos veluti ad catulos reverteretur, Faustulus, pastor regius, re animadversa eos tulit in casam et Accae Larentiae coniugi dedit educandos. Adulti deinde hi inter pastores primo ludicris certaminibus vires auxere, deinde venando saltus peragrare et latrones a rapina pecorum arcere coeperunt. Quare cum iis insidiati essent latrones, Remus captus est, Romulus vi se defendit. Tum Faustulus, necessitate compulsus, indicavit Romulo quis esset eorum avus, quae mater. Romulus statim armatis pastoribus Albam properavit.

Interea Remum latrones ad Amulium regem perduxerunt, eum accusantes, quasi Numitoris agros infestare solitus esset; itaque Remus a rege Numitori ad supplicium traditus est; at cum Numitor, adulescentis vultum considerans, aetatem minimeque servilem indolem compararet, haud procul erat quin nepotem agnosceret. Nam Remus oris lineamentis erat matri simillimus aetasque expositionis temporibus congruebat. Ea res dum Numitoris animum anxium tenet, repente Romulus supervenit, fratrem liberat, interempto Amulio avum Numitorem in regnum restituit.

Deinde Romulus et Remus urbem in iisdem locis, ubi expositi ubique educati erant, condiderunt; sed orta inter eos contentione, uter nomen novae urbi daret eamque imperio regeret, auspicia decreverunt adhibere. Remus prior sex vultures, Romulus postea duodecim vidit. Sic Romulus, victor augurio, urbem Romam vocavit. Ad novae urbis tutelam sufficere vallum videbatur. Cuius angustias inridens cum Remus saltu id traiecisset, eum iratus Romulus interfecit, his increpans verbis: "Sic deinde, quicumque alius transiliet moenia mea!" Ita solus potitus est imperio Romulus.

Among the few Trojans who escaped after the fall of Troy was Aeneas, the son of Venus and the hero Anchises. After many wanderings Aeneas reached Italy, married there Lavinia, the daughter of Latinus, king of the Latins, and founded a town called Lavinium, from the name of his wife. He was succeeded by his son Ascanius, who founded a second city, called Alba Longa, and transferred thither the seat of government. The date traditionally assigned to the capture of Troy was 1184 B.C. Hence it is clear that Alba Longa was settled more than 400 years before the foundation of Rome in 754 B.C. To fill this gap a list of fourteen Alban kings, all descendants of Aeneas, was given by the Roman writers. How Rome itself was founded from Alba Longa is described in the text. It should be kept constantly in mind that little faith is to be put in these traditional accounts of Rome's early history, at least as far as details are concerned. Latin writers tell us that the oldest records of the city perished in the sack of Rome by the Gauls in 388 B.C. The first historical work written by a Roman was published about 215 B.C., more than 500 years after the foundation of the city. Many of the stories were obviously invented to account for institutions which existed in the later times, and the traditional narrative is full of inconsistencies and contradictions.

English 'to go _home_.' 3.5: _perdûcô_. 3.6: 'because, as they said'; _quasi_ often denotes a statement or thought of some person other than the writer himself. See p. xxi, H 5. 3.7: _soleô_. 3.8: #ad supplicium#: 'to be punished'; _ad_ with its noun often denotes purpose. 3.9: #aetâtem . . . comparâret#: 'compared his age with his nature, (which was) by no means that of a slave'; i.e. his appearance and demeanor indicated that he belonged to a higher station than the shepherds. 3.10: #haud . . . âgnôsceret#: 'he came very near to recognizing him'; how literally? In this construction _quîn_ = _ut nôn_, and the subjunctive is one of result: H 595 (504): M 913: A 319, _d_: G 555: B 284, 3. 3.11: abl. of specification: H 480 (424): M 650: A 253: G 397: B 226, 1. 3.12: _similis_ is construed with both gen. and dat. 3.13: 'very like'; cf. a similar use of the comparative in l. 16. 3.14: _dum_, 'while,' regularly takes the pres. indic. where English uses the imperfect: H 533, 4 (467, 4): M 917: A 276, _e_: G 570, R.: B 293. 3.15: historical presents: H 532, 3 (467, III): M 734: A 276, _d_: G 229: B 259, 3. 3.16: _expônô_. 3.17: _condô_. 3.18: #ortâ# (_orior_) . . . #contentiône# = '_because_ a strife arose'; see p. xxiii, K 4. 3.19: indir. quest. depending on _contentiône_; cf. n. 2. The strife centered in the question, "Which of us shall rule?" 3.20: Romulus stood on the Palatine Hill, and Remus on the Aventine. 3.21: _dêcernô_. 3.22: 'first.' 4.1: 'by virtue of the augury'; abl. of cause: H 475 (416): M 612: A 245: G 408: B 219. 4.2: #Ad . . . tûtêlam#: 'to guard the new city.' Cf. p. 3, n. 8. 4.3: Render 'its.' Latin is fond of closely connecting successive clauses, and for this purpose often employs a relative pronoun, where English uses a simple demonstrative, or a demonstrative or personal pronoun with a conjunction,--generally _and_, often _but_ or _for_: cf. p. 2, n. 2. 4.4: 'in anger.' An adjective may often be best rendered by an adverb or adverbial phrase. 4.5: Sc. _pereat_ (subjunctive of wish). 4.6: H 477, I (421, I): M 646: A 249: G 407: B 218, 1.]

#II. Romulus, Romanorum rex primus# [[stripped text]]

753-715 B.C.

Romulus imaginem urbis magis quam urbem fecerat; incolae deerant. Erat in proximo lucus; hunc asylum fecit. Et statim eo mira vis latronum pastorumque confugit. Cum vero uxores ipse populusque non haberent, legatos circa vicinas gentes misit, qui societatem conubiumque novo populo peterent. Nusquam benigne audita legatio est; ludibrium etiam additum: "Cur non feminis quoque asylum aperuistis? Id enim compar foret conubium." Romulus, aegritudinem animi dissimulans, ludos parat; indici deinde finitimis spectaculum iubet. Multi convenere studio etiam videndae novae urbis, maxime Sabini cum liberis et coniugibus. Ubi spectaculi tempus venit eoque conversae mentes cum oculis erant, tum signo dato iuvenes Romani discurrunt, virgines rapiunt.

Haec fuit statim causa belli. Sabini enim ob virgines raptas bellum adversus Romanos sumpserunt, et cum Romae appropinquarent, Tarpeiam virginem nacti sunt, quae aquam forte extra moenia petitum ierat. Huius pater Romanae praeerat arci. Titus Tatius, Sabinorum dux, Tarpeiae optionem muneris dedit, si exercitum suum in Capitolium perduxisset. Illa petiit quod Sabini in sinistris manibus gererent, videlicet aureos anulos et armillas. Quibus dolose promissis, Tarpeia Sabinos in arcem perduxit, ubi Tatius scutis eam obrui iussit; nam et ea in laevis habuerant. Sic impia proditio celeri poena vindicata est.

Deinde Romulus ad certamen processit, et in eo loco, ubi nunc Romanum Forum est, pugnam conseruit. Primo impetu vir inter Romanos insignis, nomine Hostilius, fortissime dimicans cecidit; cuius interitu consternati Romani fugere coeperunt. Iam Sabini clamitabant: "Vicimus perfidos hospites, imbelles hostes. Nunc sciunt longe aliud esse virgines rapere, aliud pugnare cum viris." Tunc Romulus, arma ad caelum tollens, Iovi aedem vovit, et exercitus seu forte seu divinitus restitit. Itaque proelium redintegratur; sed raptae mulieres crinibus passis ausae sunt se inter tela volantia inferre et hinc patres, hinc viros orantes, pacem conciliarunt.

Romulus, foedere cum Tatio icto, et Sabinos in urbem recepit et regnum cum Tatio sociavit. Verum haud ita multo post, occiso Tatio, ad Romulum potentatus omnis recidit. Centum deinde ex senioribus elegit, quorum consilio omnia ageret, quos senatores nominavit propter senectutem. Tres equitum centurias constituit, populum in triginta curias distribuit. His ita ordinatis, cum ad exercitum lustrandum contionem in campo ad Caprae paludem haberet, subito coorta est tempestas cum magno fragore tonitribusque et Romulus e conspectu ablatus est. Ad deos transisse vulgo creditus est; cui rei fidem fecit Iulius Proculus, vir nobilis. Orta enim inter patres et plebem seditione, in contionem processit, iureiurando adfirmans visum a se Romulum augustiore forma, eundemque praecipere ut seditionibus abstinerent et rem militarem colerent; futurum ut omnium gentium domini exsisterent. Aedes in colle Quirinali Romulo constituta, ipse pro deo cultus et Quirinus est appellatus.

[Footnotes: II (pages 4-8)

4.7: It has been suggested that the name _Rômulus_ is derived from _Rôma_, and that this in turn was made from an ancient word _Rumon_, 'river.' _Rôma_ would then be 'the town by the river,' 'Rivertown' (cf. English 'Watertown,' etc.), and _Rômulus_ would be 'the man from Rivertown.' 4.8: _dêsum_. 4.9: #in proximô#: 'near by.' Phrases consisting of a preposition and a neuter adjective are common, and have the force of adjectives or adverbs. 4.10: This grove lay between the two summits of the Capitoline Hill. 4.11: #vîs# often means 'number,' as here, or 'quantity'; 'power' is used in the same sense in some parts of Great Britain. 4.12: #cum#: 'since': H 598 (517): M 863: A 326: G 586: B 286, 2. 5.1: = _Rômulus_. Cf. _ipsam_, I, 5. 5.2: _mittô_. 5.3: #quî . . . peterent#: rel. clause of purpose; see p. xviii, E 2, and H 590 (497, I): M 835: A 317, 2: G 630: B 282, 2. 5.4: In early times the right of intermarriage did not exist between neighboring tribes, except by special treaty. 5.5: Sc. _est_, which, like _esse_, is often omitted with the passive, especially in rapid narrative. 5.6: =

esset: H 205, 2 (204, 2): M 327: A 119, N.: G 116, N. 1, _c_: B 100, N. 2. 5.7: #indîcî . . . iubet#: 'he bids a show to be announced.' Such an announcement would carry with it an invitation to be present. 5.8: Cf. p. 2, n. 21. 5.9: i.e. they were not only interested in the games, but they were also curious to see the new city. 5.10: = _in spectâculum_. 5.11: _convertô_. 5.12: #mentês cum oculîs#: 'minds and eyes alike.' The emphasis is on _mentês_; they were thinking only of the show. 5.13: In rapid historical narrative, clauses are often set side by side without a connective. See also n. 5 above. 5.14: #Haec#, referring to the matters related in the preceding paragraph, should theoretically be neuter, but is feminine because the predicate noun #causa# is feminine. Such attraction is the rule in Latin. H 396, 2 (445, 4): A 195, _d_: G 211, 5: B 246, 5. 5.15: #ob virginês raptâs#: 'on account of the stolen maidens' = 'on account of the seizure of the maidens.' A participle agreeing with a noun is preferred in Latin to an abstract noun with a dependent genitive. 5.16: _sûmô_. 5.17: dat.; why? 5.18: 'they happened upon' (_nancîscor_). 5.19: #forte . . . ierat#: 'had gone by chance' = 'happened to have gone.' _Forte_ is often best rendered by a clause: 'as it happened,' or 'it so happened.' 5.20: supine denoting purpose; see p. xviii, E 6, and H 633 (546): M 1005: A 302: G 435: B 340, 1. 6.1: The subjunctive here, as in #gererent#, is due to implied indirect discourse; #sî perdûxisset# represents the fut. perf. indic. of direct discourse _sî perdûxeris_, 'if you shall have led' = 'if you (shall) lead'; H 646 (527, I): M 1034, 1038: A 337: G 656-7: B 319, B. 6.2: 'that which.' 6.3: _manus_ often = 'arm,' just as _pês_ = 'leg.' 6.4: #gererent#: either 'wore' or 'bore.' Tarpeia meant it in the former sense; Tatius chose to understand it in the latter. 6.5: Why abl.? 6.6: #et ea# = _ea quoque_: 'these too,' as well as the _armillae_ and _ânulî_. 6.7: Sc. _manibus_. 6.8: Note the tense; they _had had_ these, too, on their arms when the bargain was struck. 6.9: See Vocab., _Forum_. 6.10: #Prîmô impetû#: 'in the very first charge.' The ablative fixes the time of #cecidit#. 6.11: #inter . . . însîgnis#: 'the most conspicuous of the Romans.' How literally? 6.12: abl. of specification. 6.13: = _morte_. The abl. includes the ideas of means and cause. 6.14: 'hosts.' The relation of host and guest was regarded by the Romans, as by other ancient peoples, as peculiarly sacred. 6.15: #longê aliud . . . aliud#: 'one thing . . . quite another.' Note here the difference between the English and the Latin idiom. 6.16: Infinitives, because the clauses in which they stand are subjects of #esse#; H 615 (538): M 972: A 270: G 422: B 377. 6.17: This temple was called the Temple of _Iuppiter Stator_, i.e. the 'Stayer,' the god who had _stayed_ the army's flight. 6.18: _resistô_: 'maintained its ground,' 'held its own,' as contrasted with its previous flight (_fugere coepêrunt_). 6.19: #crînibus passîs# (_pandô_): 'with streaming hair.' 6.20: '_by_ beseeching'; the abl. of the gerund (_ôrandô_) might have been used. 6.21: #foedere . . . îctô# (_îcô_): 'having struck a treaty.' How literally? The abl. abs. is one of the regular substitutes in Latin for the missing perfect active participle. In the phrase _foedus îcere_, the verb suggests the striking of the victims in the sacrifice which accompanied the making of the treaty. 7.1: #rêgnum . . . sociâvit#: i.e. henceforth there were two kings. 7.2: By the inhabitants of Laurentum, whose ambassadors he had insulted. 7.3: Note the force of the prefix: the sovereignty 'came _back_,' or 'devolved _again_' upon Romulus, precisely as before he shared it with Tatius. 7.4: abl. of means. 7.5: Cf. p. 5, n. 3. 7.6: See Vocab., _eques_. 7.7: 'When': H 600, II (521, II): M 858: A 325: G 585:

B 288. 7.8: #ad . . . lûstrandum# = _ut . . . lûstrâret_. What does the gerundive construction express? 7.9: Sc. _Mârtiô_. See Vocab., _campus_, and map, p. xxviii. 7.10: #Caprae palûdem#: 'Goat Swamp.' 7.11: _auferô_. 7.12: #crêditus est#: we would say: 'it was believed that he,' etc.; Latin prefers the personal construction, and says: 'he was believed to have,' etc. 7.13: #cuî . . . fêcit#: literally 'for which thing he made (i.e. secured) belief (i.e. general acceptance).' 7.14: What does the abl. abs. here express? See p. xxiii, K 6. 7.15: _prôcêdô_. 7.16: Sc. _esse_. #vîsum esse# and #praecipere# depend on #adfîrmâns#: see H 642 (523, I): M 1023: A 336, 2: G 650: B 314: and p. xxv, M 4. 7.17: #augustiôre fôrmâ#: 'of more imposing presence' (than he was while on earth); abl. of characteristic, H 473, 2 (419, II): M 643: A 251: G 400: B 224. 7.18: i.e. _Rômulum_. 7.19: Note the change of tense from that in _vîsum_ (_esse_) above. Proculus actually said: (_Rômulus_) _praecipit_, i.e. he used the historical present. Above _vîsum_ (_esse_) represents _vîsus est_ of the direct discourse. 7.20: substantive clause of purpose; H 565 (498, I): M 892: A 331: G 546: B 295, 4. 7.21: #futûrum ut . . . exsisterent# gives the statement, not of Proculus, but of Romulus himself. The inf. #futûrum# (_esse_) depends on a verb of saying implied in #praecipere#. Romulus said _exsistêtis_. Since, however, _exsistô_ has no supine and so no future participle, no direct future infinitive can be formed from it. Hence the phrase _futûrum ut_ with subjunctive becomes necessary: 'it would happen that they would become,' etc. 8.1: 'in honor of Romulus'; dat. of advantage. 8.2: With #cônstitûta# and #cultus# (_colô_) sc. _est_. 8.3: For the omission of the conjunction before #ipse#, cf. p. 5, n. 13.]

#III. Numa Pompilius, Romanorum rex secundus# [[stripped text]]

716-673 B.C.

Successit Romulo Numa Pompilius, vir inclita iustitia et religione. Is Curibus, ex oppido Sabinorum, accitus est. Qui cum Romam venisset, ut populum ferum religione mitigaret, sacra plurima instituit. Aram Vestae consecravit, et ignem in ara perpetuo alendum virginibus dedit. Flaminem Iovis sacerdotem creavit eumque insigni veste et curuli sella adornavit. Dicitur quondam ipsum Iovem e caelo elicuisse. Hic, ingentibus fulminibus in urbem demissis, descendit in nemus Aventinum, ubi Numam docuit quibus sacris fulmina essent procuranda, et praeterea imperii certa pignora populo Romano daturum se esse promisit. Numa laetus rem populo nuntiavit. Postridie omnes ad aedes regias convenerunt silentesque exspectabant quid futurum esset. Atque sole orto delabitur e caelo scisso scutum, quod ancile appellavit Numa. Id ne furto auferri posset, Mamurium fabrum undecim scuta eadem forma fabricare iussit. Duodecim autem Salios Martis sacerdotes legit, qui ancilia, secreta illa imperii pignora, custodirent et Kalendis Martiis per urbem canentes et rite saltantes ferrent. Annum in duodecim menses ad cursum lunae descripsit; nefastos fastosque dies fecit; portas Iano gemino aedificavit ut esset index pacis et belli; nam apertus, in armis esse civitatem, clausus, pacatos circa omnes populos, significabat.

Leges quoque plurimas et utiles tulit Numa. Ut vero maiorem institutis suis auctoritatem conciliaret, simulavit sibi cum dea Egeria esse conloquia nocturna eiusque monitu se omnia, quae ageret, facere. Lucus erat, quem medium fons perenni rigabat aqua; eo saepe Numa sine arbitris se inferebat, velut ad congressum deae; ita omnium animos ea pietate imbuit, ut fides ac iusiurandum non minus quam legum et poenarum metus cives contineret. Bellum quidem nullum gessit, sed non minus civitati profuit quam Romulus. Morbo exstinctus in Ianiculo monte sepultus est. Ita duo deinceps reges, ille bello, hic pace, civitatem auxerunt. Romulus septem et triginta regnavit annos, Numa tres et quadraginta.

This word never = 'certain,' as in the phrase 'a certain man.' In that sense _quîdam_ is used. 9.2: #aedês rêgiâs#: 'the palace.' What two meanings does _aedês_ bear? 9.3: 'waited (to see) what,' etc. 9.4: Why subjunctive? See p. 3, n. 2. 9.5: _scindô_. #dêlâbitur . . . scûtum#: 'the heavens were opened and a shield descended.' 9.6: Negative clause of purpose: H 568 (497, II): M 893: A 317, 1: G 545, 3: B 282. On the possession of this _ancîle_ Rome's power was believed to depend; hence Numa's care in guarding it. 9.7: #Saliôs . . . fêcit#: 'he chose twelve Salii as priests of Mars.' 9.8: Why subjunctive? Cf. p. 5, n. 3. 9.9: Roman writers say that before Numa's time the year contained only ten months, a statement hardly credible. 9.10: #nefâstôs . . . fêcit#: 'he made a distinction between _diês nefâstî_ and _diês fâstî_.' See Vocab., _fâstus_ and _nefâstus_. 9.11: Cf. p. 8, n. 1. 9.12: 'two-headed.' The reference is to a temple of Janus in the Forum, with two doors opposite each other, so that the whole structure resembled an arch. 9.13: Both adjectives = temporal clauses, signifying respectively 'when open,' 'when shut.' They agree with _Iânus_ understood, which means the temple, not the god. After Numa's time the temple remained open till 235 B.C. It was opened again in the same year, and not closed till 29 B.C. 9.14: #Lêgês quoque#: '_Laws_ too,' i.e. laws as well as religious ceremonies and priestly orders. 9.15: #înstitûtîs#: dative with #conciliâret#. 10.1: How different in meaning from _dissimulâns_, II, 9? 10.2: #sibi . . . esse conloquia#: 'that he had conversations.' #sibi# is dat. of the possessor; H 430 (387): M 542: A 231: G 349: B 190. 10.3: #êius monitû#: 'at her suggestion.' Cf. _quôrum cônsiliô_, II, 41. 10.4: #quem medium#: 'the middle of which.' 10.5: Here in its original sense of 'witness.' 10.6: #velut . . . deae#: 'giving it out that he was going to meet the goddess'; #velut# is used here as _quasi_ is in I, 28. See note there [[note 3.6]]. For #ad congressum# see p. 3, n. 8. #deae# is dat. after the prefix in #congressum#; cf. H 429 (386): M 532: A 228: G 347: B 187, III. 10.7: #ita# and #eâ# reinforce each other. 'To such a degree (#ita#), and with such (#eâ#) piety,' etc. 10.8: Here = 'respect for their oaths (and obligations).' #fidês ac iûsiûrandum# together = 'their own moral sense,' as opposed to the restraints of the law. 10.9: subjunctive of result: H 570 (500, II): M 905: A 319, 1: G 552, 2: B 284. 10.10: #quidem# is concessive, and so = 'to be sure, it is true.' Hence #quidem . . . sed# = _quamquam . . . sed tamen_. 10.11: Sc. _prôfuerat_. 10.12: #Morbô exstînctus# (_exstinguô_) means that he died a natural death. We are to feel a contrast here to the miraculous disappearance of Romulus, as described on page 7. 10.13: _sepeliô_. 10.14: #duo deinceps rêgês#: 'two _successive_ kings.' When an adverb like deinceps stands between an adjective and a noun, it has the value of an adjective. 10.15: acc. of extent of time: H 417 (379): M 513: A 256, 2: G 336: B 181. See also p. xvii, D 1.]

#IV. Tullus Hostîlius, Romanorum rex tertius# [[stripped text]]

673-641 B.C.

Mortuo Numa Tullus Hostilius rex creatus est. Hic non solum proximo regi dissimilis, sed ferocior etiam Romulo fuit. Eo regnante bellum inter Albanos et Romanos exortum est. Ducibus Hostilio et Fufetio placuit rem paucorum certamine finiri. Erant apud Romanos trigemini fratres Horatii, tres apud Albanos Curiatii. Cum eis agunt reges ut pro sua quisque patria dimicent ferro. Foedus ictum est ea lege, ut, unde victoria, ibi imperium esset.

Icto foedere trigemini arma capiunt et in medium inter duas acies procedunt. Consederant utrimque duo exercitus. Datur signum, infestique armis terni iuvenes, magnorum exercituum animos gerentes, concurrunt. Ut primo concursu increpuere arma micantesque fulsere gladii, horror ingens spectantes perstringit. Consertis deinde manibus, statim duo Romani alius super alium exspirantes ceciderunt; tres Albani vulnerati. Ad casum Romanorum conclamavit gaudio exercitus Albanus. Romanos iam spes tota deserebat. Unum Horatium tres Curiatii circumsteterant. Forte is integer fuit; sed quia tribus impar erat, ut distraheret hostes, fugam capessivit, singulos per intervalla secuturos esse ratus. Iam aliquantum spatii ex eo loco, ubi pugnatum est, aufugerat, cum respiciens videt unum e Curiatiis haud procul ab sese abesse. In eum magno impetu redit, et dum Albanus exercitus inclamat Curiatiis ut opem ferant fratri, iam Horatius eum occiderat. Alterum deinde, priusquam tertius posset consequi, interfecit.

Iam singuli supererant, sed nec spe nec viribus pares. Alter erat intactus ferro et geminata victoria ferox; alter fessum vulnere, fessum cursu trahebat corpus. Nec illud proelium fuit. Romanus exsultans male sustinentem arma Curiatium conficit, iacentem spoliat. Romani ovantes ac gratulantes Horatium accipiunt et domum deducunt. Princeps ibat Horatius, trium fratrum spolia prae se gerens. Cui obvia fuit soror, quae desponsa fuerat uni ex Curiatiis, visoque super umeros fratris paludamento sponsi, quod ipsa confecerat, flere et crines solvere coepit. Movet ferocis iuvenis animum comploratio sororis in tanto gaudio publico; itaque stricto gladio transfigit puellam, simul eam verbis increpans: "Abi hinc cum immaturo amore ad sponsum, oblita fratrum, oblita patriae. Sic eat, quaecumque Romana lugebit hostem."

Atrox id visum est facinus patribus plebique; quare raptus est in ius Horatius et apud iudices condemnatus. Iam accesserat lictor iniciebatque laqueum. Tum Horatius ad populum provocavit. Interea pater Horatii senex proclamabat filiam suam iure caesam esse; et iuvenem amplexus spoliaque Curiatiorum ostentans, orabat populum ne se, quem paulo ante cum egregia stirpe conspexissent, orbum liberis faceret. Non tulit populus patris lacrimas iuvenemque absolvit admiratione magis virtutis quam iure causae. Ut tamen caedes manifesta expiaretur, pater quibusdam sacrificiis peractis transmisit per viam tigillum et filium capite adoperto velut sub iugum misit; quod tigillum _Sororium_ appellatum est.

Non diu pax Albana mansit; nam Mettius Fufetius, dux Albanorum, cum se invidiosum apud cives videret, quod bellum uno paucorum certamine finisset, ut rem corrigeret, Veientes Fidenatesque adversus Romanos concitavit. Ipse, a Tullo in auxilium arcessitus, aciem in collem subduxit, ut fortunam belli exspectaret et sequeretur. Qua re Tullus intellecta magna voce ait suo illud iussu Mettium facere, ut hostes a tergo circumvenirentur. Quo audito hostes territi et victi sunt. Postero die Mettius cum ad gratulandum Tullo venisset, iussu illius quadrigis religatus et in diversa distractus est. Deinde Tullus Albam propter ducis perfidiam diruit et Albanos Romam transire iussit.

Roma interim crevit Albae ruinis; duplicatus est civium numerus; mons Caelius urbi additus et, quo frequentius habitaretur, eam sedem Tullus regiae cepit ibique deinde habitavit. Auctarum virium fiducia elatus bellum Sabinis indixit. Pestilentia insecuta est; nulla tamen ab armis quies dabatur. Credebat enim rex bellicosus salubriora militiae quam domi esse iuvenum corpora, sed ipse quoque diuturno morbo est implicitus. Tunc vero adeo fracti simul cum corpore sunt spiritus illi feroces, ut nulli rei posthac nisi sacris operam daret. Memorant Tullum fulmine ictum cum domo conflagrasse. Tullus magna gloria belli regnavit annos duos et triginta.

#IV. Tullus Hostîlius, Rômânôrum rêx tertius# [[as printed]]

673-641 B.C.

Mortuô[16] Numâ Tullus Hostîlius rêx creâtus est. Hîc nôn sôlum proximô[17] rêgî dissimilis, sed ferôcior etiam Rômulô[18] fuit. [[11]] Eô rêgnante[1] bellum inter Albânôs et Rômânôs exortum[2] est. Ducibus[3] Hostîliô et Fûfetiô placuit rem[4] paucôrum certâmine[5] fînîrî. Erant apud Rômânôs trigeminî frâtrês Horâtiî, três apud {5} Albânôs Cûriâtiî. Cum[6] eîs agunt rêgês ut prô suâ quisque patriâ dîmicent[7] ferrô. Foedus[8] îctum est eâ[9] lêge, ut, unde[10] victôria, ibi imperium esset.

Îctô foedere trigeminî arma capiunt et in medium inter duâs aciês prôcêdunt. Cônsêderant utrimque duo exercitûs. Datur {10} sîgnum, înfêstîque[11] armîs ternî[12] iuvenês, mâgnôrum[13] exercituum animôs gerentês, concurrunt. Ut prîmô concursû increpuêre[14] arma micantêsque fulsêre[15] gladiî, horror ingêns spectantês[16] perstringit. Cônsertîs[17] deinde manibus, statim duo Rômânî alius super alium exspîrantês cecidêrunt[18]; três Albânî vulnerâtî. Ad[19] câsum Rômânôrum conclâmâvit gaudiô exercitus Albânus. Rômânôs {16} iam spês tôta dêserêbat. Ûnum Horâtium três Cûriâtiî circumsteterant.[20] Forte[21] is integer fuit; sed quia tribus impâr erat, ut distraheret hostês, fugam capessîvit,[22] singulôs[23] per intervâlla [[12]] secûtûrôs esse ratus. Iam aliquantum[1] spatiî ex eô locô, {20} ubi pûgnâtum est, aufûgerat, cum respiciêns videt ûnum ê Cûriâtiîs haud procul ab sêsê abesse. In[2] eum mâgnô impetû redit, et dum Albânus exercitus inclâmat[3] Cûriâtiîs ut opem ferant frâtrî, iam Horâtius eum occîderat. Alterum[4] deinde, priusquam[5] tertius posset[5] cônsequî, interfêcit. {25}

Iam singulî[6] supererant,[7] sed nec spê nec vîribus parês.[8] Alter[9] erat intâctus ferrô et geminâtâ victôriâ ferôx[10]; alter fessum[11] vulnere, fessum cursû

Rômânî ovantês[15] ac grâtulantês Horâtium {30} accipiunt et domum[16] dêdûcunt. Prînceps îbat Horâtius, trium frâtrum spolia prae sê gerêns. Cuî[17] obvia fuit soror, quae dêspônsa fuerat ûnî ex Cûriâtiîs, vîsôque[18] super umerôs frâtris palûdâmentô spônsî, quod ipsa cônfêcerat, flêre et crînês[19] solvere coepit. Movet {34} ferôcis iuvenis animum complôrâtiô sorôris in tantô gaudiô pûblicô; itaque strictô[20] gladiô trânsfîgit puellam, simul eam verbîs[21] increpâns: {36} "Abî[22] hinc cum immâtûrô amôre ad spônsum, oblîta[23] [[13]] frâtrum, oblîta patriae. Sîc eat,[1] quaecumque Rômâna lûgêbit hostem."

Atrôx id vîsum est facinus[2] patribus[3] plêbîque; quârê raptus {40} est in iûs[4] Horâtius et apud iûdicês condemnâtus. Iam accesserat lîctor[5] iniciêbatque[6] laqueum. Nôn diû pâx[18] Albâna mânsit[19]; nam Mettius {54} Fûfetius, dux Albânôrum, cum[20] sê invidiôsum apud cîvês vidêret,[20] [[14]] quod[1] bellum ûnô[2] paucôrum certâmine fînîsset, ut[3] rem corrigeret, Vêientês Fîdênatêsque adversus Rômânôs concitâvit. [Footnotes: IV (pages 10-15)

10.16: #Mortuô Numâ#: abl. abs. = _post Numae mortem_. 10.17: #proximô rêgî#: 'his predecessor.' Join with #dissimilis#, which has the same constructions as _similis_ (p. 3, n. 12). _Proximus_ may mean 'nearest (in the past)' = 'last,' or 'nearest

(in the future)' = 'next.' The context must determine the sense. 10.18: abl. of comparison. H 471 (417): M 615: A 247: G 398: B 217. 11.1: #Eô rêgnante#: 'during his reign.' How does this abl. abs. differ from those in I, lines 3, 5, 18, 37, and 40? Cf. p. xxii, K 1. 11.2: _exorior_. 11.3: #Ducibus . . . placuit#: 'the leaders agreed that,' etc. The subject of #placuit# is the clause #rem . . . fînîrî#. 11.4: The meanings of _rês_ are extremely varied. Here #rem# may be translated 'dispute,' and so practically = _bellum_ above. For the mood of _fînîrî_, see p. 6, n. 16. 11.5: The abl. here denotes both the means by which and the manner in which the quarrel was to be ended. 11.6: #Cum . . . rêgês#: 'the kings urge them.' How literally? 11.7: Cf. p. 1, n. 5. 11.8: Cf. p. 6, n. 21. 11.9: #eâ lêge ut#: 'with the understanding that,' 'with the proviso (#lêge#) that.' The clause #ut . . . esset# expresses the purpose which the leaders had in mind in striking the treaty. 11.10: Sc. _fuisset_. #unde# = _quâ ex parte_. We would rather say, '_on_ which side.' Latin often thus prefers to view an idea as one of _motion from_ a place where the English views it rather as that of _rest at_ a point. Why? 11.11: #înfêstî armîs#: 'hostile in (respect of) arms,' i.e. 'with hostile arms.' 11.12: 'three on each side.' Why do we give this meaning to the adjective? 11.13: #mâgnôrum . . . gerentês#: 'breathing the spirit of mighty armies.' So we speak of a person as 'a host in himself.' 11.14: #increpuêre# describes the sound made by the spears as they struck the shields. 11.15: _fulgeô_. 11.16: = _spectâtôrês_. 11.17: _cônserô_. 11.18: _cadô_. 11.19: #Ad câsum#: we say '_at_ the fall,' but the Latin thinks of the shout as rising _against_ (i.e. to greet) the fall. 11.20: _circumstô_. 11.21: Cf. p. 5, n. 19. 11.22: #fugam capessîvit#: 'took (to) flight'; cf. 'to take to one's heels.' 11.23: #singulôs per intervâlla#: 'one by one, at intervals.' 12.1: #aliquantum spatiî#: 'some distance.' #spatiî# is a partitive genitive; #aliquantum# is an acc. of extent of space: H 417 (379): M 513: A 257: G 335: B 181. 12.2: #In . . . redit# (_redeô_): 'he turned and made a furious attack upon him.' How literally? 12.3: #inclâmat . . . ferant#: 'was shouting . . . (bidding them) to bear aid.' For #inclâmat#, see p. 3, n. 14. 12.4: = _secundum_, as often. 12.5: H 605, II (520, 2): M 880: A 327: G 577: B 292. 12.6: 'one on each side.' Cf. _ternî_, l. 11, and note there. 12.7: _supersum_. 12.8: 'equally matched.' 12.9: #alter . . . alter#: 'the one . . . the other (of the two).' With #intâctus# cf. _integer_, l. 18. 12.10: 'inspirited, emboldened.' 12.11: The repetition of #fessum# gives emphasis by dwelling upon the fact. 12.12: 'was dragging,' i.e. instead of moving with life and vigor. We would rather say, 'could barely drag his body along.' So we would render #male sustinentem arma#, l. 29, as 'barely able to endure (the weight of) his armor.' 12.13: = _occidit_. 12.14: 'as he lay prostrate.' 12.15: #ovantês ac grâtulantês#: 'with rejoicing and congratulations.' Participles, like adjectives, may have adverbial force. 12.16: accus. of limit of motion; cf. p. 3, n. 4. 12.17: Cf. p. 4, n. 3. 12.18: #vîsô . . . spônsî#: 'when she saw her lover's cloak,' etc. Cf. p. 1, n. 4. 12.19: #crînês solvere#: a common token of grief among the Romans. Cf. _crinibus passîs_, II, 36. 12.20: _stringô_. 12.21: #verbîs increpâns#: cf. _hîs increpâns verbîs_, I, 46. 12.22: _abeô_. 12.23: #oblîta# (_oblivîscor_) #frâtrum#: 'you who have forgotten,' or 'since you have forgotten.' For the genitives #frâtrum# and #patriae#, see H 454 (406, II): M 588: A 219: G 376: B 206, 1. Cf. the English 'forgetful of.' For the repetition of #oblîta# see n. 11. 13.1: 'fare, perish.' The subject is _fêmina_, or _illa fêmina_, as suggested by #quaecumque#. How? With the whole sentence cf. _Sîc . . . mea_, I, 47, and see note there. 13.2: #facinus#, by its derivation from _faciô_, properly = 'a deed,' whether good or bad, but generally 'a crime.' 13.3: = _senâtôribus_, who were officially styled _Patrês Cônscrîptî_. #patribus plêbîque# virtually = _omnibus_. 13.4: 'court.' 13.5: See Vocab., _lîctor_. 13.6: The tense has dramatic force and = 'was (actually) putting on.' 13.7: _caedô_. 13.8: _amplector_. 13.9: clause of negative purpose: see p. 9, n. 6. 13.10: _cônspiciô_. The subjunctive may be explained (1) as caused by attraction to #faceret#, H 652, 1 (529, II): M 793: A 342: G 663: B 324, or (2) as in informal indir. disc. 13.11: abl. of separation (cf. p. 1, n. 6), to be joined with #orbum faceret#, which = _orbâret_. 13.12: After a negative clause the Romans often use _que_ or _et_, where the English idiom requires _but_. 13.13: why abl.? see p. 4, n. 1. 13.14: Cf. p. 6, n. 21. 13.15: 'a (certain) street.' The street referred to ran up the slope of the Esquiline Hill. 13.16: See Vocab., _iugum_. The father of Horatius, by making him pass, as it were, beneath the yoke, symbolically executed the sentence of death passed by the judges. 13.17: Sc. _Tigillum_. Livy says that this beam was renewed from time to time at public expense, even down to his own day. Another memorial of this fight was the _Pîla_ ('Column') _Horâtia_, adjoining the Forum, on which Horatius is said to have hung the spoils taken from the Curiatii. 13.18: #pâx Albâna# = _pâx cum Albâ îcta_. 13.19: _maneô_. 13.20: #cum . . . vidêret#: subjunctive of cause. See p. 2, n. 13; p. 4, n. 12; and p. xx, H 2. 14.1: #quod . . . fînîsset#: 'because (as they said),' etc. The subjunctive is due to the implied indirect discourse, and expresses the thought, not of the writer, but of Mettius' subjects. See p. xxi, H 4. 14.2: #ûnô . . . certâmine#: 'by one contest (only), and that a contest in which but few fought.' Cf. l. 4. 14.3: #ut . . . corrigeret#: 'to set the matter straight,' i.e. to regain the good will of his people. Join this clause with what follows. 14.4: #in auxilium#: 'to give aid,' an expression of purpose. Cf. _ad supplicium_, I, 29, and note. Tullus summoned Mettius in accordance with the treaty made before the fight between the Horatii and the Curiatii (l. 7). 14.5: #Quâ rê . . . intellêctâ# (_intellegô_): 'when he noticed this state of things.' For #quâ#, see p. 4, n. 3. 14.6: #ait . . . circumvenîrentur#: Tullus' purpose in making this statement was partly to frighten the enemy, partly to reassure his own men. Livy relates that Tullus had stationed his own forces against the Veientes, the Albans against the Fidenates. The withdrawal of Mettius exposed the flank of the Romans to attack from the Fidenates, and so was regarded at once by the Romans as proof of treachery. 14.7: abl. of separation (cf. p. 1, n. 6). _ligâre_ and its compounds are construed with either (1) the simple ablative, or (2) the ablative with _ab_, _dê_, or _ex_. 14.8: #in . . . est#: 'was torn limb from limb.' 14.9: _distrahô_. 14.10: _iubeô_. 14.11: _crêscô_. 14.12: abl. of means. 14.13: #quô . . . habitârêtur#: 'that it might be more densely inhabited,' i.e. that a larger number of people might be induced to live there. In purpose clauses containing a comparative, _quô_ is used instead of _ut_: H 568, 7 (497, 2): M 909: A 317, _b_: G 545, 2; B 282, _a_. This _quô_ is the abl. sing. neut. of the relative pronoun, and = _ut eô_, 'that thereby.' 14.14: #eam . . . cêpit# (_capiô_): 'Tullus chose it (the mountain) as the site of his palace,' Why is #eam# feminine, although referring to _môns Caelius_, which is masculine? Cf. p. 5, n. 14. 14.15: #Auctârum . . . fîdûciâ#: 'because of the confidence (begotten) of his increased strength,' or 'by his confidence in his increased strength.' In the former case the gen. is subjective; in the latter it is objective; H 440, 1 and 2 (396, II and III): M 553, 571: A 213, 1, 2: G 363, 1 and 2:

B 199, 200. 14.16: _efferô_. 15.1: _însequor_. 15.2: #bellicôsus# = a causal clause _quod ipse bellicôsus erat_. 15.3: #mîlitiae quam domî#: 'in war than in peace.' See H 484, 2 (426, 2): M 622: A 258, _d_: G. 411, R. 2: B 232, 2; xvi, A 1. 15.4: = 'the fighting men,' because _iuvenês_ (men under 45) were eligible for military duty. 15.5: #sed ipse quoque#: 'but (i.e. in spite of this statement) he too.' 15.6: 'so completely.' 15.7: _frangô_. 15.8: #spîritûs illî ferôcês#: 'that high spirit of his'; #illî# = 'that for which he was so famous.' #V. Ancus Marcius, Romanorum rex quartus# [[stripped text]]

Tullo mortuo Ancum Marcium regem populus creavit. Numae Pompilii nepos Ancus Marcius erat, aequitate et religione avo similis. Tunc Latini, cum quibus Tullo regnante ictum foedus erat, sustulerant animos, et incursionem in agrum Romanum fecerunt. Ancus, priusquam eis bellum indiceret, legatum misit, qui res repeteret, eumque morem posteri acceperunt. Id autem hoc modo fiebat. Legatus, ubi ad fines eorum venit a quibus res repetuntur, capite velato "Audi, Iuppiter," inquit "audite, fines huius populi. Ego sum publicus nuntius populi Romani; verbis meis fides sit." Deinde peragit postulata. Si non deduntur res quas exposcit, hastam in fines hostium emittit bellumque ita indicit. Legatus, qui ea de re mittitur, _Fetialis_ ritusque belli indicendi _Ius Fetiale_ appellatur.

Legato Romano res repetenti superbe responsum est a Latinis; quare bellum hoc modo eis indictum est. Ancus, exercitu conscripto, profectus Latinos fudit et compluribus oppidis deletis cives Romam traduxit. Cum autem in tanta hominum multitudine facinora clandestina fierent, Ancus carcerem in media urbe ad terrorem increscentis audaciae aedificavit. Idem nova moenia urbi circumdedit, Ianiculum montem ponte sublicio in Tiberi facto urbi coniunxit, in ore Tiberis Ostiam urbem condidit. Pluribus aliis rebus intra paucos annos confectis; immatura morte praereptus obiit.

[Footnotes: V (pages 15-17)

15.10: What is the force of this abl. abs.? 15.11: #rêgem populus creâvit#: This phrase, as it stands, is somewhat misleading. As a matter of fact, the kingship was neither hereditary nor elective. On the death of a king an _interrêx_, or regent, was chosen, who took the auspices, and the augurs inferred from the signs that the gods favored a certain candidate. He was then elected by the Assembly, and the choice was confirmed by the Senate. 15.12: abl. of specification. 15.13: #sustulerant# (_tollô_) #animôs#: 'had plucked up courage.' 15.14: Cf. _priusquam . . . posset_, IV, 25, and note. 15.15: #quî . . . repeteret#: relative clause of purpose. _Rês repetere_ = 'to demand the (stolen) things,' is a technical phrase of war, and = 'to demand restitution or satisfaction.' The opposite is _rês reddere_, or _rês dêdere_, as in l. 13. 16.1: #eum môrem . . . accêpêrunt#: 'that custom posterity (the Romans of later times) adopted.' Traces of the custom appear as late as the reign of Augustus. 16.2: While praying, the Romans covered their faces with a fold of the toga, that no untoward sight might interrupt their devotions. The _lêgâtus_ here covers his face, because he is praying to Jupiter and to the #fînês#, which are personified. 16.3: This word, rather than _dîxit_, is used with direct discourse, and regularly stands, as here, _within_ the quotation. 16.4: The _lêgâtus_, of course, said _fînês Albânôrum_, or _Vêientium_, as the case might be. 16.5: 'official,' i.e. duly accredited. 16.6: #verbîs . . . sit# = _verbîs meîs crêdite_. Cf. II, 48, _cuî reî fidem fêcit_. #sit# is a hortatory subjunctive; H 559, 1 (484, II): M 713: A 266: G 263: B 274. 16.7: See Vocab., _fêtiâlis_. 16.8: #respônsum . . . Latînîs# = _Latînî respondêrunt_. The impersonal passive is common. 16.9: #hôc#: 'described _above_,' in lines 9-16. In l. 9 _hôc_ = 'described _below_.' _Hîc_ more often bears the latter sense, i.e. it refers to what follows. 16.10: #profectus . . . fûdit# (_fundô_): cf. p. 15, n. 9. 16.11: 'transferred, removed.' 16.12: #Cum . . . fierent#: a causal clause; cf. p. 13, n. 20. 16.13: See Vocab., _carcer_. 16.14: #ad . . . audâciae# = _ut incrêscentem audâciam terrêret_. Cf. p. 3, n. 8, and _ad congressum deae_, III, 33. #audâciae# is objective genitive: cf. p. 14, n. 15. 16.15: #ponte subliciô#: abl. abs., with #factô#, expressing means. This bridge, the earliest and most famous of the bridges over the Tiber, derived its name from the circumstance that it was always made of wood and supported on piles (_sublicae_). It is this bridge that figures so largely in Macaulay's _Lays of Ancient Rome_, Horatius, stanzas xxix. ff. 17.1: #in ôre#: 'at the mouth.' The town Ostia got its name from its position _in ôre Tiberis_. It was the port of Rome, and thus attained great importance. Great harbors were built there in the days of the Empire, the remains of which, as well as of the warehouses built for the storage of merchandise from abroad, are still visible.]

#VI. Lucius Tarquinius Priscus, Romanorum rex quintus# [[stripped text]]

616-578 B.C.

Anco regnante Lucius Tarquinius, Tarquiniis, ex Etruriae urbe, profectus, cum coniuge et fortunis omnibus Romam commigravit. Additur haec fabula: advenienti aquila pilleum sustulit et super carpentum, cui Tarquinius insidebat, cum magno clangore volitans rursus capiti apte reposuit; inde sublimis abiit. Tanaquil coniux, caelestium prodigiorum perita, regnum ei portendi intellexit; itaque, virum complexa, excelsa et alta sperare eum iussit. Has spes cogitationesque secum portantes urbem ingressi sunt, domicilioque ibi comparato Tarquinius pecunia et industria dignitatem atque etiam Anci regis familiaritatem consecutus est; a quo tutor liberis relictus regnum intercepit et ita administravit, quasi iure adeptus esset.

Tarquinius Priscus Latinos bello domuit; Circum Maximum aedificavit; de Sabinis triumphavit; murum lapideum urbi circumdedit. Equitum centurias duplicavit, nomina mutare non potuit, deterritus, ut ferunt, Atti Navii auctoritate. Attus enim, ea tempestate augur inclitus, id fieri posse negabat, nisi aves addixissent; iratus rex in experimentum artis eum interrogavit, fierine posset quod ipse mente concepisset; Attus augurio acto fieri posse respondit. "Atqui hoc" inquit rex "agitabam, num cotem illam secare novacula possem." "Potes ergo" inquit augur, et rex secuisse dicitur. Tarquinius filium tredecim annorum, quod in proelio hostem percussisset, praetexta bullaque donavit; unde haec ingenuorum puerorum insignia esse coeperunt.

Supererant duo Anci filii, qui, aegre ferentes se paterno regno fraudatos esse, regi insidias paraverunt. Ex pastoribus duos ferocissimos deligunt ad patrandum facinus. Ei simulata rixa in vestibulo regiae tumultuantur. Quorum clamor cum penitus in regiam pervenisset, vocati ad regem pergunt. Primo uterque vociferari coepit et certatim alter alteri obstrepere. Cum vero iussi essent in vicem dicere, unus ex composito rem orditur; dumque intentus in eum se rex totus avertit, alter elatam securim in eius caput deiecit, et relicto in vulnere telo ambo foras se proripiunt.

17.2: #Tarquiniîs . . . urbe#: 'from Tarquinii, a city of Etruria.' Cf. p. 8, n. 5. 17.3: _proficîscor_. 17.4: Sc. _Rômam_: 'while on his way to Rome.' The participle agrees with _eî_ understood, which is a dat. of separation, or disadvantage, with #sustulit#: H 427 (385, 2): M 539: A 229: G 345, R. 1: B 188, 2, _d_. 17.5: _tollô_. 17.6: A two-wheeled carriage, with curtains and an awning. 17.7: #cuî#: 'in which.' Why dat.? 17.8: #rûrsus . . . reposuit#: since _repônô_ = 'to put _back_,' or 'to place _again_,' #rûrsus# is unnecessary. 17.9: More often _repônô_ is followed by _in_ with the abl., or the acc. 17.10: #sublîmis abiit#: 'flew high up in the air and departed.' 17.11: #caelestium . . . perîta#: 'skilled in (interpreting) portents from heaven.' The Romans regarded the Etruscans as exceptionally skillful in such matters. For the gen., see H 451, 1 (399, I, 2). M 573: A 218, _a_: G 374: B 204, 1. 17.12: #rêgnum eî portendî intellêxit#: 'perceived that the sign indicated that he was to be king.' How literally? According to Livy, the significance of the omen lay in these facts: It came from a favorable quarter of the sky (which, to the Romans, was the east); it concerned his _head_, the _supreme_ part of his being; hence the removal of his cap by the eagle, the bird of Jupiter, 'king of gods and men,' and its restoration, implied that his _cap_ was to be removed and replaced by a _crown_. 17.13: neuter plural adjectives, used as nouns: 'an exalted destiny.' 18.1: _ingredior_. 18.2: _cônsequor_. 18.3: _relinquô_. 18.4: H 584 (513, II): M 944, 945: A 312, and N. 1: G 602 and R.: B 307. 18.5: _adipîscor_. 18.6: #Circum Mâximum#: see map, p. xxviii. In its final form it could accommodate nearly 300,000 spectators. The Romans of the Empire were passionately devoted to the chariot races of the circus. For a good description of a Roman circus, see Lew Wallace's _Ben Hur_, Book V, Chap. XII. 18.7: #dê Sabînîs triumphâvit#: 'he triumphed over'; lit., 'he got a triumph out of.' See Vocab., _triumphus_. 18.8: #mûrum . . . circumdedit#: 'he built a stone wall round the city.' According to Livy, the wall was merely begun by Tarquin and finished by his successor, Servius Tullius. 18.9: Cf. II, 42. Livy says that when Romulus formed the three centuries of horsemen he called one _Ramnês_, after his own name, another _Titiênsês_, after King Tatius. Tarquin desired to name the new centuries after himself. 18.10: = _tempore_. 18.11: #nisi . . . addîxissent#: 'unless the birds gave consent,' i.e. without taking the _auspicia_ and finding them favorable. Cf. I, 42. The subjunctive is due to the indirect discourse. For the tense, see p. 6, n. 1. 18.12: #in experîmentum artis#: 'to test his art.' Cf. p. 14, n. 4. 18.13: Cf. The king said '_Potestne fierî quod in mente concêpî?_' 18.15: #hôc# is emphatic, 'Ah, but what I had in mind was _this_.' 18.16: #Potes ergô#: 'well, you can.' 18.17: descriptive gen.: H 440, 3 (396, V): M 558: A 215: G 365: B 203. 18.18: Cf. p. 14, n. 1. 18.19: Sc. _togâ_. 19.1: See Vocab., _bulla_. 19.2: = _ex quô_: 'in consequence of this circumstance.' 19.3: Cf. p. 5, n. 14, and p. 16, n. 9. 19.4: 'were still alive.' 19.5: = _patris_. Cf. the use of _rêgius_, I, 17. 19.6: The infinitive depends on #aegrê ferentês#. Phrases expressive of emotion, whether of joy or of sorrow, are often followed by the infinitive with subject accus. 19.7: Cf. p. 4, n. 3. 19.8: The conjunction of the subordinate clause is often preceded by one or two words, sometimes by a larger number. 19.9: #certâtim . . . obstrepere#: 'to (try to) drown each other's voices'; lit., 'in eager rivalry to make noise one against (_ob_) the other.' Why is _alterî_ dative? 19.10: #ex compositô#: 'according to previous agreement.' 19.11: #êlâtam secûrim . . . dêiêcit# = _extulit_ ('raised') _et dêiêcit_. Cf. p. 2, n. 8. 19.12: #relîctô . . . têlô#: we say, 'leaving the weapon--they flee,' i.e. we treat the two actions as simultaneous. The Romans say more exactly: 'having left--they flee,' i.e. the act of leaving is viewed as prior to that of flight.]

#VII. Servius Tullius, Romanorum rex sextus# [[stripped text]]

578-534 B.C.

Post hunc Servius Tullius suscepit imperium, genitus ex nobili femina, captiva tamen et famula. Qui cum in domo Tarquinii Prisci educaretur, ferunt prodigium visu eventuque mirabile accidisse. Flammae species pueri dormientis caput amplexa est. Hoc visu Tanaquil summam ei dignitatem portendi intellexit coniugique suasit ut eum haud secus ac suos liberos educaret. Is postquam adolevit, et fortitudine et consilio insignis fuit. In proelio quodam, in quo rex Tarquinius adversus Sabinos conflixit, militibus segnius dimicantibus, raptum signum in hostem misit. Cuius recipiendi gratia Romani tam acriter pugnaverunt, ut et signum et victoriam referrent. Quare a Tarquinio gener adsumptus est; et cum Tarquinius occisus esset, Tanaquil, Tarquinii uxor, mortem eius celavit, populumque ex superiore parte aedium adlocuta ait regem grave quidem, sed non letale vulnus accepisse, eumque petere, ut interim dum convalesceret, Servio Tullio dicto audientes essent. Sic Servius Tullius regnare coepit, sed recte imperium administravit. Sabinos subegit; montes tres, Quirinalem, Viminalem, Esquilinum urbi adiunxit; fossas circa murum duxit. Idem censum ordinavit, et populum in classes et centurias distribuit.

Servius Tullius aliquod urbi decus addere volebat. Iam tum inclitum erat Dianae Ephesiae fanum. Id communiter a civitatibus Asiae factum fama ferebat. Itaque Latinorum populis suasit ut et ipsi fanum Dianae cum populo Romano Romae in Aventino monte aedificarent. Quo facto, bos mirae magnitudinis cuidam Latino nata dicitur, et responsum somnio datum eum populum summam imperii habiturum, cuius civis bovem illam Dianae immolasset. Latinus bovem ad fanum Dianae egit et causam sacerdoti Romano exposuit. Ille callidus dixit prius eum vivo flumine manus abluere debere. Latinus dum ad Tiberim descendit, sacerdos bovem immolavit. Ita imperium civibus sibique gloriam adquisivit.

Servius Tullius filiam alteram ferocem, mitem alteram habens, cum Tarquinii filios pari esse animo videret, ferocem miti, mitem feroci in matrimonium dedit, ne duo violenta ingenia matrimonio iungerentur. Sed mites seu forte seu fraude perierunt; feroces morum similitudo coniunxit. Statim Tarquinius a Tullia incitatus advocato senatu regnum paternum repetere coepit. Qua re audita Servius dum ad Curiam contendit, iussu Tarquinii per gradus deiectus et domum refugiens interfectus est. Tullia carpento vecta in Forum properavit et coniugem e Curia evocatum prima regem salutavit; cuius iussu cum e turba ac tumultu decessisset domumque rediret, viso patris corpore, cunctantem et frena mulionem inhibentem super ipsum corpus carpentum agere iussit, unde vicus ille Sceleratus dictus est. Servius Tullius regnavit annos quattuor et quadraginta.

19.13: Livy relates that at the capture of the Latin town Corniculum, Servius' father was killed and his mother taken prisoner. Out of respect to her high rank, Tanaquil set her free and welcomed her to the palace. There Servius was born, and he was brought up in Tarquin's household. 19.14: #ferunt . . . accidisse#: in English, the verb corresponding to #ferunt# would be parenthetical, thus: 'a prodigy, _they say_, happened.' 19.15: #prôdigium . . . mîrâbile#: 'a prodigy, strange to look upon, and marvelously fulfilled.' #vîsû# and #êventû# are ablatives of specification to #mîrâbile#: H 480 (424): M 650: A 253: G 397: B 226, 1. 20.1: #Flammae speciês#: 'the semblance of fire.' We may render the whole sentence, 'Fire seemed to envelop,' etc. 20.2: #summam . . . intellêxit#: cf. p. 17, n. 12. 20.3: Cf. p. 1, n. 5. 20.4: governed by _êducâbat_ understood. 20.5: _quîdam_ and _ûnus_ often have no more force than the English indefinite article. 20.6: #mîlitibus . . . dîmicantibus#: causal. 20.7: #raptum . . . mîsit#: cf. p. 2, n. 8. To lose the standard was as much of a disgrace then as it is now to lose the flag. 20.8: #Cûius . . . grâtiâ#: an expression of purpose = _quod ut reciperet_. 20.9: Roman houses in general had no windows on the ground floor. 20.10: Cf. p. 19, n. 12. 20.11: H 603, 2 (519, 2): M 921: A 328: G 572: B 293, III, 2, and p. xx, G 3. 20.12: dat. with #dictô audientês essent#, which together = _pârêrent_: H 426 (385, I): M 530: A 227 and N. 2: G 346 and N. 5: B 187, II. #dictô# is dat. with #audientês#, which here itself = 'obeying.' 20.13: i.e. instead of being formally chosen king by the senate and people (p. 15, n. 11). 20.14: _subigô_.

20.15: #fossâs . . . dûxit#: this statement harmonizes with VI, 14: see note there. Remains of the wall and ditch are extant, especially along the east side of the Esquiline, Viminal, and Quirinal hills. 20.16: The census was not, as with us, a mere enumeration of the inhabitants, but an enrollment and classification of them according to property for purposes of taxation and military service. Hence the clause #in . . . distribuit# is in part an explanation of #cênsum ôrdinâvit#. 20.17: These classes were six in number. 20.18: According to Livy, there were 193 centuries. At elections each century cast a single vote, the opinion of the majority of its members being regarded as the voice of the whole century. The first, or richest class, contained 98 centuries, and so controlled 98 votes, more than a majority. 21.1: #Iam tum#: 'even in those early days.' 21.2: This temple was one of the seven wonders of the ancient world. See Acts xix, 24 f. 21.3: #commûniter . . . factum# (_esse_): 'that the states of Asia had united in building it.' How literally? 21.4: #et ipsî# = _etiam ipsî_, or _ipsî quoque_: 'they too,' i.e. as well as the _cîvitâtês Asiae_. 21.5: 'in conjunction with.' The whole might have been expressed thus: _ut illî_ (i.e. the _Latînî_) _et populus Rômânus . . . aedificârent_. Cf. lines 23, 24. 21.6: #Quô factô# = _postquam hôc_ (i.e. the building of the temple) _factum est_. 21.7: Cf. p. 18, n. 17. 21.8: Sc. _esse_. For the personal construction #dîcitur#, see H 611, 1 (534, I and N. 1): M 962: A 330, _b_, 1: G 528, 1: B 332. 21.9: Subjunctive, because in a subordinate clause of indir. disc. For the tense, cf. p. 6, n. 1. 21.10: '_The_ (aforesaid) Latin,' mentioned in l. 28. This is one of the cases where Latin suffers from the lack of the definite article. 21.11: 'cunningly.' Cf. p. 4, n. 4. 21.12: The Tiber ran close to the foot of the Aventine hill on which (l. 26) the temple of Diana stood. 21.13: = _cum habêret_, 'since he had.' #cum . . . vidêret# is also causal. 21.14: abl. of quality: H 473, 2 (419, II): M 643: A 251: G 400: B 224. 21.15: #ferôcem . . . ferôcî#: note that the order in the second of these two pairs of words is the reverse of that in the first. Cf. l. 36, _alteram ferôcem, mîtem alteram_. This arrangement is called _Chiasmus_: H 666, 2 (562): M 1150: A 344, _f_, and N.: G 682, and R.: B 350, II, _c_). 22.1: The daughter of Tullius. 22.2: #advocâtô . . . coepit# = _senâtum advocâvit et . . . coepit_. Cf. p. 2, n. 8. 22.3: #quâ rê . . . contendit#: 'while Servius, after he had heard of this action, was hastening,' etc. For the tense of #contendit#, see p. 3, n. 14. 22.4: Sc. _Cûriae_. 22.5: #dêcessisset . . . redîret#: 'had departed . . . and _was_ returning.' 22.6: #super ipsum corpus#: 'over the _very_ body'; #ipsum# emphasizes the wickedness of Tullia. Roman feeling usually required that the utmost respect be shown to the bodies of the dead. 22.7: Used here as in VI, 27.]

#VIII. Tarquinius Superbus, Romanorum rex septimus et ultimus# [[stripped text]]

534-510 B.C.

Tarquinius Superbus regnum sceleste occupavit. Tamen bello strenuus Latinos Sabinosque domuit. Urbem Gabios in potestatem redegit fraude Sexti filii. Is cum indigne ferret eam urbem a patre expugnari non posse, ad Gabinos se contulit, patris saevitiam in se conquerens. Benigne a Gabinis exceptus paulatim eorum benevolentiam consequitur, fictis blanditiis ita eos adliciens, ut apud omnes plurimum posset, et ad postremum dux belli eligeretur. Tum e suis unum ad patrem mittit sciscitatum quidnam se facere vellet. Pater nuntio filii nihil respondit, sed velut deliberabundus in hortum transiit ibique inambulans sequente nuntio altissima papaverum capita baculo decussit. Nuntius, fessus exspectando, rediit Gabios. Sextus, cognito silentio patris et facto, intellexit quid vellet pater. Primores civitatis interemit patrique urbem sine ulla dimicatione tradidit.

Postea rex Ardeam urbem obsidebat. Ibi cum in castris essent, Tarquinius Collatinus, sorore regis natus, forte cenabat apud Sextum Tarquinium cum iuvenibus regiis. Incidit de uxoribus mentio; cum suam unusquisque laudaret, placuit experiri. Itaque citatis equis Romam avolant; regias nurus in convivio et luxu deprehendunt. Pergunt inde Collatiam; Lucretiam, Collatini uxorem, inter ancillas lanae deditam inveniunt. Ea ergo ceteris praestare iudicatur. Paucis interiectis diebus Sextus Collatiam rediit et Lucretiae vim attulit. Illa postero die, advocatispatre et coniuge, rem exposuit et se cultro, quem sub veste abditum habebat, occidit. Conclamat vir paterque et in exitium regum coniurant. Tarquinio Romam redeunti clausae sunt urbis portae et exsilium indictum.

In antiquis annalibus memoriae haec sunt prodita. Anus hospita atque incognita ad Tarquinium quondam Superbum regem adiit, novem libros ferens, quos esse dicebat divina oracula: eos se velle venumdare. Tarquinius pretium percontatus est: mulier nimium atque immensum poposcit. Rex, quasi anus aetate desiperet, derisit. Tum illa foculum cum igni apponit et tres libros ex novem deurit; et, ecquid reliquos sex eodem pretio emere vellet, regem interrogavit. Sed Tarquinius id multo risit magis, dixitque anum iam procul dubio delirare. Mulier ibidem statim tres alios libros exussit; atque id ipsum denuo placide rogat, ut tres reliquos eodem illo pretio emat. Tarquinius ore iam serio atque attentiore animo fit; eam constantiam confidentiamque non neglegendam intellegit: libros tres reliquos mercatur nihilo minore pretio quam quod erat petitum pro omnibus. Sed eam mulierem tunc a Tarquinio digressam postea nusquam loci visam constitit. Libri tres in sacrario conditi Sibyllinique appellati. Ad eos, quasi ad oraculum, Quindecemviri adeunt, cum dii immortales publice consulendi sunt.

Tarquinius Superbus rêgnum scelestê[8] occupâvit.[9] Tamen bellô strênuus Latînôs Sabînôsque domuit. Urbem Gabiôs in potestâtem redêgit fraude Sextî fîliî. #IX. Iunius Brutus, Romanorum consul primus# [[stripped text]]

Iunius Brutus, sorore Tarquinii Superbi natus, cum eandem fortunam timeret, in quam frater inciderat, qui ob divitias et prudentiam ab avunculo erat occisus, stultitiam finxit, unde Brutus dictus est. Profectus Delphos cum Tarquinii filiis, quos pater ad Apollinem muneribus honorandum miserat, baculo sambuceo aurum inclusum dono tulit deo. Peractis deinde mandatis patris, iuvenes Apollinem consulunt quisnam ex ipsis Romae regnaturus esset. Responsum est eum Romae summam potestatem habiturum, qui primus matrem osculatus esset. Tunc Brutus, velut si casu prolapsus cecidisset, terram osculatus est, scilicet quod ea communis mater omnium mortalium esset.

Expulsis regibus duo consules creati sunt, Iunius Brutus et Tarquinius Collatinus Lucretiae maritus. At libertas modo parta per dolum et proditionem paene amissa est. Erant in iuventute Romana adulescentes aliquot, sodales adulescentium Tarquiniorum. Hi cum legatis, quos rex ad bona sua repetenda Romam miserat, de restituendis regibus conloquuntur, ipsos Bruti consulis filios in societatem consilii adsumunt. Sermonem eorum ex servis unus excepit; rem ad consules detulit. Datae ad Tarquinium litterae manifestum facinus fecerunt. Proditores in vincula coniecti sunt, deinde damnati. Stabant ad palum deligati iuvenes nobilissimi; sed a ceteris liberi consulis omnium in se oculos avertebant. Consules in sedem processere suam, missique lictores nudatos virgis caedunt securique feriunt. Supplicii non spectator modo, sed et exactor erat Brutus, qui tunc patrem exuit, ut consulem ageret.

Tarquinius deinde bello aperto regnum reciperare conatus est. Equitibus praeerat Aruns, Tarquinii filius: rex ipse cum legionibus sequebatur. Obviam hosti consules eunt; Brutus ad explorandum cum equitatu antecessit. Aruns, ubi procul Brutum agnovit, inflammatus ira "Ille est vir" inquit "qui nos patria expulit; ipse en ille nostris decoratus insignibus magnifice incedit." Tum concitat calcaribus equum atque in ipsum consulem dirigit; Brutus avide se certamini offert. Adeo infestis animis concurrerunt, ut ambo hasta transfixi caderent; fugatus tamen proelio est Tarquinius. Alter consul Romam triumphans rediit. Bruti conlegae funus, quanto potuit apparatu, fecit. Brutum matronae, ut parentem, annum luxerunt.

Accepta potestate cum in castra Porsenae venisset, ibi in confertissima turba prope tribunal constitit. Stipendium tunc forte militibus dabatur et scriba cum rege pari fere ornatu sedebat. Mucius, ignorans uter rex esset, illum pro rege occidit. Apprehensus et ad regem pertractus dextram accenso ad sacrificium foculo iniecit, velut manum puniens, quod in caede peccasset. Attonitus miraculo rex iuvenem amoveri ab altaribus iussit. Tum Mucius, quasi beneficium remunerans, ait trecentos adversus eum sui similes coniurasse. Qua re ille territus bellum acceptis obsidibus deposuit. Mucio prata trans Tiberim data, ab eo Mucia appellata. Statua quoque ei honoris gratia constituta est.

#XI. Fabii trecenti sex# [[stripped text]]

479-477 B.C.

Cum adsiduis Veientium incursionibus vexarentur Romani, Fabia gens senatum adit; consul Fabius pro gente loquitur: "Vos alia bella curate; Fabios hostes Veientibus date: id bellum privato sumptu gerere nobis in animo est." Gratiae ei ingentes actae sunt. Consul e Curia egressus, comitante Fabiorum agmine, domum rediit. Manat tota urbe rumor; Fabium ad caelum laudibus ferunt. Fabii postero die arma capiunt. Numquam exercitus neque minor numero neque clarior fama et admiratione hominum per urbem incessit. Ibant sex et trecenti milites, omnes patricii, omnes unius gentis. Ad Cremeram flumen perveniunt. Is opportunus visus est locus communiendo praesidio. Hostes non semel fusi pacem supplices petunt.

Veientes pacis impetratae cum brevi paenituisset, redintegrato bello inierunt consilium insidiis ferocem hostem captandi. Multo successu Fabiis audacia crescebat. Cum igitur palati passim agros popularentur, pecora a Veientibus obviam acta sunt; ad quae progressi Fabii in insidias delapsi omnes ad unum perierunt. Dies, quo id factum est, inter nefastos relatus est; porta, qua profecti erant, Scelerata est appellata. Unus omnino superfuit ex ea gente, qui propter aetatem impuberem domi relictus erat. Is genus propagavit ad Quintum Fabium Maximum, qui Hannibalem mora fregit.

#XII. Lucius Virginius# [[stripped text]]

Anno trecentesimo ab urbe condita pro duobus consulibus decemviri creati sunt, qui adlatas e Graecia leges populo proponerent. Duodecim tabulis eae sunt perscriptae. Ceterum decemviri sua ipsorum insolentia in exitium acti sunt. Nam unus ex iis Appius Claudius virginem plebeiam adamavit. Quam cum Appius non posset pretio ac spe perlicere, unum e clientibus subornavit, qui eam in servitutem deposceret, facile victurum se sperans, cum ipse esset et accusator et iudex. Lucius Virginius, puellae pater, tunc aberat militiae causa. Cliens igitur virgini venienti in Forum (namque ibi in tabernis litterarum ludi erant) iniecit manum, adfirmans suam esse servam. Eam sequi se iubet; ni faciat, minatur se vi abstracturum. Pavida puella stupente, ad clamorem nutricis fit concursus. Itaque cum ille puellam vi non posset abducere, eam vocat in ius, ipso Appio iudice.

Interea missi nuntii ad Virginium properant. Is commeatu sumpto a castris profectus prima luce Romam advenit, cum iam civitas in Foro exspectatione erecta stabat. Virginius statim in Forum lacrimabundus et civium opem implorans filiam suam deducit. Neque eo setius Appius, cum in tribunal escendisset, Virginiam clienti suo addixit. Tum pater, ubi nihil usquam auxilii vidit, "Quaeso," inquit "Appi, ignosce patrio dolori; sine me filiam ultimum adloqui." Data venia pater cum filiam seduxisset, ab lanio cultro adrepto pectus puellae transfigit. Tum vero sibi viam facit et respersus cruore ad exercitum profugit et milites ad vindicandum facinus accendit. Concitatus exercitus montem Aventinum insedit; decem tribunos militum creavit; decemviros magistratu se abdicare coegit eosque omnes aut morte aut exilio multavit; ipse Appius Claudius in carcerem coniectus mortem sibi conscivit.

#XIII. Titus Manlius Torquatus# [[stripped text]]

Titus Manlius ob ingenii et linguae tarditatem a patre rûs relegatus erat. Qui cum audivisset patri diem dictam esse a Pomponio, tribuno plebis, cepit consilium rudis quidem et agrestis animi, sed pietate laudabile. Cultro succinctus mane in urbem atque a porta confestim ad Pomponium pergit: introductus cultrum stringit et super lectum Pomponii stans se eum transfixurum minatur, nisi ab incepta accusatione desistat. Pavidus tribunus, quippe qui cerneret ferrum ante oculos micans, accusationem dimisit. Ea res adulescenti eo maiori fuit honori quod animum eius acerbitas paterna a pietate non avertisset, ideoque eodem anno tribunus militum factus est.

Cum postea Galli ad tertium lapidem trans Anienem fluvium castra posuissent, exercitus Romanus ab urbe profectus in citeriore ripa fluvii constitit. Pons in medio erat: tunc Gallus eximia corporis magnitudine in vacuum pontem processit et quam maxima voce potuit "Quem nunc" inquit "Roma fortissimum habet, is procedat agedum ad pugnam, ut eventus certaminis nostri ostendat utra gens bello sit melior." Diu inter primores iuvenum Romanorum silentium fuit. Tum Titus Manlius ex statione ad imperatorem pergit: "Iniussu tuo," inquit, "imperator, extra ordinem numquam pugnaverim, non si certam victoriam videam; si tu permittis, volo ego illi beluae ostendere me ex ea familia ortum esse, quae Gallorum agmen ex rupe Tarpeia deiecit." Cui imperator "Macte virtute," inquit "Tite Manli, esto: perge et nomen Romanum invictum praesta."

Armant deinde iuvenem aequales: scutum capit, Hispano cingitur gladio, ad propiorem pugnam habili. Exspectabat eum Gallus stolide laetus et linguam ab inrisu exserens. Ubi constitere inter duas acies, Gallus ensem cum ingenti sonitu in arma Manlii deiecit. Manlius vero inter corpus et arma Galli sese insinuans uno alteroque ictu ventrem transfodit et in spatium ingens ruentem porrexit hostem; iacenti torquem detraxit, quem cruore respersum collo circumdedit suo. Defixerat pavor cum admiratione Gallos; Romani alacres obviam militi suo progrediuntur et gratulantes laudantesque ad imperatorem perducunt. Manlius inde Torquati cognomen accepit.

Idem Manlius, postea consul factus bello Latino, ut disciplinam militarem restitueret, edixit ne quis extra ordinem in hostes pugnaret. T. Manlius, consulis filius, cum propius forte ad stationem hostium accessisset, is, qui Latino equitatui praeerat, ubi consulis filium agnovit, "Visne" inquit "congredi mecum, ut singularis certaminis eventu cernatur, quantum eques Latinus Romano praestet?" Movit ferocem animum iuvenis seu ira seu detrectandi certaminis pudor. Itaque oblitus imperii paterni in certamen ruit et Latinum ex equo excussum transfixit spoliisque lectis in castra ad patrem venit. Extemplo filium aversatus consul milites classico advocat. Qui postquam frequentes convenere, "Quandoquidem" inquit "tu, fili, contra imperium consulis pugnasti, oportet disciplinam, quam solvisti, poena tua restituas. Triste exemplum, sed in posterum salubre iuventuti eris. I, lictor, deliga ad palum." Metu omnes obstupuere; sed postquam cervice caesa fusus est cruor, in questus et lamenta erupere. Manlio Romam redeunti seniores tantum obviam exierunt: iuventus et tunc eum et omni deinde vita exsecrata est.

Operae pretium erit aliud severitatis disciplinae Romanae exemplum proferre, simul ut appareat quam facile severitas in crudelitatem et furorem abeat. Cn. Piso fuit vir a multis vitiis integer, sed pravus et cui placebat pro constantia rigor. Is cum iratus ad mortem duci iussisset militem, quasi interfecisset commilitonem, cum quo egressus erat e castris et sine quo redierat, roganti tempus aliquod ad conquirendum non dedit. Damnatus miles extra castrorum vallum ductus est et iam cervicem porrigebat, cum subito apparuit ille commilito, qui occisus dicebatur. Tunc centurio supplicio praepositus condere gladium carnificem iubet. Ambo commilitones alter alterum complexi ingenti concursu et magno gaudio exercitus deducuntur ad Pisonem. Ille conscendit tribunal furens et utrumque ad mortem duci iubet, adicit et centurionem, qui damnatum militem reduxerat, haec praefatus: "Te morte plecti iubeo, quia iam damnatus es; te, quia causa damnationis commilitoni fuisti; te, quia iussus occidere militem imperatori non paruisti."

Ceterum Manlianae gentis propriam fere fuisse illam in filios acerbitatem alius Manlius, illius de quo supra diximus nepos, ostendit. Cum Macedonum legati Romam venissent conquestum de Silano, Manlii Torquati filio, quod praetor provinciam expilasset, pater, avitae severitatis heres, petiit a patribus conscriptis ne quid de ea re statuerent, antequam ipse inspexisset Macedonum et filii sui causam. Id a senatu libenter concessum est viro summae dignitatis, consulari iurisque civilis peritissimo. Itaque, instituta domi cognitione causae, solus per totum biduum utramque partem audiebat ac tertio die pronuntiavit filium suum videri non talem fuisse in provincia, quales eius maiores fuissent, et in conspectum suum deinceps venire vetuit. Tam tristi patris iudicio perculsus lucem ulterius intueri non sustinuit et proxima nocte vitam suspendio finivit. Peregerat Torquatus severi et religiosi iudicis partes, satisfactum erat rei publicae, habebat ultionem Macedonia, at nondum erat inflexus patris rigor. Igitur ne exsequiis quidem filii interfuit, ut patribus mos erat apud Romanos, et eo ipso die, quo funus eius ducebatur, aures, ut solebat, volentibus consulere se de iure praebuit.

Hence that part of the Italian peninsula was called Gallia Cisalpina. Thence they made raids into the lands to the south. 31.6: With #tertium# sc. _ab urbe Rômâ_. On all the roads leading from Rome milestones were set up to mark the distance from the gate in the Servian Wall (see map, p. xxviii), by which the road issued from the capital. 31.7: Sc. _duôrum exercituum_, i.e. 'between the two armies.' 31.8: #quam . . . potuit#: cf. p. 26, n. 10. 31.9: subjunctive of exhortation or command: H 559, 1 (484, II): M 713: A 266: G 263, 3: B 274. 31.10: #Iniussû tuô#: 'without your consent.' 31.11: subjunctive in an ideal condition: H 576 (509): M 936: A 307, _b_: G 596: B 303. 31.12: In 388 B.C. the Gauls had captured and destroyed all of Rome save the Capitol, which was commanded by M. Manlius, the father of Titus. He was aroused one night by the cackling of the sacred geese, to find that the Gauls had climbed by a secret path, and had almost effected an entrance. He awoke the garrison, hurled the foremost Gauls back upon their companions, and thus saved the Capitol. 32.1: #macte virtûte . . . estô#: lit., 'be glorified in (respect of) your valor.' The phrase is in part an expression of commendation, like our 'bravo!' in part a prayer, like 'success attend thee!' 32.2: A straight, two-edged sword, not more than two feet long, used for thrusting rather than for striking. The Gallic sword was long and without point. 32.3: = _cingit sê_, i.e. 'girds himself,' not 'is girded.' 32.4: 'nearer,' i.e. hand to hand. 32.5: _cônsistô_. What tense? 32.6: #ûnô alterôque îctû#: 'with one stroke after the other'; i.e. he killed him with two quick blows. 32.7: Sc. _eî_, and render 'from him as he lay (dead).' See p. 17, n. 4. 32.8: _respergô_. 32.9: What case? 32.10: In its compounds, _dare_ more often = 'to put' than 'to give.' 32.11: #pavor cum admîrâtiône# = _pavor et admîrâtiô_; cf. _mentês cum oculîs_, II, 12. 32.12: #nê quis . . . pûgnâret#: 'that no one should fight.' In this sense the simple acc., or the acc. with _per_ is far more common. #deinde#, standing between an adj. and a noun, may be rendered by an adj.: cf. p. 10, n. 14. 33.11: #in . . . abeat#: 'passes over into,' 'degenerates into.' 33.12: #fuit . . . sed#: we would say, 'was, to be sure, . . . but, after all,' i.e. 'although he was . . . yet.' In this sense _quidem . . . sed_ is commonly used: cf. p. 10, n. 10. 33.13: H 426 (385, I): M 531: A 227: G 346: B 187, II. 33.14: Cf. p. 3, n. 6. 33.15: Sc. _mîlitî_, and join with _dedit_. 33.16: Sc. _commîlitônem_. 33.17: Sc. _esse_. 34.1: _praefor_. 34.2: H 426 (385): M 531: A 227: G 346: B 187, II. 34.3: Join with _propriam_. _Proprius_, like _similis_, is construed with both the gen. and the dat. 34.4: dependent on #ostendit#, l. 81. 34.5: supine of _conqueror_, expressing purpose. Cf. p. 5, n. 20. 34.6: 'when praetor,' or 'during his praetorship.' 34.7: Many, indeed most, governors of provinces enriched themselves by extortion. 34.8: See Vocab., _cônscrîptus_. 34.9: #summae . . . perîtissimô#: these words contain the reasons why #Id . . . concessum est#. 34.10: _percellô_. 34.11: #lûcem . . . sustinuit#: 'he refused to live longer.' How literally? 34.12: The context must determine whether #proximâ nocte# = 'the next night' or 'last night.' 34.13: _pergô_. 34.14: 'role.' This meaning of _partês_ is borrowed from the theater. 34.15: #nê . . . quidem# is a very strong negative, and generally emphasizes some word or phrase placed between the _nê_ and the _quidem_.]

#XIV. Publius Decius# [[stripped text]]

P. Decius, Valerio Maximo et Cornelio Cosso consulibus, tribunus militum fuit. Exercitu Romano in angustiis Gauri montis clauso Decius editum collem conspexit imminentem hostium castris. Accepto praesidio verticem occupavit, hostes terruit, consuli spatium dedit ad subducendum agmen in aequiorem locum. Ipse, colle, quem insederat, undique armatis circumdato, intempesta nocte per medias hostium custodias somno oppressas incolumis evasit. Qua re ab exercitu donatus est corona civica, quae dabatur ei, qui cives in bello servasset. Consul fuit bello Latino cum Manlio Torquato. Hoc bello cum utrique consuli somnio obvenisset eos victores futuros, quorum dux in proelio cecidisset, convenit inter eos uti, utrius cornu in acie laboraret, is diis se Manibus devoveret. Inclinante sua parte Decius se et hostes diis Manibus devovit. Armatus in equum insiluit ac se in medios hostes immisit: corruit obrutus telis et victoriam suis reliquit.

#XV. Manius Curius# [[stripped text]]

Manius Curius contra Samnites profectus eos ingentibus proeliis vicit. In quo bello cum permultum agri hominumque maximam vim cepisset, ipse inde ditari adeo noluit, ut, cum interversae pecuniae argueretur, catillo ligneo, quo uti ad sacrificia consueverat, in medium prolato iuraret se nihil amplius de praeda hostili in domum suam convertisse. Curio ad focum sedenti in agresti scamno et ex ligneo catillo cenanti cum magnum auri pondus Samnites attulissent, repudiati ab eo sunt dixitque non aurum habere sibi praeclarum videri, sed iis qui haberent aurum imperare. Quo responso Curius Samnitibus ostendit se neque acie vinci neque pecunia corrumpi posse. Agri capti septena iugera populo viritim divisit; cumque ipsi senatus iugera quinquaginta adsignaret, plus accipere noluit quam singulis civibus erat datum, dixitque perniciosum esse civem, qui eo, quod reliquis tribueretur, contentus non esset.

Postea consul creatus adversus Pyrrhum missus est: cumque in Capitolio delectum haberet et iuniores taedio belli nomina non darent, coniectis in urnam omnium tribuum nominibus primum nomen urna extractum citari iussit et cum adulescens non responderet, bona eius hastae subiecit, deinde cum is questus de iniuria consulis tribunos plebis appellasset, ipsum quoque vendidit, nihil opus esse rei publicae eo cive, qui nesciret parere, dicens. Neque tribuni plebis adulescenti auxilio fuerunt; posteaque res in consuetudinem abiit, ut delectu rite acto, qui militiam detrectaret, in servitutem venderetur. Hoc terrore ceteri adacti nomina promptius dederunt.

His copiis Curius Pyrrhi exercitum cecidit deque eo rege triumphavit. Insignem triumphum fecerunt quattuor elephanti cum turribus suis, tum primum Romae visi. Victus rex relicto Tarenti praesidio in Epirum revertit. Cum autem bellum renovaturus putaretur, Manium Curium iterum consulem fieri placuit. Sed inopinata mors regis Romanos metu liberavit. Pyrrhus enim, dum Argos oppugnat, urbem iam ingressus a iuvene quodam Argivo lancea leviter vulneratus est. Mater adulescentis, anus paupercula, cum aliis mulieribus e tecto domus proelium spectabat; quae cum vidisset Pyrrhum in auctorem vulneris sui magno impetu ferri, periculo filii sui commota protinus tegulam corripuit et utraque manu libratam in caput regis deiecit.

#XVI. Gaius Duilius# [[stripped text]]

Gaius Duilius Poenos navali pugna primus devicit. Qui cum videret naves Romanas a Punicis velocitate superari, manus ferreas sive corvos, machinam ad comprehendendas hostium naves tenendasque utilem, excogitavit. Quae manus ubi hostilem apprehenderant navem, superiecto ponte transgrediebatur Romanus et in ipsorum ratibus comminus dimicabant, unde Romanis, qui robore praestabant, facilis victoria fuit. Celeriter sunt expugnatae naves Punicae triginta, in quibus etiam praetoria septiremis capta est, mersae tredecim.

Duilius victor Romam reversus primus navalem triumphum egit. Nulla victoria Romanis gratior fuit, quod invicti terra iam etiam mari plurimum possent. Itaque Duilio concessum est, ut per omnem vitam praelucente funali et praecinente tibicine a cena rediret.

Hannibal, dux classis Punicae, e navi quae iam capiebatur, in scapham saltu se demittens Romanorum manus effugit. Veritus autem, ne in patria classis amissae poenas daret, civium odium astutia avertit, nam ex illa infelici pugna priusquam cladis nuntius domum perveniret quendam ex amicis Carthaginem misit. Qui postquam curiam intravit, "Consulit" inquit "vos Hannibal, cum dux Romanorum magnis copiis maritimis instructis advenerit, num cum eo confligere debeat?" Acclamavit universus senatus non esse dubium quin confligi oporteret. Tum ille "Conflixit" inquit "et superatus est." Ita non potuerunt factum damnare, quod ipsi fieri debuisse iudicaverant. Sic Hannibal victus crucis supplicium effugit: nam eo poenae genere dux re male gesta apud Poenos adficiebatur.

#XVII. Marcus Atilius Regulus# [[stripped text]]

Marcus Regulus cum Poenos magna clade adfecisset, Hanno Carthaginiensis ad eum venit, quasi de pace acturus, re vera ut tempus extraheret, donec novae copiae ex Africa advenirent. Is ubi ad consulem accessit, exortus est militum clamor auditaque vox, idem huic faciendum esse, quod paucis ante annis Cornelio consuli a Poenis factum esset. Cornelius enim, velut in conloquium per fraudem evocatus, a Poenis comprehensus erat et in vincula coniectus. Iam Hanno timere incipiebat, sed periculum astuto responso avertit: "Hoc vero" inquit "si feceritis, nihilo eritis Afris meliores." Consul tacere iussit eos, qui par pari referri volebant, et conveniens gravitati Romanae responsum dedit: "Isto te metu, Hanno, fides Romana liberat." De pace, quia neque Poenus serio agebat et consul victoriam quam pacem malebat, non convenit.

Regulus deinde in Africam primus Romanorum ducum traiecit. Clypeam urbem et trecenta castella expugnavit, neque cum hominibus tantum, sed etiam cum monstris dimicavit. Nam cum ad flumen Bagradam castra haberet, anguis mira magnitudine exercitum Romanorum vexabat; multos milites ingenti ore corripuit; plures caudae verbere elisit; nonnullos ipso pestilentis halitus adflatu exanimavit. Neque is telorum ictu perforari poterat, durissima squamarum lorica omnia tela facile repellente. Confugiendum fuit ad machinas advectisque ballistis et catapultis, velut arx quaedam munita, deiciendus hostis fuit. Tandem saxorum pondere oppressus iacuit, sed cruore suo flumen corporisque pestifero adflatu vicina loca infecit Romanosque castra inde submovere coegit. Corium beluae, centum et viginti pedes longum, Romam misit Regulus.

Huic ob res bene gestas imperium in annum proximum prorogatum est. Quod ubi cognovit Regulus, scripsit senatui vilicum suum in agello, quem septem iugerum habebat, mortuum esse et servum, occasionem nactum, aufugisse ablato instrumento rustico ideoque petere se ut sibi successor in Africam mitteretur, ne, deserto agro, non esset unde uxor et liberi alerentur. Senatus, acceptis litteris, res quas Regulus amiserat publica pecunia redimi iussit, agellum colendum locavit, alimenta coniugi ac liberis praebuit. Regulus deinde multis proeliis Carthaginiensium opes contudit eosque pacem petere coegit. Quam cum Regulus nollet nisi durissimis condicionibus dare, a Lacedaemoniis illi auxilium petierunt.

Lacedaemonii Xanthippum, virum belli peritissimum, Carthaginiensibus miserunt, a quo Regulus victus est ultima pernicie: nam duo tantum milia hominum ex omni Romano exercitu refugerunt et Regulus ipse captus et in carcerem coniectus est. Inde Romam de permutandis captivis missus est dato iureiurando. ut, si non impetrasset, rediret ipse Carthaginem. Qui cum Romam venisset, inductus in senatum mandata exposuit; sententiam ne diceret recusavit; quamdiu iureiurando hostium teneretur, se non esse senatorem. Iussus tamen sententiam dicere, negavit esse utile captivos Poenos reddi, illos enim adulescentes esse et bonos duces, se iam confectum senectute. Cuius cum valuisset auctoritas, captivi retenti sunt, ipse, cum retineretur a propinquis et amicis, tamen Carthaginem rediit: neque vero tunc ignorabat se ad crudelissimum hostem et ad exquisita supplicia proficisci, sed iusiurandum conservandum putavit. Reversum Carthaginienses omni cruciatu necaverunt: palpebris enim resectis aliquamdiu in loco tenebricoso tenuerunt: deinde cum sol esset ardentissimus, repente eductum intueri caelum coegerunt; postremo in arcam ligneam, undique clavis praeacutis horrentem et tam angustam, ut erectus perpetuo manere cogeretur, incluserunt. Ita dum fessum corpus, quocumque inclinabat, stimulis ferreis confoditur, vigiliis et dolore continuo interemptus est. Hic fuit Atilii Reguli exitus, ipsa vita clarior et inlustrior.

See p. xviii, E 5; #quasi# = 'as if,' and is contrasted with #rê vêrâ#, 'in reality.' 39.9: The subjunctive in reality expresses purpose. See also p. xx, G 3. 39.10: _exorior_. 39.11: #idem . . . esse#: 'the same thing _ought to be done_ to him.' The gerundive with _esse_ denotes either physical necessity ('must'), or moral obligation ('ought'). 39.12: abl. of the measure of difference: H 479 (423): M 655: A 250: G 403: B 223. #paucîs annîs# is a sort of temporal adverb with _ante_. 40.1: Latin is extremely exact in the use of the tenses. Of two _past_ actions the prior is expressed by the _pluperfect_ tense; of two _future_ actions the prior is expressed by the _future perfect_ tense. Apply this principle here. We say simply, 'if you do.' 40.2: Join with #meliôrês#, and cf. p. 39, n. 12. 40.3: i.e. the Carthaginians. To the Roman mind _Pûnica fidês_ was a synonym for the vilest treachery. #XVIII. Appius Claudius Pulcher# [[stripped text]]

Appius Claudius, vir stultae temeritatis, consul adversus Poenos profectus priorum ducum consilia palam reprehendebat seque, quo die hostem vidisset, bellum confecturum esse iactitabat. Qui cum, antequam navale proelium committeret, auspicia haberet pullariusque ei nuntiasset, pullos non exire e cavea neque vesci, inridens iussit eos in aquam mergi, ut saltem biberent, quoniam esse nollent. Ea res cum, quasi iratis diis, milites ad omnia segniores timidioresque fecisset, commisso proelio magna clades a Romanis accepta est: octo eorum milia caesa sunt, viginti milia capta. Qua re Claudius postea a populo condemnatus est damnationisque ignominiam voluntaria morte praevenit. Ea res calamitati fuit etiam Claudiae, consulis sorori: quae a ludis publicis revertens, in conferta multitudine aegre procedente carpento, palam optavit ut frater suus Pulcher revivisceret atque iterum classem amitteret, quo minor turba Romae foret. Ob vocem illam impiam Claudia quoque damnata gravisque ei dicta est multa.

#XIX. Quintus Fabius Maximus# [[stripped text]]

Hannibal, Hamilcaris filius, novem annos natus, a patre aris admotus odium in Romanos perenne iuravit. Quae res maxime videtur concitasse secundum Punicum bellum. Nam, mortuo Hamilcare, Hannibal causam belli quaerens Saguntum, civitatem Hispaniae Romanis foederatam evertit. Quapropter Roma missi sunt Carthaginem legati, qui Hannibalem, mali auctorem, exposcerent. Tergiversantibus Poenis Quintus Fabius, legationis princeps, sinu ex toga facto "Hic" inquit "vobis bellum et pacem portamus; utrum placet, sumite." Poenis daret utrum vellet succlamantibus, Fabius, excussa toga, bellum se dare dicit. Poeni accipere se responderunt et, quibus acciperent animis, iisdem se gesturos.

Hannibal superatis Pyrenaei et Alpium iugis in Italiam venit. Publium Scipionem apud Ticinum amnem, Sempronium apud Trebiam, Flaminium apud Trasumenum profligavit.

Adversus hostem totiens victorem missus Quintus Fabius dictator Hannibalis impetum mora fregit; namque, priorum ducum cladibus edoctus belli rationem mutare et adversus Hannibalem, successibus proeliorum insolentem, recedere ab ancipiti discrimine et tueri tantummodo Italiam constituit Cunctatorisque nomen et laudem summi ducis meruit. Per loca alta agmen ducebat modico ab hoste intervallo, ut neque omitteret eum neque cum eo congrederetur; castris, nisi quantum necessitas cogeret, miles tenebatur. Dux neque occasioni rei bene gerendae deerat, si qua ab hoste daretur, neque ullam ipse hosti dabat. Itaque cum ex levibus proeliis superior discederet, militem minus iam coepit aut virtutis suae aut fortunae paenitere.

His artibus cum Hannibalem Fabius in agro Falerno locorum angustiis clausisset, ille sine ullo exercitus detrimento se expedivit. Namque arida sarmenta in boum cornibus deligata principio noctis incendi bovesque ad montes, quos Romani insederant, agi iussit. Qui cum accensis cornibus per montes, per silvas huc illuc discurrerent, Romani miraculo attoniti constiterunt; ipse Fabius, insidias esse ratus, militem extra vallum egredi vetuit. Interea Hannibal ex angustiis evasit.

Dein Hannibal, ut Fabio apud suos conflaret invidiam, agrum eius, omnibus circa vastatis, intactum reliquit. At Fabius, misso Romam Quinto filio, inviolatum ab hoste agrum vendidit eiusque pretio captivos Romanos redemit.

Haud grata tamen Romanis erat Fabii cunctatio: eumque pro cauto timidum, pro cunctatore segnem vocitabant. Augebat invidiam Minucius, magister equitum, dictatorem criminando: illum in ducendo bello sedulo tempus terere, quo diutius in magistratu esset solusque et Romae et in exercitu imperium haberet. His sermonibus accensa plebs dictatori magistrum equitum imperio aequavit. Hanc iniuriam aequo animo tulit Fabius exercitumque suum cum Minucio divisit. Cum autem Minucius temere proelium commisisset, ei periclitanti auxilio venit Fabius. Cuius subito adventu repressus Hannibal receptui cecinit, palam confessus ab se Minucium, se a Fabio victum esse. Redeuntem ex acie dixisse eum ferunt tandem eam nubem, quae sedere in iugis montium solita esset, cum procella imbrem dedisse. Minucius autem periculo liberatus castra cum Fabio iunxit et patrem eum appellavit idemque facere milites iussit.

Postea Hannibal Tarento per proditionem potitus est. Hanc urbem ut Poenis traderent, tredecim fere nobiles iuvenes Tarentini coniuraverant. Hi, nocte per speciem venandi urbe egressi, ad Hannibalem, qui haud procul castra habebat, venerunt. Cui cum quid pararent exposuissent, conlaudavit eos Hannibal monuitque ut redeuntes pecora Carthaginiensium, quae pastum propulsa essent, ad urbem agerent et veluti praedam ex hoste factam aut praefecto aut custodibus portarum donarent. Id iterum ac saepius ab iis factum eoque consuetudinis adducta res est, ut, quocumque noctis tempore sibilo dedissent signum, porta urbis aperiretur. Tunc Hannibal eos nocte media cum decem milibus hominum delectorum secutus est. Ubi portae appropinquarunt, nota iuvenum vox et familiare signum vigilem excitavit. Duo primi inferebant aprum vasti corporis. Vigil incautus, dum beluae magnitudinem miratur, venabulo occisus est. Ingressi proditores ceteros vigiles sopitos obtruncant. Tum Hannibal cum suo agmine ingreditur: Romani passim trucidantur. Livius Salinator, Romanorum praefectus, cum iis, qui caedi superfuerunt, in arcem confugit.

Profectus igitur Fabius ad recipiendum Tarentum urbem obsidione cinxit. Leve dictu momentum ad rem ingentem perficiendam eum adiuvit. Praefectus praesidii Tarentini deperibat amore mulierculae, cuius frater in exercitu Fabii erat. Miles iussus a Fabio pro perfuga Tarentum transiit ac per sororem praefectum ad tradendam urbem perpulit. Fabius vigilia prima accessit ad eam partem muri, quam praefectus custodiebat. Adiuvantibus recipientibusque eius militibus, Romani in urbem transcenderunt. Inde, proxima porta refracta, Fabius cum exercitu intravit. Hannibal nuntiata Tarenti oppugnatione, cum ad opem ferendam festinans captam urbem esse audivisset, "Et Romani" inquit "suum Hannibalem habent: eadem, qua ceperamus, arte Tarentum amisimus."

Cum postea Livius Salinator coram Fabio gloriaretur, quod arcem Tarentinam retinuisset, dixissetque eum sua opera Tarentum recepisse, "Certe" inquit Fabius ridens, "nam nisi tu amisisses, ego numquam recepissem."

Quintus Fabius iam senex filio suo consuli legatus fuit; cumque in eius castra veniret, filius obviam patri progressus est, duodecim lictoribus pro more antecedentibus. Equo vehebatur senex neque appropinquante consule descendit. Iam ex lictoribus undecim verecundia paternae maiestatis taciti praeterierant. Quod cum consul animadvertisset, proximum lictorem iussit inclamare Fabio patri ut ex equo descenderet. Pater tum desiliens "Non ego, fili," inquit "tuum imperium contempsi, sed experiri volui num scires consulem te esse." Ad summam senectutem vixit Fabius Maximus, dignus tanto cognomine. Cautior quam promptior habitus est, sed insita eius ingenio prudentia ei bello, quod tum gerebatur, proprie apta erat. Nemini dubium est quin rem Romanam cunctando restituerit. Ut Scipio pugnando, ita hic non dimicando maxime civitati Romanae succurrisse visus est. Alter enim celeritate sua Carthaginem oppressit, alter cunctatione id egit, ne Roma opprimi posset.

Hannibal, Hamilcaris[10] fîlius, novem[11] annôs[12] nâtus, â patre ârîs admôtus odium in Rômânôs perenne iûrâvit. Quae rês mâximê vidêtur concitâsse secundum[13] Pûnicum bellum. [[44]] Nam, mortuô[1] Hamilcare, Hannibal causam bellî quaerêns Saguntum, cîvitâtem Hispâniae Rômânîs[2] foederâtam êvertit. {5} Quâpropter Rômâ missî sunt Carthâginem lêgâtî, quî Hannibalem, malî auctôrem, expôscerent. Tergiversantibus Poenîs Quîntus Fabius, lêgâtiônis prînceps, sinû ex togâ factô "Hîc" inquit "vôbîs bellum et pâcem portâmus; utrum[3] {10} placet, sûmite." Poenîs daret[4] utrum vellet succlâmantibus, Fabius, excussâ[5] togâ, bellum sê dare dîcit. Poenî accipere sê respondêrunt et, quibus[6] acciperent animîs, iîsdem sê gestûrôs.[7]

[Illustration: HANNIBAL]

Hannibal superâtîs Pyrênaeî et Alpium iugîs in Îtaliam vênit. {15} Pûblium[8] Scîpiônem apud Tîcînum[9] amnem, Semprônium apud Trebiam, Flâminium apud Trasumênum prôflîgâvit.

Adversus hostem totiêns victôrem missus Quîntus Fabius {18} dictâtor[10] Hannibalis impetum morâ[11] frêgit; namque, priôrum ducum clâdibus êdoctus bellî ratiônem mûtâre et adversus[12] Hannibalem, succêssibus proeliôrum însolentem, recêdere[13] ab ancipitî discrîmine et tuêrî tantummodo Îtaliam cônstituit Cunctâtôrisque {22} nômen et laudem summî ducis meruit. Per loca alta âgmen dûcêbat modicô ab hoste intervâllô,[14] ut neque omitteret[15] eum [[45]] neque cum eô congrederêtur; castrîs,[1] nisi[2] quantum necessitâs côgeret,[2] mîles tenêbâtur. Dux neque occâsiônî[3] reî[4] bene {26} gerendae deerat, sî qua ab hoste darêtur, neque ûllam ipse hostî dabat. Itaque cum ex levibus proeliîs superior discêderet, mîlitem[5] minus iam coepit aut virtûtis suae aut fortûnae paenitêre. {30}

Hîs artibus cum Hannibalem Fabius in agrô Falernô locôrum angustiîs clausisset, ille sine ûllô exercitûs dêtrîmentô sê expedîvit. Namque ârida sarmenta in boum cornibus dêligâta[6] prîncipiô[7] noctis incendî bovêsque ad montês, quôs Rômânî însêderant, agî iussit. Quî cum accênsîs cornibus per montês, per silvâs hûc {35} illûc discurrerent, Rômânî mîrâculô attonitî cônstitêrunt; ipse Fabius, însidiâs esse ratus,[8] mîlitem extrâ vâllum êgredî vetuit. Intereâ Hannibal ex angustiîs êvâsit.

Dein Hannibal, ut Fabiô apud suôs cônflâret invidiam, agrum {39} êius, omnibus circâ vâstâtîs, intâctum relîquit. At Fabius, missô Rômam Quîntô fîliô, inviolâtum ab hoste agrum vêndidit êiusque pretiô captîvôs Rômânôs redêmit.

Haud grâta tamen Rômânîs erat Fabiî cunctâtiô: eumque prô cautô timidum, prô cunctâtôre sêgnem[9] vocitâbant. Augêbat invidiam Minucius, magister[10] equitum, dictâtôrem crîminandô: {45} illum in dûcendô bellô sêdulô tempus terere,[11] quô diûtius in magistrâtû esset sôlusque et Rômae et in exercitû imperium habêret. Hîs sermônibus accênsa plêbs dictâtôrî[12] magistrum [[46]] equitum imperiô[1] aequâvit. Hanc iniûriam aequô[2] animô tulit Fabius exercitumque suum cum Minuciô dîvîsit. Cum autem {50} Minucius temerê proelium commîsisset, eî[3] perîclitantî auxiliô vênit Fabius. Cûius subitô adventû repressus Hannibal receptuî[4] cecinit, palam cônfessus[5] ab sê Minucium, sê â Fabiô victum esse. Redeuntem ex aciê dîxisse eum[6] ferunt tandem[7] eam nûbem, quae sedêre in iugîs montium solita esset, cum procellâ imbrem dedisse. Minucius autem perîculô lîberâtus castra cum Fabiô iûnxit et {56} patrem eum appellâvit idemque facere mîlitês iussit.

Posteâ Hannibal Tarentô[8] per prôditiônem potîtus est. Hanc urbem ut Poenîs trâderent, tredecim ferê nôbilês iuvenês Tarentînî coniûrâverant. Hî, nocte per[9] speciem vênandî urbe êgressî, {60} ad Hannibalem, quî haud procul castra habêbat, vênêrunt. Cuî cum quid parârent exposuissent, conlaudâvit eôs Hannibal monuitque ut[10] redeuntês pecora Carthâginiênsium, quae pâstum[11] prôpulsa essent, ad urbem agerent[10] et velutî[12] praedam ex hoste factam aut praefectô aut cûstôdibus portârum dônârent.[10] Id {65} iterum ac saepius ab iîs factum eôque[13] cônsuêtûdinis adducta rês est, ut, quôcumque noctis tempore sîbilô dedissent[14] sîgnum, porta urbis aperîrêtur. Tunc Hannibal eôs nocte mediâ cum decem mîlibus hominum dêlêctôrum secûtus est. Ubi portae appropinquârunt, [[47]] nôta iuvenum vôx et familiâre sîgnum vigilem excitâvit. {70} Duo prîmî înferêbant aprum vâstî corporis. Vigil incautus, dum bêluae mâgnitûdinem mîrâtur, vênâbulô occîsus est. Ingressî prôditôrês cêterôs vigilês sôpîtôs[1] obtruncant. Tum Hannibal cum suô âgmine ingreditur: Rômânî passim trucîdantur. Lîvius Salînâtor, Rômânôrum praefectus, cum iîs, quî caedî superfuêrunt, in arcem cônfûgit. {76}

Profectus igitur Fabius ad recipiendum Tarentum urbem obsidiône cinxit. Leve[2] dictû mômentum ad rem ingentem perficiendam eum adiûvit. Praefectus praesidiî Tarentînî dêperîbat[3] amôre mulierculae,[4] cûius frâter in exercitû Fabiî erat. Mîles {80} iussus â Fabiô prô perfugâ Tarentum trânsiit ac per sorôrem praefectum ad[5] trâdendam urbem perpulit. Fabius vigiliâ[6] prîmâ accessit ad eam partem mûrî, quam praefectus cûstôdiêbat. Adiuvantibus recipientibusque êius mîlitibus, Rômânî in urbem trânscendêrunt. Inde, proximâ portâ refrâctâ,[7] Fabius cum exercitû {85} intrâvit. Hannibal[8] nûntiâtâ Tarentî oppûgnâtiône, cum ad opem ferendam fêstînâns captam urbem esse audîvisset, "Et Rômânî" inquit "suum[9] Hannibalem habent: eâdem, quâ cêperâmus, arte Tarentum âmîsimus."

Cum posteâ Lîvius Salînâtor côram Fabiô glôriârêtur, quod[10] {90} arcem Tarentînam retinuisset,[10] dîxissetque eum[11] suâ operâ Tarentum recêpisse, "Certê" inquit Fabius rîdêns, "nam nisi tû âmîsissês,[12] ego numquam recêpissem."[12]

Quîntus Fabius iam senex fîliô suô cônsulî lêgâtus fuit; cumque [[48]] in êius castra venîret, fîlius obviam patrî prôgressus est, {95} duodecim lîctôribus prô môre antecêdentibus. Equô[1] vehêbâtur senex neque appropinquante cônsule dêscendit. Iam ex lîctôribus ûndecim verêcundiâ[2] paternae mâiestâtis tacitî praeterierant. Quod cum cônsul animadvertisset, proximum lîctôrem iussit inclâmâre[3] Fabiô patrî ut ex equô dêscenderet. Pater tum {100} dêsiliêns "Nôn ego, fîlî," inquit "tuum imperium contempsî, sed experîrî voluî num scîrês cônsulem tê esse." Ad summam senectûtem vîxit Fabius Mâximus, dîgnus tantô côgnômine.[4] Cautior[5] quam prômptior habitus est, sed însita[6] êius ingeniô prûdentia eî bellô, quod tum gerêbâtur, propriê apta erat. Nêminî[7] dubium {105} est quîn[8] rem[9] Rômânam cunctandô[10] restituerit. Ut Scîpiô pûgnandô,[10] ita hîc nôn dîmicandô[10] mâximê cîvitâtî Rômânae succurrisse vîsus est. Alter enim celeritâte suâ Carthâginem oppressit, alter cunctâtiône id[11] êgit, nê Rôma opprimî posset.

43.10: In the latter part of the First Punic War Hamilcar had successfully maintained himself for several years in Sicily against the Romans. Subsequently he built up a great Carthaginian empire in Spain, partly to offset the losses which Carthage had sustained in its struggle with Rome, and partly to supply it with the means for a renewal of the conflict. 43.11: #novem . . . nâtus#: 'when only nine years old.' 43.12: Cf. p. 10, n. 15. 43.13: This war lasted from 218 to 202 B.C. 44.1: When Hamilcar was killed in battle in Spain in 227, his son-in-law Hasdrubal took command of the Carthaginian forces there. He in turn was succeeded by Hannibal in 219. 44.2: dat. with #foederâtam#. Cf. H 428, 3 (385, 4, 3): A 248, _a_, R.: G 359: B 192, 1. Compare the dat. used with _iungô_ and _mîsceô_. 44.3: #utrum# is here a relative pronoun; hence the indicative #placet#, with which we must supply _vôbîs_. In #utrum vellet#, however, #utrum# is interrogative: hence the subjunctive. 44.4: = a subjunctive in ind. disc. representing an original imperative. See p. xxvi, M 6. 44.5: _excutiô_. 44.6: #quibus . . . animîs, iîsdem#: abl. of manner. See p. 42, n. 5. 44.7: Sc. _bellum_. 44.8: P. Cornelius Scipio, father of the famous P. Here again the Latin feels the lack of a participle to _sum_. 44.13: #recêdere . . . discrîmine#: 'to avoid (any) hazardous risk.' #recêdere# depends on #cônstituit#, l. 22. 44.14: #modicô . . . intervâllô#: we say, 'at a moderate distance.' For the abl., see p. 39, n. 12. 44.15: 'let slip,' 'lose sight of.' 45.1: apparently = _in castrîs_, but really an abl. of means. 45.2: #nisi . . . côgeret#: 'except as far as necessity forced (Fabius to lead them forth).' #côgeret# is an example of the iterative subjunctive, used to denote the frequent repetition of an act. It generally occurs in clauses containing a past tense, and is common in Livy, on whom this story is based. 45.3: #neque . . . deerat#: 'missed no chance of scoring a success.' 45.4: #reî bene gerendae#: cf. p. 40, n. 17. 45.5: #mîlitem . . . paenitêre#: 'the soldiers began to be less discontented with (i.e. to be more confident of),' etc. For the construction, see p. 28, n. 7. 45.6: #dêligâta . . . incendî# = _dêligârî et incendî_. 45.7: Why abl.? 45.8: _reor_. 45.9: Render by a noun: 'sluggard.' 45.10: See Vocab., _magister_. 45.11: indirect discourse, dependent on the verb of saying suggested by #crîminandô#. 45.12: Indirect object with #aequâvit#, which = _aequum fêcit_. 46.1: #abl.# of specification. 46.2: #aequô animô# is an abl. of manner (p. 41, n. 10), and = 'patiently.' 46.3: #eî . . . auxiliô#: 'to help him in his peril.' Cf. p. 25, n. 6. 46.4: #receptuî cecinit#: 'gave the signal for a retreat.' #receptuî# is a dat. of purpose: cf. p. 25, n. 6. _canere_ is used of instrumental music (here of playing on the trumpet) as well as of vocal. 46.5: _cônfiteor_. 46.6: i.e. Hannibal. 46.7: #tandem . . . dedisse#: 'the cloud . . . had at last brought wind and rain,' i.e. Fabius, after so long threatening the Carthaginians, had at last proceeded to active measures. 46.8: Cf. p. 4, n. 6. 46.9: #per . . . vênandî#: 'under pretense of hunting.' 46.10: a substantive clause of purpose, object of #monuit#. 46.11: supine of _pâscô_, denoting the purpose of #prôpulsa essent#: cf. p. 5, n. 20. 46.12: _veluti . . . factam_: 'as if they (i.e. the cattle) were plunder captured from the foe.' #praedam# is accus. by attraction to _ea pecora_, to be supplied as the object of dônârent. 46.13: #eô . . . est#: lit., 'to such a degree of custom was the matter brought,' = 'so customary did this proceeding become.' #cônsuêtûdinis# is a partitive gen. with #eô#, which strictly = 'thither, to that point.' 46.14: subjunctive by attraction (p. 13, n. 10) to #aperîrêtur#, which itself denotes result. 47.1: 'who were buried in slumber.' Explain the case of #verêcundiâ#, also of #mâiestâtis#. Roman fathers were as absolutely masters of their children as they were of their slaves. Yet the rights of a son in official position took precedence of the honors due a father. 48.3: Cf. p. 12, n. 3. 48.4: abl. with #dîgnus#: H 481 (421, III): M 654: A 245, _a_: G 397, N. 2: B 226, 2. 48.5: #Cautior . . . est#: = 'he was accounted cautious rather than alert.' #XX. Aemilius Paulus et Terentius Varro# [[stripped text]]

Hannibal in Apuliam pervenerat. Adversus eum Roma profecti sunt duo consules, Aemilius Paulus et Terentius Varro. Paulo Fabii cunctatio magis placebat; Varro autem, ferox et temerarius, acriora sequebatur consilia. Ambo consules ad vicum, qui Cannae appellabatur, castra communiverunt. Ibi deinde Varro, invito conlega, aciem instruxit et signum pugnae dedit. Hannibal autem ita constituerat aciem, ut Romanis et solis radii et ventus ab oriente pulverem adflans adversi essent. Victus caesusque est Romanus exercitus; nusquam graviore vulnere adflicta est res publica. Aemilius Paulus telis obrutus cecidit: quem cum media in pugna sedentem in saxo oppletum cruore conspexisset quidam tribunus militum, "Cape" inquit "hunc equum et fuge, Aemili. Etiam sine tua morte lacrimarum satis luctusque est." Ad ea consul: "Tu quidem macte virtute esto! Sed cave exiguum tempus e manibus hostium evadendi perdas! Abi, nuntia patribus ut urbem muniant ac prius quam hostis victor adveniat, praesidiis firment. Me in hac strage meorum militum patere exspirare." Alter consul cum paucis equitibus Venusiam perfugit. Consulares aut praetorii occiderunt viginti, senatores capti aut occisi triginta, nobiles viri trecenti, militum quadraginta milia, equitum tria milia et quingenti. Hannibal in testimonium victoriae suae tres modios aureorum anulorum Carthaginem misit, quos de manibus equitum Romanorum et senatorum detraxerat.

Hannibali victori cum ceteri gratularentur suaderentque ut quietem iam ipse sumeret et fessis militibus daret, unus ex eius praefectis, Maharbal, minime cessandum ratus, Hannibalem hortabatur ut statim Romam pergeret, die quinto victor in Capitolio epulaturus. Cumque Hannibal illud non probasset, Maharbal "Non omnia nimirum" inquit "eidem dii dedere. Vincere scis, Hannibal; victoria uti nescis." Mora huius diei satis creditur saluti fuisse urbi et imperio. Hannibal cum victoria posset uti, frui maluit, relictaque Roma in Campaniam divertit, cuius deliciis mox exercitus ardor elanguit, adeo ut vere dictum sit Capuam Hannibali Cannas fuisse.

Numquam tantum pavoris Romae fuit, quantum ubi acceptae cladis nuntius advenit. Neque tamen ulla pacis mentio facta est; quin etiam animo civitas adeo magno fuit, ut Varroni ex tanta clade redeunti obviam irent et gratias agerent, quod de re publica non desperasset: qui, si Poenorum dux fuisset, temeritatis poenas omni supplicio dedisset. Non autem vitae cupiditate, sed rei publicae amore se superfuisse reliquo aetatis suae tempore approbavit. Nam et barbam capillumque submisit, et postea numquam recubans cibum cepit; honoribus quoque, cum ei deferrentur a populo, renuntiavit, dicens felicioribus magistratibus rei publicae opus esse. Dum igitur Hannibal segniter et otiose agebat. Romani interim respirare coeperunt. Arma non erant: detracta sunt templis vetera hostium spolia. Deerat iuventus: servi manumissi et armati sunt. Egebat aerarium: opes suas libens senatus in medium protulit, nec praeter quod in bullis singulisque anulis erat quidquam sibi auri reliquerunt. Patrum exemplum secuti sunt equites imitataeque equites omnes tribus. Denique vix suffecere tabulae, vix scribarum manus, cum omnes privatae opes in publicum deferrentur.

Cum Hannibal redimendi sui copiam captivis Romanis fecisset, decem ex ipsis Romam ea de re missi sunt; nec pignus aliud fidei ab iis postulatum est, quam ut iurarent se, si non impetrassent, in castra esse redituros. Eos senatus non redimendos censuit responditque eos cives non esse necessarios, qui, cum armati essent, capi potuissent. Ûnus ex iis legatis e castris Poenorum egressus, veluti aliquid oblitus, paulo post in castra erat regressus, deinde comites ante noctem adsecutus erat. Is ergo, re non impetrata, domum abiit; reditu enim in castra se liberatum esse iureiurando interpretabatur. Quod ubi innotuit, iussit senatus illum comprehendi et vinctum duci ad Hannibalem. Ea res Hannibalis audaciam maxime fregit, quod senatus populusque Romanus rebus adflictis tam excelso esset animo.

48.12: Since the battle at Lake Trasumenus (XIX, 17), there had been no general engagement between the Romans and Hannibal. The latter, closely watched and followed by Fabius, had marched into southern Italy, hoping to induce the peoples there to desert Rome and join him. When Fabius resigned the dictatorship at the end of the legal period, C. Terentius Varro and L. Aemilius Paulus were elected consuls. Their army numbered 80,000 men, and their instructions were to fight as speedily as possible. 49.1: A further cause of trouble between the consuls was the fact that Paulus was a patrician, Varro a plebeian. 49.2: #invîtô conlêgâ#: abl. abs.: 'though opposed by his colleague.' #XXI. Publius Cornelius Scipio Africanus# [[stripped text]]

Publius Cornelius Scipio nondum annos pueritiae egressus patrem singulari virtute servavit; qui cum pugna apud Ticinum contra Hannibalem commissa graviter vulneratus in hostium manus iam iam venturus esset, filius interiecto corpore Poenis inruentibus se opposuit et patrem periculo liberavit. Quae pietas Scipioni postea aedilitatem petenti favorem populi conciliavit. Cum obsisterent tribuni plebis, negantes rationem eius esse habendam, quod nondum ad petendum legitima aetas esset, "Si me" inquit Scipio "omnes Quirites aedilem facere volunt, satis annorum habeo." Tanto inde favore ad suffragia itum est, ut tribuni incepto desisterent.

Post cladem Cannensem Romani exercitus reliquiae Canusium perfugerant; cumque ibi tribuni militum quattuor essent, tamen omnium consensu ad Publium Scipionem, admodum adulescentem, summa imperii delata est. Quibus consultantibus nuntiat Publius Furius Philus, consularis viri filius, nobiles quosdam iuvenes propter desperationem consilium de Italia deserenda inire. Statim in hospitium Metelli, qui conspirationis erat princeps, se contulit Scipio, et cum concilium ibi iuvenum, de quibus adlatum erat, invenisset, stricto super capita consultantium gladio, "Iurate" inquit "vos neque ipsos rem publicam populi Romani deserturos, neque alium civem Romanum deserere passuros: qui non iuraverit, in se hunc gladium strictum esse sciat." Haud secus pavidi, quam si victorem Hannibalem cernerent, iurant omnes custodiendosque semet ipsos Scipioni tradunt.

Cum Romani duas clades in Hispania accepissent duoque ibi summi imperatores intra dies triginta cecidissent, placuit exercitum augeri eoque proconsulem mitti; nec tamen quem mitterent satis constabat. Ea de re indicta sunt comitia. Primo populus exspectabat ut, qui se tanto dignos imperio crederent, nomina profiterentur; sed nemo audebat illud imperium suscipere. Maesta igitur civitas ac prope inops consilii comitiorum die in campum descendit. Subito P. Cornelius Scipio, quattuor et viginti ferme annos natus, professus se petere, in superiore, unde conspici posset, loco constitit. In quem postquam omnium ora conversa sunt, ad unum omnes Scipionem in Hispania proconsulem esse iusserunt. At postquam animorum impetus resedit, populum Romanum coepit facti paenitere: aetati Scipionis maxime diffidebant. Quod ubi animadvertit Scipio, advocata contione ita magno elatoque animo de bello, quod gerendum esset, disseruit, ut homines cura liberaret speque certissima impleret.

Profectus igitur in Hispaniam Scipio Carthaginem Novam, quo die venit, expugnavit. Eo congestae erant omnes paene Africae et Hispaniae opes, ibi arma, ibi pecunia, ibi totius Hispaniae obsides erant: quibus omnibus potitus est Scipio. Inter captivos ad eum adducta est eximiae formae adulta virgo. Quam ubi comperit inlustri loco inter Celtiberos natam principique eius gentis adulescenti desponsam esse, arcessitis parentibus et sponso eam reddidit. Parentes virginis, qui ad eam redimendam satis magnum auri pondus attulerant, Scipionem orabant ut id a se donum acciperet. Scipio aurum ante pedes poni iussit vocatoque ad se virginis sponso, "Super dotem" inquit "quam accepturus a socero es, haec tibi a me dotalia dona accedent" aurumque tollere ac sibi habere iussit. Ille domum reversus ad referendam Scipioni gratiam Celtiberos Romanis conciliavit.

Deinde Scipio Hasdrubalem victum ex Hispania expulit. Castris hostium potitus omnem praedam militibus concessit, captivos Hispanos sine pretio domum dimisit; Afros vero vendi iussit. Erat inter eos puer adultus regii generis, forma insigni: quem cum percontaretur Scipio quis et cuias esset, et cur id aetatis in castris fuisset, "Numida sum" inquit puer, "Massivam populares vocant: orbus a patre relictus, apud avum maternum, Numidiae regem, educatus sum. Cum avunculo Masinissa, qui nuper subsidio Carthaginiensibus venit, in Hispaniam traieci; prohibitus propter aetatem a Masinissa numquam ante proelium inii. Eo die, quo pugnatum est cum Romanis, inscio avunculo, clam armis equoque sumpto, in aciem exii: ibi, prolapso equo, captus sum a Romanis." Scipio eum interrogat velletne ad avunculum reverti. Cum, effusis gaudio lacrimis, id vero se cupere puer diceret, tum Scipio puero anulum aureum equumque ornatum donat datisque qui tuto deducerent equitibus dimisit.

Cum Publius Cornelius Scipio se erga Hispanos clementer gessisset, circumfusa multitudo eum regem ingenti consensu appellavit; at Scipio, silentio per praeconem facto, "Nomen imperatoris" inquit, "quo me mei milites appellarunt, mihi maximum est: regium nomen, alibi magnum, Romae intolerabile est. Si id amplissimum iudicatis, quod regale est, vobis licet existimare regalem in me esse animum; sed oro vos ut a regis appellatione abstineatis." Sensere etiam barbari magnitudinem animi, qua Scipio id aspernabatur, quod ceteri mortales admirantur et concupiscunt.

Scipio recepta Hispania cum iam bellum in ipsam Africam transferre meditaretur, conciliandos prius regum et gentium animos existimavit. Syphacem, Maurorum regem, opulentissimum totius Africae regem, quem magno usui sibi fore speraret, primum tentare statuit. Itaque legatum cum donis ad eum misit C. Laelium, quocum intima familiaritate vivebat. Syphax amicitiam Romanorum se accipere adnuit, sed fidem nec dare nec accipere, nisi cum ipso coram duce Romano, voluit. Scipio igitur in Africam traiecit. Forte ita incidit, ut eo ipso tempore Hasdrubal pulsus Hispania ad eundem portum appelleret, Syphacis amicitiam pariter petiturus. Uterque a rege in hospitium invitatus. Cenatum simul apud regem est; eodem etiam lecto Scipio atque Hasdrubal accubuerunt. Tanta autem inerat comitas in Scipione, ut non Syphacem modo, sed etiam hostem infestissimum Hasdrubalem sibi conciliaret. Scipio, foedere icto cum Syphace, in Hispaniam ad exercitum rediit.

Masinissa quoque amicitiam cum Scipione iungere iam dudum cupiebat. Quare ad eum tres Numidarum principes misit ad tempus locumque conloquio statuendum. Duos pro obsidibus retineri a Scipione iubet; remisso tertio, qui Masinissam ad locum constitutum adduceret, Scipio et Masinissa cum paucis in conloquium venerunt. Ceperat iam ante Numidam ex fama rerum gestarum admiratio viri, sed maior praesentis veneratio cepit: erat enim in vultu maiestas summa; accedebat promissa caesaries habitusque corporis, non cultus munditiis, sed virilis vere ac militaris, et florens iuventa. Prope attonitus ipso congressu Numida gratias de filio fratris remisso agit: adfirmat se ex eo tempore eam quaesivisse occasionem, quam tandem oblatam non omiserit; cupere se illi et populo Romano operam navare. Laetus eum Scipio audivit atque in societatem recepit.

Scipio deinde Romam rediit et ante annos consul factus est. Sicilia ei provincia decreta est permissumque ut in Africam inde traiceret. Qui cum vellet ex fortissimis peditibus Romanis trecentorum equitum numerum complere, nec posset illos subito armis et equis instruere, id prudenti consilio perfecit. Namque ex omni Sicilia trecentos iuvenes nobilissimos et ditissimos, qui equis militarent et secum in Africam traicerent, legit diemque iis edixit, qua equis armisque instructi atque ornati adessent. Gravis ea militia, procul domo, terra marique multos labores, magna pericula adlatura videbatur; neque ipsos modo, sed parentes cognatosque eorum ea cura angebat. Ubi dies quae dicta erat advenit, arma equosque ostenderunt, sed omnes fere longinquum et grave bellum horrere apparebat. Tunc Scipio militiam iis se remissurum ait, si arma et equos militibus Romanis voluissent tradere. Laeti condicionem acceperunt iuvenes Siculi. Ita Scipio sine publica impensa suos instruxit ornavitque equites.

Tunc Scipio ex Sicilia in Africam vento secundo profectus est tanto militum ardore, ut non ad bellum duci viderentur, sed ad certa victoriae praemia. Celeriter naves e conspectu Siciliae ablatae sunt conspectaque brevi Africae litora. Scipio cum egrediens ad terram navi prolapsus esset et ob hoc attonitos milites cerneret, id, quod trepidationem adferebat, in hortationem convertens, "Africam oppressi" inquit, "milites!" Expositis copiis in proximis tumulis castra metatus est. Ibi speculatores hostium in castris deprehensos et ad se perductos nec supplicio adfecit nec de consiliis ac viribus Poenorum percontatus est, sed circa omnes Romani exercitus manipulos curavit deducendos; dein interrogatos num ea satis considerassent, quae speculari erant iussi, prandio dato incolumes dimisit.

Scipioni in Africam advenienti Masinissa se coniunxit cum parva equitum turma. Syphax vero a Romanis ad Poenos defecerat. Hasdrubal, Poenorum dux, Syphaxque Scipioni se opposuerunt, qui utriusque castra una nocte perrupit et incendit. Syphax ipse captus et vivus ad Scipionem pertractus est. Syphacem in castra adduci cum esset nuntiatum, omnis velut ad spectaculum triumphi multitudo effusa est; praecedebat ipse vinctus, sequebatur grex nobilium Maurorum. Movebat omnes fortuna viri, cuius amicitiam olim Scipio petierat. Regem aliosque captivos Romam misit Scipio; Masinissam, qui egregie rem Romanam adiuverat, aurea corona donavit.

Haec et aliae, quae sequebantur, clades Carthaginiensibus tantum terroris intulerunt, ut Hannibalem ex Italia ad tuendam patriam revocarent. Frendens gemensque ac vix lacrimis temperans is dicitur legatorum verba audisse mandatisque paruisse. Respexit saepe Italiae litora, semet accusans, quod non victorem exercitum statim ab Cannensi pugna Romam duxisset. Zamam venerat Hannibal, quae urbs quinque dierum iter a Carthagine abest, et nuntium ad Scipionem misit ut conloquendi secum potestatem faceret. Scipio cum conloquium haud abnuisset, dies locusque constituitur. Itaque congressi sunt duo clarissimi suae aetatis duces. Steterunt aliquamdiu taciti mutuaque admiratione defixi. Cum vero de condicionibus pacis inter eos non convenisset, ad suos se receperunt, renuntiantes armis decernendum esse. Commisso deinde proelio Hannibal victus cum quattuor equitibus fugit. Ceterum constat utrumque de altero confessum esse nec melius instrui aciem nec acrius potuisse pugnari.

Carthaginienses metu perculsi ad petendam pacem oratores mittunt triginta civitatis principes. Qui ubi in castra Romana venerunt, veniam civitati petebant non culpam purgantes, sed initium culpae in Hannibalem transferentes. Victis leges imposuit Scipio. Legati, cum nullas condiciones recusarent, Romam profecti sunt, ut, quae a Scipione pacta essent, ea patrum ac populi auctoritate confirmarentur. Ita pace terra marique parta, Scipio exercitu in naves imposito Romam revertit. Ad quem advenientem concursus ingens factus est; effusa non ex urbibus modo, sed etiam ex agris multitudo viam obsidebat. Scipio inter gratulantium plausus triumpho omnium clarissimo urbem est invectus primusque nomine victae a se gentis est nobilitatus Africanusque appellatus.

Ex his rebus gestis virum eum esse virtutis divinae vulgo creditum est. Id etiam dicere haud piget, quod scriptores de eo litteris mandaverunt, Scipionem consuevisse, priusquam dilucesceret, in Capitolium ventitare ac iubere aperiri cellam Iovis ibi solum diu demorari, quasi consultantem de re publica cum Iove: aedituosque eius templi saepe esse miratos, quod eum id temporis in Capitolium ingredientem canes, semper in alios saevientes, non latrarent. Has vulgi de Scipione opiniones confirmare atque approbare videbantur dicta factaque eius pleraque admiranda, ex quibus est unum huiuscemodi. Adsidebat oppugnabatque oppidum in Hispania, situ moenibusque ac defensoribus validum et munitum, re etiam cibaria copiosum, neque ulla eius potiundi spes erat. Quodam die ius in castris sedens dicebat Scipio atque ex eo loco id oppidum procul videbatur. Tum e militibus, qui in iure apud eum stabant, interrogavit quispiam ex more in quem diem locumque vades sisti iuberet. Et Scipio manum ad ipsam oppidi, quod obsidebatur, arcem protendens, "Perendie" inquit "sese sistant illo in loco," atque ita factum. Die tertia, in quam vades sisti iusserat, oppidum captum est. Eodem die in arce eius oppidi ius dixit.

Hannibal, a Scipione victus suisque invisus, ad Antiochum, Syriae regem, confugit eumque hostem Romanis fecit. Missi sunt Roma legati ad Antiochum, in quibus erat Scipio Africanus, qui cum Hannibale Ephesi conlocutus ab eo quaesivit, quem fuisse maximum imperatorem crederet. Respondit Hannibal Alexandrum, Macedonum regem, maximum sibi videri, quod parva manu innumerabiles exercitus fudisset. Quaerenti deinde, quem secundum poneret, "Pyrrhum" inquit, "quod primus castra metari docuit nemoque illo elegantius loca cepit et praesidia deposuit." Sciscitanti denique quem tertium duceret, semet ipsum dixit. Tum ridens Scipio "Quidnam tu diceres" inquit "si me vicisses?" "Tum me vero" respondit Hannibal "et ante Alexandrum et ante Pyrrhum et ante omnes alios imperatores posuissem." Ita improviso adsentationis genere Scipionem e grege imperatorum velut inaestimabilem secernebat.

Scipio ipse fertur quondam dixisse, cum eum quidam parum pugnacem dicerent, "Imperatorem me mater, non bellatorem peperit." Idem dicere solitus est non solum dandam esse viam fugientibus, sed etiam muniendam.

Decreto adversus Antiochum bello cum Syria provincia obvenisset Lucio Scipioni, quia parum in eo putabatur esse animi, parum roboris, senatus gerendi huius belli curam mandari volebat conlegae eius C. Laelio. Surgens tunc Scipio Africanus, frater maior Lucii Scipionis, illam familiae ignominiam deprecatus est: dixit in fratre suo summam esse virtutem, summum consilium seque ei legatum fore promisit. Quod cum ab eo esset dictum, nihil est de Lucii Scipionis provincia commutatum: itaque frater natu maior minori legatus in Asiam profectus est et tam diu eum consilio operaque adiuvit, donec triumphum ille et cognomen Asiatici peperisset.

Eodem bello filius Scipionis Africani captus est et ad Antiochum deductus. Benigne et liberaliter adulescentem rex habuit, quamquam ab eius patre tum maxime finibus imperii pellebatur. Cum deinde pacem Antiochus a Romanis peteret, legatus eius Publium Scipionem adiit eique filium sine pretio redditurum regem dixit, si per eum pacem impetrasset. Cui Scipio respondit "Abi, nuntia regi, me pro tanto munere gratias agere; sed nunc aliam gratiam non possum referre, quam ut ei suadeam ut bello absistat et pacis condicionem nullam recuset." Pax non convenit; tamen Antiochus Scipioni filium remisit tantique viri maiestatem venerari quam dolorem suum ulcisci maluit.

Victo Antiocho cum praedae ratio a L. Scipione reposceretur, Africanus prolatum ab eo librum, quo acceptae et expensae summae continebantur et refelli inimicorum accusatio poterat, discerpsit, indignatus de ea re dubitari, quae sub ipso legato administrata esset. Quin etiam hunc in modum verba fecit: "Non est quod quaeratis, patres conscripti, num parvam pecuniam in aerarium rettulerim, qui antea illud Punico auro repleverim, neque mea innocentia potest in dubium vocari. Cum Africam totam potestati vestrae subiecerim, nihil ex ea praeter cognomen rettuli. Non igitur me Punicae, non fratrem meum Asiaticae gazae avarum reddiderunt; sed uterque nostrum invidia quam pecunia est locupletior." Tam constantem defensionem Scipionis universus senatus comprobavit.

Deinde Scipioni Africano duo tribuni plebis diem dixerunt, quod praeda ex Antiocho capta aerarium fraudasset. Ubi causae dicendae dies venit, Scipio magna hominum frequentia in Forum est deductus. Iussus causam dicere rostra conscendit et, corona triumphali capiti suo imposita, "Hoc ego die" inquit "Hannibalem Poenum, imperio nostro inimicissimum, magno proelio vici in terra Africa pacemque nobis et victoriam peperi insperabilem. Ne igitur simus adversus deos ingrati, sed censeo relinquamus nebulones hos eamusque nunc protinus in Capitolium Iovi optimo maximo supplicatum." A rostris in Capitolium ascendit; simul se universa contio ab accusatoribus avertit et secuta Scipionem est, nec quisquam praeter praeconem, qui reum citabat, cum tribunis remansit. Celebratior is dies favore hominum fuit, quam quo triumphans de Syphace rege et Carthaginiensibus urbem est ingressus. Inde, ne amplius tribuniciis iniuriis vexaretur, in Literninum concessit, ubi reliquam egit aetatem sine urbis desiderio.

Cum in Liternina villa se contineret, complures praedonum duces ad eum videndum forte confluxerunt. Quos cum ad vim faciendam venire existimasset, praesidium servorum in tecto conlocavit aliaque parabat, quae ad eos repellendos opus erant. Quod ubi praedones animadverterunt, abiectis armis ianuae appropinquant et clara voce nuntiant Scipioni se non vitae eius hostes, sed virtutis admiratores venisse, conspectum tanti viri, quasi caeleste aliquod beneficium, expetentes; proinde ne gravaretur se spectandum praebere. Haec postquam audivit Scipio, fores reserari eosque introduci iussit. Illi postes ianuae tamquam religiosissimam aram venerati, cupide Scipionis dextram apprehenderunt ac diu deosculati sunt; deinde positis ante vestibulum donis laeti, quod sibi Scipionem ut viderent contigisset, domum reverterunt. Paulo post mortuus est Scipio moriensque ab uxore petiit ne corpus suum Romam referretur.

Quibus cônsultantibus nûntiat [[53]] Pûblius Fûrius Philus, cônsulâris virî fîlius, nôbilês quôsdam iuvenês propter dêspêrâtiônem cônsilium dê Italiâ dêserendâ {20} inîre. Statim in hospitium Metellî, quî cônspîrâtiônis erat prînceps, sê contulit Scîpiô, et cum concilium ibi iuvenum, dê quibus adlâtum[1] erat, invênisset, strictô super câpita cônsultantium gladiô, "Iûrâte" inquit "vôs neque ipsôs rem pûblicam populî Rômânî dêsertûrôs, neque alium cîvem Rômânum dêserere {25} passûrôs[2]: quî[3] nôn iûrâverit, in sê hunc gladium strictum esse sciat."[4] Haud[5] secus pavidî, quam sî victôrem Hannibalem cernerent,[6] iûrant omnês cûstôdiendôsque sêmet ipsôs Scîpiônî trâdunt.

Cum Rômânî duâs clâdês in Hispâniâ accêpissent duoque ibi {30} summî imperâtôrês[7] intrâ diês trîgintâ cecidissent, placuit[8] exercitum augêrî eôque prôcônsulem mittî; nec tamen quem mitterent[9] satis cônstâbat. Eâ dê rê indicta sunt comitia. Prîmô populus exspectâbat ut, quî sê tantô dîgnôs imperiô {34} crêderent,[10] nômina profitêrentur; sed nêmô audêbat illud imperium suscipere. Maesta igitur cîvitâs ac prope inops[11] cônsiliî[12] comitiôrum diê in campum dêscendit. Subitô P. Cornêlius Scîpiô, quattuor et vîgintî fermê annôs nâtus, professus sê petere,[13] in superiôre, unde[14] cônspicî posset, locô cônstitit. In quem postquam omnium ôra conversa sunt, ad ûnum omnês Scîpiônem in {40} Hispâniâ prôcônsulem esse iussêrunt. At postquam animôrum[15] impetus resêdit, populum[16] Rômânum coepit factî paenitêre: [[54]] aetâtî Scîpiônis mâximê diffîdêbant. Quod ubi animadvertit Scîpiô, advocâtâ côntiône ita mâgnô êlâtôque animô dê bellô, quod gerendum esset, disseruit, ut hominês cûrâ lîberâret spêque {45} certissimâ implêret.

Profectus igitur in Hispâniam Scîpiô Carthâginem Novam, quô[1] diê vênit, expûgnâvit. Eô[2] congestae[3] erant omnês paene Âfricae et Hispâniae opês, ibi arma, ibi pecûnia, ibi tôtîus Hispâniae obsidês erant: quibus omnibus potîtus est Scîpiô. Inter {50} captîvôs ad eum adducta est eximiae fôrmae adulta virgô. Quam ubi comperit inlûstrî locô inter Celtibêrôs nâtam prîncipîque êius gentis adulêscentî dêspônsam esse, arcessîtîs parentibus et spônsô eam reddidit. Parentês virginis, quî ad eam redimendam satis[4] mâgnum aurî pondus attulerant, Scîpiônem ôrâbant ut id â sê {55} dônum acciperet. Scîpiô aurum ante pedês pônî iûssit vocâtôque ad sê virginis spônsô, "Super dôtem" inquit "quam acceptûrus â socerô es, haec tibi â mê dôtâlia dôna accêdent" aurumque tollere âc sibi habêre iûssit. Ille domum reversus ad referendam Scîpiônî grâtiam Celtibêrôs Rômânîs conciliâvit. {60}

Deinde Scîpiô Hasdrubalem[5] victum[6] ex Hispâniâ expulit. Castrîs hostium potîtus omnem praedam mîlitibus concessit, captîvôs[7] Hispânôs sine pretiô domum dîmîsit; Âfrôs vêrô vêndî iussit. Erat inter eôs puer adultus rêgiî generis,[8] fôrmâ {64} însîgnî[8]: quem cum percontârêtur Scîpiô quis et cûiâs esset, et cûr id[9] aetâtis in castrîs fuisset, "Numida sum" inquit puer, "Massîvam populârês vocant: orbus â patre relîctus, apud avum mâternum, Numidiae rêgem, êducâtus sum. Cum avunculô Masinissâ, quî nûper subsidiô Carthâginiênsibus vênit, in Hispâniam [[55]] trâiêcî; prohibitus propter aetâtem â Masinissâ numquam ante {70} proelium iniî. Eô diê, quô pûgnâtum est cum Rômânîs, însciô avunculô, clam armîs equôque sûmptô, in aciem exiî: ibi, prôlâpsô equô, captus sum â Rômânîs." Scîpiô eum interrogat velletne[1] ad avunculum revertî. Cum, effûsîs[2] gaudiô lacrimîs, id vêrô sê cupere puer dîceret, tum Scîpiô puerô ânulum aureum {75} equumque ôrnâtum dônat datîsque quî[3] tûtô dêdûcerent equitibus dîmîsit.

Cum Pûblius Cornêlius Scîpiô sê ergâ Hispânôs clêmenter gessisset, circumfûsa multitûdô eum rêgem ingentî cônsênsû appellâvit; at Scîpiô, silentiô per praecônem factô, "Nômen imperâtôris" {80} inquit, "quô[4] mê meî mîlitês appellârunt, mihi[5] mâximum est: rêgium[6] nômen, alibî mâgnum, Rômae intolerâbile est. Sî id amplissimum iûdicâtis, quod rêgâle est, vôbîs licet exîstimâre rêgâlem in mê esse animum; sed ôrô vôs ut â rêgis appellâtiône abstineâtis." Sênsêre etiam barbarî mâgnitûdinem animî, quâ Scîpiô id {85} âspernâbâtur, quod cêterî mortâlês admîrantur et concupîscunt.

[Sidenote: B.C. 206.]

Scîpiô receptâ Hispâniâ cum iam bellum in ipsam Âfricam trânsferre meditârêtur, conciliandôs[7] prius rêgum et gentium animôs exîstimâvit. Syphâcem, Maurôrum rêgem, opulentissimum tôtîus Âfricae rêgem, quem[8] mâgnô ûsuî[9] sibi[9] fore[10] spêrâret, prîmum tentâre statuit. Itaque lêgâtum cum dônîs ad eum mîsit {91} C. Laelium, quôcum intimâ familiâritâte vîvêbat. Syphâx amîcitiam Rômânôrum sê accipere adnuit, sed fidem nec dare nec accipere, nisi cum ipsô côram duce Rômânô, voluit. Scîpiô igitur in Âfricam trâiêcit. Forte ita incidit, ut eô ipsô {95} [[56]] tempore Hasdrubal[1] pulsus Hispâniâ ad eundem portum appelleret,[2] Syphâcis amîcitiam pariter petîtûrus.[3] Uterque â rêge in hospitium invîtâtus. Cênâtum[4] simul apud rêgem est; eôdem etiam lectô[5] Scîpiô atque Hasdrubal accubuêrunt. Tanta autem inerat cômitâs in Scîpiône, ut nôn Syphâcem modo, sed etiam {100} hostem înfêstissimum Hasdrubalem sibi conciliâret. Scîpiô, foedere îctô cum Syphâce, in Hispâniam ad exercitum rediit.

Masinissa quoque amîcitiam cum Scîpiône iungere iam dûdum[6] cupiêbat. Quârê ad eum três Numidârum prîncipês mîsit ad {104} tempus locumque conloquiô statuendum. Duôs prô obsidibus retinêrî â Scîpiône iubet; remissô tertiô, quî Masinissam ad locum cônstitûtum addûceret, Scîpiô et Masinissa cum paucîs in conloquium vênêrunt. Cêperat iam ante Numidam ex fâmâ rêrum gestârum admîrâtiô virî, sed mâior praesentis[7] venerâtiô cêpit: erat enim in vultû mâiestâs summa; accêdêbat prômissa caesariês {110} habitusque corporis, nôn cultus[8] munditiîs, sed virîlis vêrê ac mîlitâris, et flôrêns iuventa. Prope attonitus ipsô congressû Numida grâtiâs dê[9] fîliô frâtris remissô agit: adfîrmat sê ex eô tempore eam quaesîvisse[10] occâsiônem, quam tandem oblâtam[11] nôn omîserit; cupere sê illî et populô Rômânô operam nâvâre. {115| Laetus eum Scîpiô audîvit atque in societâtem recêpit.

Scîpiô deinde Rômam rediit et ante annôs[12] cônsul factus est. Sicilia eî prôvincia dêcrêta est permissumque ut in Âfricam inde [[57]] trâiceret. Quî cum vellet ex fortissimîs peditibus Rômânîs trecentôrum equitum numerum complêre, nec posset illôs subitô {120} armîs et equîs înstruere, id prûdentî cônsiliô perfêcit. Namque ex omnî Siciliâ trecentôs iuvenês nôbilissimôs et dîtissimôs, quî equîs mîlitârent[1] et sêcum in Âfricam trâicerent,[1] lêgit diemque iîs êdîxit, quâ[2] equîs armîsque înstrûctî atque ôrnâtî adessent.[1] Gravis ea mîlitia, procul domô, terrâ marîque multôs labôrês, {125} mâgna perîcula adlâtûra vidêbâtur; neque ipsôs modo, sed parentês côgnâtôsque eôrum ea cûra angêbat. Ubi diês quae dicta erat advênit, arma equôsque ostendêrunt, sed omnês ferê longinquum et grave bellum horrêre appârêbat. Tunc Scîpiô mîlitiam iîs sê remissûrum ait, sî arma et equôs mîlitibus Rômânîs {130} voluissent[3] trâdere. Laetî condiciônem accêpêrunt iuvenês Siculî. Ita Scîpiô sine pûblicâ impênsâ suôs înstrûxit ôrnâvitque equitês.

Tunc Scîpiô ex Siciliâ in Âfricam ventô secundô profectus est tantô mîlitum ârdôre, ut nôn ad bellum dûcî vidêrentur, sed ad certa victôriae praemia. Celeriter nâvês ê cônspectû Siciliae {135} ablâtae sunt cônspectaque brevî Âfricae lîtora. Scîpiô cum êgrediêns ad terram nâvî prôlâpsus esset et ob hôc attonitôs mîlitês cerneret, id, quod trepidâtiônem adferêbat, in hortâtiônem convertêns, "Âfricam oppressî" inquit, "mîlitês!" Expositîs côpiîs in {139} proximîs tumulîs castra mêtâtus[4] est. Ibi speculâtôrês hostium in castrîs dêprehênsôs[5] et ad sê perductôs[5] nec suppliciô adfêcit nec dê cônsiliîs ac vîribus Poenôrum percontâtus est, sed circâ omnês Rômânî exercitûs manipulôs cûrâvit dêdûcendôs; dein interrogâtôs[6] num ea satis cônsîderâssent, quae speculârî erant iûssî, prandiô datô incolumês dîmîsit. {145}

[[58]] Scîpiônî in Âfricam advenientî Masinissa sê coniûnxit cum parvâ equitum turmâ. Syphâx vêrô â Rômânîs ad Poenôs dêfêcerat. Hasdrubal, Poenôrum dux, Syphâxque Scîpiônî sê opposuêrunt, quî utrîusque castra ûnâ nocte perrûpit et incendit. Syphâx ipse captus et vîvus ad Scîpiônem pertrâctus est. {150} Syphâcem in castra addûcî cum esset nûntiâtum, omnis velut ad spectâculum triumphî multitûdô effûsa est; praecêdêbat ipse[1] vinctus, sequêbâtur grex nôbilium Maurôrum. Movêbat omnês fortûna[2] virî, cûius amîcitiam ôlim Scîpiô petierat. Rêgem aliôsque captîvôs Rômam mîsit Scîpiô; Masinissam, quî êgregiê rem Rômânam adiûverat, aureâ corônâ dônâvit. {156}

Haec et aliae, quae sequêbantur, clâdês Carthâginiênsibus tantum terrôris intulêrunt, ut Hannibalem ex Îtaliâ ad tuendam patriam revocârent. Frendêns gemênsque ac vix lacrimîs[3] temperâns is dîcitur lêgâtôrum vêrba audîsse {160} mandâtîsque pâruisse. Respexit saepe Îtaliae lîtora, sêmet accûsâns, quod[4] nôn victôrem exercitum statim ab[5] Cannênsî pûgnâ Rômam dûxisset. Zamam vênerat Hannibal, quae urbs quînque diêrum iter[6] â Carthâgine abest, et nûntium ad Scîpiônem mîsit ut {164} conloquendî sêcum potestâtem faceret. Scîpiô cum conloquium haud abnuisset, diês locusque cônstituitur. Itaque congressî sunt duo clârissimî suae aetâtis ducês. Stetêrunt aliquamdiû tacitî mûtuâque admîrâtiône dêfîxî.[7] Cum vêrô dê condiciônibus pâcis inter eôs nôn convênisset, ad suôs sê recêpêrunt, renûntiantês armîs[8] dêcernendum esse. Commissô deinde proeliô Hannibal {170} victus cum quattuor equitibus fûgit. Cêterum[9] cônstat [[59]] utrumque dê alterô cônfessum esse nec melius înstruî aciem nec âcrius potuisse pûgnârî.

Carthâginiênsês metû perculsî[1] ad petendam pâcem ôrâtôrês mittunt trîgintâ cîvitâtis prîncipês. Quî ubi in castra Rômâna {175} vênêrunt, veniam cîvitâtî petêbant nôn culpam pûrgantês,[2] sed initium culpae in Hannibalem trânsferentês.[2] Victîs lêgês imposuit Scîpiô. Lêgâtî, cum nûllâs condiciônês recûsârent, Rômam profectî sunt, ut, quae â Scîpiône pacta[3] essent, ea patrum ac populî auctôritâte cônfîrmârentur. Ita pâce terrâ marîque {180} partâ,[4] Scîpiô exercitû in nâvês impositô Rômam revertit. Ad quem advenientem concursus ingêns factus est; effûsa nôn ex urbibus modo, sed etiam ex agrîs multitûdô viam obsidêbat. Scîpiô inter grâtulantium plausûs triumphô omnium[5] clârissimô urbem est invectus prîmusque nômine victae â sê gentis est {185} nôbilitâtus Âfricânusque appellâtus.

Ex hîs rêbus gestîs virum eum esse virtûtis dîvînae vulgô crêditum est. Id etiam dîcere haud piget,[6] quod scrîptôrês dê eô litterîs mandâvêrunt, Scîpiônem cônsuêvisse, priusquam dîlûcêsceret, in Capitôlium[7] ventitâre ac iubêre {190} aperîrî cellam Iovis ibi sôlum diû dêmorârî, quasi cônsultantem dê rê pûblicâ cum Iove: aedituôsque êius templî saepe esse mîrâtôs, quod eum id[8] temporis in Capitôlium ingredientem canês, semper in aliôs saevientês, {195} nôn lâtrârent. Hâs vulgî dê Scîpiône opîniônês cônfîrmâre atque approbâre vidêbantur dicta factaque êius plêraque admîranda, ex quibus est ûnum hûiuscemodî. Adsidêbat oppûgnâbatque oppidum [[60]] in Hispâniâ, sitû moenibusque ac dêfênsôribus validum et {200} mûnîtum, rê etiam cibâriâ côpiôsum, neque ûlla êius potiundî spês erat. Quôdam diê iûs in castrîs sedêns dîcêbat Scîpiô atque ex eô locô id oppidum procul vidêbâtur. Tum ê[1] mîlitibus, quî in iûre apud eum stâbant, interrogâvit quispiam ex môre in[2] quem diem locumque vadês sistî iubêret. Et Scîpiô manum ad {205} ipsam oppidî, quod obsidêbâtur, arcem prôtendêns, "Perendiê" inquit "sêsê[3] sistant illô in locô," atque ita factum. Diê[4] tertiâ, in quam vadês sistî iusserat, oppidum captum est. Eôdem diê in arce êius oppidî iûs dîxit.

Hannibal, â Scîpiône victus suîsque invîsus, ad Antiochum, {210} Syriae rêgem, cônfûgit eumque hostem Rômânîs fêcit. Missî sunt Rômâ lêgâtî ad Antiochum, in quibus erat Scîpiô Âfricânus, quî cum Hannibale Ephesî[5] conlocûtus ab eô quaesîvit, quem fuisse mâximum imperâtôrem crêderet. Respondit Hannibal Alexandrum, Macedonum rêgem, mâximum sibi vidêrî, quod {215} parvâ manû innumerâbilês exercitûs fûdisset. Quaerentî deinde, quem secundum pôneret, "Pyrrhum" inquit, "quod prîmus castra[6] mêtârî docuit nêmôque illô[7] êlegantius loca[8] cêpit et praesidia dêposuit." Scîscitantî dênique quem tertium dûceret, sêmet ipsum dîxit. Tum rîdêns Scîpiô "Quidnam tû dîcerês[9]" inquit "sî mê {220} vîcissês[9]?" "Tum[10] mê vêrô" respondit Hannibal "et ante Alexandrum et ante Pyrrhum et ante omnês aliôs imperâtôrês posuissem.[9]" Ita imprôvîsô adsentâtiônis genere Scîpiônem ê grege imperâtôrum velut inaestimâbilem sêcernêbat.

[[61]] Scîpiô ipse fertur quondam dîxisse, cum eum quîdam parum {225} pûgnâcem dîcerent, "Imperâtôrem mê mâter, nôn bellâtôrem[1] peperit.[2]" Îdem dîcere solitus est nôn sôlum dandam esse viam fugientibus, sed etiam mûniendam.

Dêcrêtô adversus Antiochum bellô[3] cum Syria prôvincia {229} obvênisset Lûciô Scîpiônî, quia parum in eô putâbâtur esse animî,[4] parum rôboris,[4] senâtus gerendî hûius bellî cûram mandârî volêbat conlêgae êius C. Laeliô. Surgêns tunc Scîpiô Âfricânus, frâter mâior Lûciî Scîpiônis, illam familiae îgnôminiam dêprecâtus est: dîxit in frâtre suô summam esse virtûtem, summum cônsilium sêque eî lêgâtum fore prômîsit. Quod cum ab eô esset {235} dictum, nihil[5] est dê Lûciî Scîpiônis prôvinciâ commûtâtum: itaque frâter nâtû mâior minôrî lêgâtus in Asiam profectus est et tam diû eum cônsiliô operâque adiûvit, dônec triumphum ille et côgnômen Asiâticî peperisset.

Eôdem bellô fîlius Scîpiônis Âfricânî captus est et ad Antiochum dêductus. Benîgnê et lîberâliter adulêscentem rêx habuit,[6] {241} quamquam ab êius patre tum[7] mâximê fînibus imperiî pellêbâtur. Cum deinde pâcem Antiochus â Rômânîs peteret, lêgâtus êius Pûblium Scîpiônem adiit eîque fîlium sine pretiô redditûrum rêgem dîxit, sî per eum pâcem impetrâsset.[8] Cuî Scîpiô respondit "Abî, nûntiâ rêgî, mê prô tantô mûnere grâtiâs[9] agere; sed {246} nunc aliam grâtiam nôn possum referre, quam ut eî suâdeam[10] ut bellô absistat et pâcis condiciônem nûllam recûset." Pâx nôn convênit[11]; tamen Antiochus Scîpiônî fîlium remîsit tantîque virî mâiestâtem venerârî quam dolôrem suum ulcîscî mâluit. {250}

Victô Antiochô cum praedae ratiô â L. Scîpiône repôscerêtur, [[62]] Âfricânus prôlâtum[1] ab eô librum, quô[2] acceptae et expênsae summae continêbantur et refellî inimîcôrum accûsâtiô poterat, discerpsit, indîgnâtus[3] dê eâ rê dubitârî, quae sub ipsô lêgâtô administrâta esset. Quîn etiam hunc[4] in modum verba fêcit: {255} "Nôn[5] est quod quaerâtis, patrês cônscrîptî, num parvam pecûniam in aerârium rettulerim, quî anteâ illud Pûnicô aurô replêverim, neque mea innocentia potest in dubium vocârî. Cum Âfricam tôtam potestâtî vestrae subiêcerim, nihil ex eâ praeter côgnômen rettulî. Nôn igitur mê Pûnicae, nôn frâtrem meum {260} Asiâticae gazae avârum reddidêrunt; sed uterque nostrum[6] invidiâ quam pecûniâ est locuplêtior." Tam cônstantem dêfênsiônem Scîpiônis ûniversus senâtus comprobâvit.

[Illustration: CORÔNA TRIUMPHÂLIS]

Deinde Scîpiônî Âfricânô duo tribûnî plêbis diem dîxêrunt, quod praedâ ex Antiochô captâ aerârium fraudâsset. Ubi causae {265} dîcendae diês vênit, Scîpiô mâgnâ hominum frequentiâ in Forum est dêductus. Iussus causam dîcere rôstra cônscendit et, corônâ[7] triumphâlî capitî suô impositâ, "Hôc ego diê" inquit "Hannibalem Poenum, imperiô nostrô inimîcissimum, mâgnô proeliô vîcî in terrâ {270} Âfricâ pâcemque nôbîs et victôriam peperî înspêrâbilem. Nê[8] igitur sîmus adversus deôs ingrâtî, sed cênseô relinquâmus[9] nebulônês hôs eâmusque nunc prôtinus in Capitôlium Iovî optimô mâximô supplicâtum." Â rôstrîs in Capitôlium âscendit; {275} simul sê ûniversa côntiô ab accûsâtôribus âvertit et secûta Scîpiônem [[63]] est, nec quisquam praeter praecônem, quî reum citâbat, cum tribûnîs remânsit. Celebrâtior is diês favôre[1] hominum fuit, quam quô[2] triumphâns dê Syphâce rêge et Carthâginiênsibus urbem est ingressus. Inde, nê amplius tribûnîciîs iniûriîs vexârêtur, in {280} Lîternînum concessit, ubi reliquam êgit aetâtem sine urbis dêsîderiô.

Cum in Lîternînâ vîllâ sê continêret, complûrês praedônum ducês ad eum videndum forte cônfluxêrunt. Quôs cum ad vim faciendam venîre exîstimâsset, praesidium servôrum in têctô conlocâvit aliaque parâbat, quae[3] ad eôs repellendôs opus erant. Quod ubi praedônês animadvertêrunt, abiectîs armîs iânuae {286} appropinquant et clârâ vôce nûntiant Scîpiônî sê nôn vîtae êius hostês, sed virtûtis admîrâtôrês vênisse, cônspectum[4] tantî virî, quasi caeleste aliquod beneficium, expetentês; proinde nê[5] gravârêtur sê spectandum praebêre. Haec postquam audîvit Scîpiô, forês {290} reserârî eôsque intrôdûcî iussit. Illî postês iânuae tamquam religiôsissimam âram venerâtî, cupidê Scîpiônis dextram apprehendêrunt ac diû deôsculâtî sunt; deinde positîs ante vêstibulum dônîs laetî, quod sibi Scîpiônem ut vidêrent contigisset, domum revertêrunt. Paulô post mortuus est Scîpiô moriênsque ab uxôre {295} petiit nê corpus suum Rômam referrêtur.

pass.; 'they dined.' 56.5: #lectô . . . accubuêrunt# (_accumbô_): the writer has in mind the Roman custom, according to which men reclined at meals, supporting themselves on the left elbow. Three persons or more occupied the same couch. 56.6: #iam dûdum cupiêbat#: 'had long desired.' _Iam diû_, _iam dûdum_, and _iam prîdem_ give to the _present_ the force of the English _perfect_, to the _imperfect_ the force of the English _pluperfect_. 56.7: Sc. _êius_: 'of him present' = 'now that he met him face to face.' 56.8: #cultus# (_colô_) #munditiîs#: '(too) elegantly adorned.' How literally? 56.9: #dê . . . remissô#: 'for the release of his nephew.' For the construction, see p. 5, n. 15. 56.10: _quaerô_. 56.11: #oblâtam# (_offerô_): 'now that it was at last offered.' 56.12: 'the legal time'; _lêgitima aetâs_, l. 11. In later days forty-three was the legal age. 57.1: See p. 5, n. 3. 57.2: Sc. _diê_, for the gender of which, as in _diês, quae dicta erat_, l. 127, see Vocab., _diês_. 57.3: For mood and tense, see p. 6, n. 1. What did Scipio say? 57.4: 'pitched,' lit. 'measured.' The Roman camp was always laid out with great care, according to a fixed plan, and was carefully fortified, even if the stay was to last but one night. 57.5: The participles = rel. clauses: see p. xxiv, L 1. 57.6: #interrogâtôs# (sc. _eôs_) #. . . dîmîsit# = _interrogâvit (eôs) . . . et . . . dîmîsit_, or _cum (eôs) . . . interrogâsset, . . . dîmîsit_. 58.1: = Syphax. For _ipse_ referring to the principal personage, see also I, 5, and II, 4 [[notes 2.5 and 5.1]]. 58.2: 'misfortune.' Cf. note on _id aetâtis_, l. 66. 60.1: Join #ê mîlitibus# with #quispiam#, l. 204. 60.2: #in . . . iubêret#: 'when and where he bade (the accused) appear for trial.' #vadês sistî# is the passive of _vadês sistere_, a legal phrase = 'to make one's bail stand,' i.e. to make it effective, and so 'to stand trial.' _Sistere_ often means 'to produce in court,' as in l. 207. 60.3: #sêsê sistant#: 'let them produce themselves,' i.e. appear for trial. 60.4: #Diê tertiâ# = _perendiê_, l. 206. In counting days, the Romans usually included the day from which they started. 60.5: locative. 60.6: Cf. n. on _castra mêtâtus est_, l. 140. 60.7: #illô êlegantius#: 'more judiciously than he.' For #illô#, see p. 10, n. 18. 60.8: Sc. _castrîs_. 60.9: See p. 47, n. 12. #dîcerês# is imperfect, as referring to present time; the other verbs denote past time. 60.10: 'in that event'; = _sî tê vîcissem_. 61.1: 'a (mere) fighter.' 61.2: _pariô_. 61.3: This war lasted from 192 to 190. 61.4: partitive gen. with #parum#, which is here a noun. In l. 225 it was an adverb. 61.5: #nihil . . . commûtâtum#: 'no change was made.' Note that #nihil# is an adverbial acc. of degree, and that #commûtâtum est# is impersonal. 61.6: 'treated.' 61.7: #tum mâximê#: 'at that very moment.' 61.8: Explain mood and tense. 61.9: Distinguish between _grâtiâs agere_ and _grâtiam referre_. 61.10: Notice that suâdeô = merely 'to advise'; 'to persuade' is _persuâdeô_. 61.11: 'was not arranged.' 62.1: = _quî prôlâtus erat_; cf. p. xxiv, L 1. 62.2: abl. of means (though rendered 'in which') both with #continêbantur# and #refellî poterat#. 62.3: #indîgnâtus . . . dubitârî#: 'angry because doubts were raised.' For the infin. see p. 19, n. 6. 62.4: See p. 16, n. 9. #verba fêcit#: 'he delivered a speech.' 62.5: #Nôn . . . quaerâtis#: 'there is no reason why you should ask'; lit., 'there is not (anything) as to which,' etc. H 591, 4 (503, 1, N. 2): M 836: A 320, _a_: G 631, 2: B 283, 2. 62.6: _nostrum_, like _vestrum_, is regularly used only as a partitive gen. 62.7: A crown of laurel, worn by the general at his triumph. 62.8: #Nê . . . sîmus#: cf. p. 31, n. 9. 62.9: (_ut_) #relinquâmus . . . eâmus# is a substantive clause of purpose. For the omission of _ut_ see H 565, 4 (499, 2): M 781: A 331, _f_, R.: G 546, R. 2: B 295, 8. 63.1: abl. of specification. 63.2: #quô# (sc. _diê_) = _eô diê quô_. 63.3: #quae . . . opus erant#: 'which were necessary'; lit. 'which were a necessity.' For a very different construction with _opus_, cf. _nihil opus esse . . . eô cîve_, XV, 22, and note. 63.4: #cônspectum . . . expetentês#: 'craving a chance to see so great a man, as a sort of heaven-sent favor.' 63.5: #nê . . . gravârêtur#: the subjunctive is used here in indir. disc., as representing an imperative of the direct: H 642, 4 (523, III): M 1023: A 339: G 652: B 316.]

#XXII. Tiberius Gracchus et Gaius Gracchus# [[stripped text]]

Tiberius et Gaius Gracchi Scipionis Africani ex filia nepotes erant. Horum adulescentia bonis artibus et magna omnium spe exacta est: ad egregiam enim indolem optima accedebat educatio. Erant enim diligentia Corneliae matris a pueris docti et Graecis litteris eruditi. Maximum matronis ornamentum esse liberos bene institutos merito putabat mater illa sapientissima. Cum Campana matrona, apud illam hospita, ornamenta sua, illo saeculo pulcherrima, ostentaret ei muliebriter, Cornelia traxit eam sermone quousque e schola redirent liberi. Quos reversos hospitae ostendens, "Haec" inquit "mea ornamenta sunt." Nihil quidem his adulescentibus neque a natura neque a doctrina defuit; sed ambo rem publicam, quam tueri poterant, perturbare maluerunt.

Tiberius Gracchus, tribunus plebis creatus, a senatu descivit: populi favorem profusis largitionibus sibi conciliavit; agros plebi dividebat; provincias novis coloniis replebat. Cum autem tribuniciam potestatem sibi prorogari vellet et palam dictitasset, interempto senatu omnia per plebem agi debere, viam sibi ad regnum parare videbatur. Quare cum convocati patres deliberarent quidnam faciendum esset, statim Tiberius Capitolium petit, manum ad caput referens, quo signo salutem suam populo commendabat. Hoc nobilitas ita accepit, quasi diadema posceret, segniterque cessante consule, Scipio Nasica, cum esset consobrinus Tiberii Gracchi, patriam cognationi praeferens sublata dextra proclamavit: "Qui rem publicam salvam esse volunt, me sequantur!" Dein optimates, senatus atque equestris ordinis pars maior in Gracchum inruunt, qui fugiens decurrensque Clivo Capitolino fragmento subsellii ictus vitam, quam gloriosissime degere potuerat, immatura morte finivit. Mortui Tiberii corpus in flumen proiectum est.

Gaium Gracchum idem furor, qui fratrem, Tiberium, occupavit. Tribunatum enim adeptus, seu vindicandae fraternae necis, seu comparandae regiae potentiae causa, pessima coepit inire consilia: maximas largitiones fecit; aerarium effudit: legem de frumento plebi dividendo tulit: civitatem omnibus Italicis dabat. His Gracchi consiliis quanta poterant contentione obsistebant omnes boni, in quibus maxime Piso, vir consularis. Is cum multa contra legem frumentariam dixisset, lege tamen lata ad frumentum cum ceteris accipiendum venit. Gracchus ubi animadvertit in contione Pisonem stantem, eum sic compellavit audiente populo Romano: "Qui tibi constas, Piso, cum ea lege frumentum petas, quam dissuasisti?" Cui Piso "Nolim quidem, Gracche" inquit, "mea bona tibi viritim dividere liceat; sed si facies, partem petam." Quo responso aperte declaravit vir gravis et sapiens lege, quam tulerat Gracchus, patrimonium publicum dissipari.

Decretum a senatu est ut videret consul Opimius ne quid detrimenti res publica caperet: quod nisi in maximo discrimine decerni non solebat. Gaius Gracchus, armata familia, Aventinum occupavit. Consul, vocato ad arma populo, Gaium aggressus est, qui pulsus profugit et, cum iam comprehenderetur, iugulum servo praebuit, qui dominum et mox semet ipsum super domini corpus interemit. Ut Tiberii Gracchi antea corpus, ita Gaii mira crudelitate victorum in Tiberim deiectum est. Caput autem a Septimuleio, amico Gracchi, ad Opimium relatum auro repensum fertur. Sunt qui tradunt infuso plumbo eum partem capitis, quo gravius efficeretur, explesse.

Occiso Tiberio Graccho cum senatus consulibus mandasset, ut in eos, qui cum Graccho consenserant, animadverteretur, Blosius quidam, Tiberii amicus, pro se deprecatum venit, hanc, ut sibi ignosceretur, causam adferens, quod tanti Gracchum fecisset, ut, quidquid ille vellet, sibi faciendum putaret. Tum consul "Quid?" inquit "si te Gracchus templo Iovis in Capitolio faces subdere iussisset, obsecuturusne voluntati illius fuisses propter istam, quam iactas, familiaritatem?" "Numquam" inquit Blosius "voluisset id quidem, sed si voluisset, paruissem." Nefaria est ea vox, nulla enim est excusatio peccati, si amici causa peccaveris.

Exstat Gaii Gracchi e Sardinia Romam reversi oratio, in qua cum alia tum haec de se narrat: "Versatus sum in provincia, quomodo ex usu vestro existimabam esse, non quomodo ambitioni meae conducere arbitrabar. Nemo possit vere dicere assem aut eo plus in muneribus me accepisse aut mea causa quemquam sumptum fecisse. Zonas, quas Roma proficiscens plenas argenti extuli, eas ex provincia inanes rettuli. Alii amphoras, quas vini plenas extulerunt, eas argento repletas domum reportarunt."

#XXII. Tiberius Gracchus et Gâius Gracchus# [[as printed]]

[Footnotes: XXII (pages 63-67)

63.6: When two persons of the same name are mentioned together, the cognomen is usually put in the plural. 63.7: Africanus Maior. 63.8: Her brother was the adoptive father of the younger Scipio Africanus. The Gracchi were thus connected with two of the most distinguished of the Roman clans, the Cornelian and the Aemilian. 64.1: #â puerîs#: we say, 'from _childhood_.' 64.2: 'literature'; abl. of means. 64.3: 'guest.' 64.4: #illô saeculô#: temporal abl. We say: 'for that age.' The writer of these words was familiar with the extraordinary luxury and extravagance that marked the later history of Rome. 64.5: 'with womanish pride.' A tone of contempt often attaches to _mulier_ and its derivatives. 64.6: construed here like _dônec_, p. 39, n. 9. 64.7: Cf. p. 28, n. 3. 64.8: #sed . . . mâluêrunt#: this whole account of the Gracchi was manifestly written by one who sympathized with the senatorial or aristocratic party. Modern scholars are divided in their interpretations of the motives of the Gracchi. 64.9: The reference is to the _ager pûblicus_, or land gained in conquest. It belonged in theory to the state, but the greater part of it had fallen into the hands of wealthy capitalists, who, though possessing no legal title to the land, yet regarded it as their own, and resented any attempt to interfere with their occupancy. Meanwhile, the number of small landholders was constantly decreasing. These circumstances tended to drive numbers of poor people to the cities, especially Rome. The universal employment of slave labor aggravated the trouble by shutting the poor out from honest labor. Tiberius attempted to remedy these evils by limiting the number of acres of the public land which might be held by any individual and by distributing the lands thus redeemed among the poorer classes. 64.10: These colonies were intended to aid in relieving the distress at Rome by removing part of the population and supplying such persons with lands. 64.11: It was a general rule that no magistrate should hold the same office for two successive terms. Thus no man could be reëlected consul until ten years after the expiration of the first term. When Tiberius, at the end of his year as tribune, presented himself for reëlection, the aristocrats appealed to this rule. Gracchus might have replied that the rule had often been set aside under special circumstances. Still, on the whole, his conduct seems to have been unconstitutional. 65.1: This statement is probably wholly false. As the champions of the poor against the rich, the Gracchi were hated by the aristocrats, and received no favors at the hands of Roman historians. 65.2: #Hôc . . . pôsceret#: 'The nobles interpreted this to mean that he was demanding a kingly crown.' #pôsceret# is subjunctive as giving in indirect discourse the thought of the nobles; cf. p. 3, n. 6. 65.3: 'although.' 65.4: See Vocab., _equestris_ and _eques_. 65.5: #dêgere potuerat#: 'he might have spent.' Cf. _tuêrî poterant_, l. 12. 65.6: _adipîscor_. 65.7: #aerârium effûdit#: 'he wasted (the money in) the treasury.' The reference is to the corn law mentioned in the next sentence. This entitled all citizens residing in Rome to a certain measure of corn monthly for less than the market price. The distribution was thus a constant drain upon the treasury. 65.8: 'citizenship.' 65.9: 'tried to give.' The imperfect tense, like the present, often denotes attempted action; cf. _dîvidêbat_, l. 16, and _commendâbat_, l. 22. He was unable to carry the law, as the citizens of Rome itself were jealous of any extension of the franchise. The Italians did not obtain citizenship till 89 B.C. 65.10: #quantâ . . . contentiône#: 'with the greatest possible energy.' Cf. _quantô potuit apparâtû_, IX, 39, and note. 66.1: #omnês bonî#: 'all loyal citizens.' _bonî_, like _optimâtês_, often has this political meaning. Cf. the derivation of _aristocracy_. 66.2: Sc. _obsistêbat_. 66.3: #Quî . . . cônstâs#: 'How do you explain your conduct?' How literally? See (4) _quî_ in vocabulary. 66.4: #Nôlim#: 'I should hardly desire'; lit. 'I should be unwilling.' The subjunctive is often thus used in a modest assertion: H 556 (486, N. 1): M 719: A 311, _b_: G 257, 2: B 280, 1. Cf. _possit_, l. 72. Often, as here, the modesty is assumed ironically. 66.5: Join with #liceat#. 66.6: #ut . . . caperet#: this was the formula by which the senate conferred unlimited power upon the consuls. Explain the subjunctives #vidêret# and #caperet#, and give the words of the decree as passed by the senate. 66.7: here 'household.' 66.8: #iam comprehenderêtur#: 'was on the point of being arrested.' 66.9: #aurô . . . fertur#: 'is said to have been paid for with gold.' 66.10: #Sunt quî trâdunt#: 'there are (those) who relate,' i.e. 'some say.' 66.11: #infûsô plumbô#: 'by pouring in lead.' Cf. p. xxiii, K 8. It is said that Opimius had promised to pay its weight in gold for the head of Gaius. 66.12: = _explêvisse_. 67.1: #in eôs . . . animadverterêtur#: 'punishment should be visited upon those.' 67.2: Cf. p. xviii, E 6. 67.3: #ut . . . îgnôscerêtur#: a result clause, dependent on #causam#: 'a reason as a result of which he _ought to be pardoned_.' The subjunctive at times expresses necessity or obligation and propriety. 67.4: #tantî . . . fêcisset#: 'he had so highly esteemed Gracchus.' #tantî# is a so-called gen. of price or value: H 448, 1 (405): M 576: A 252, _a_: G 380: B 203, 3. For _fêcisset_, cf. p. 14, n. 1. 67.5: Cf. p. 47, n. 12. 67.6: #quidem# emphasizes #id#. This emphasis in English would be indicated by the stress of the voice, thus: 'he never would have dreamed of _that_.' Cf. _Nôlim quidem_ above, l. 42. 67.7: #cum . . . tum#: 'not only . . . but also.' 67.8: #ex ûsû vestrô#: 'to your interests.' 67.9: 'a red cent,' 'a farthing,' as we say. 67.10: _sûmptum facere_ = 'to be put to expense.' 67.11: Verbs and adjectives denoting fulness and want are construed with either the gen. or the abl., the abl. in reality expressing means.]

#XXIII. Gaius Marius# [[stripped text]]

C. Marius, humili loco natus, militiae tirocinium in Hispania duce Scipione posuit. Erat imprimis Scipioni carus ob singularem virtutem et impigram ad pericula et labores alacritatem. Cum aliquando inter cenam Scipionem quidam interrogasset, si quid illi accidisset, quemnam res publica aeque magnum habitura esset imperatorem, Scipio, percusso leniter Marii umero, "Fortasse hunc" inquit. Quo dicto excitatus Marius dignos rebus, quas postea gessit, spiritus concepit.

Q. Metellum in Numidiam contra Iugurtham missum, cuius legatus erat, cum ab eo Romam missus esset, apud populum Romanum criminatus est bellum ducere: si se consulem fecissent, brevi tempore aut vivum aut mortuum Iugurtham se in potestatem populi Romani redacturum. Itaque creatus est consul et in Metelli locum suffectus. Bellum ab illo prospere coeptum confecit. Iugurtha ad Gaetulos perfugerat eorumque regem Bocchum adversus Romanos concitaverat. Marius Gaetulos et Bocchum aggressus fudit; castellum in excelsa ripa positum, ubi regii thesauri erant, non sine multo labore expugnavit. Bocchus, bello defessus, legatos ad Marium misit, pacem orantes. Sulla quaestor, a Mario ad regem remissus, Boccho persuasit ut Iugurtham Romanis traderet. Iugurtha igitur vinctus ad Marium deductus est; quem Marius triumphans ante currum egit et in carcerem caenosum inclusit. Quo cum Iugurtha detracta veste ingrederetur, os ridentis in modum diduxisse et stupens similisque desipienti exclamasse fertur: "Pro! quam frigidum est vestrum balneum!" Paucis diebus post in carcere necatus est.

Marius post bellum Numidicum iterum consul creatus bellumque ei contra Cimbros et Teutones decretum est. Hi novi hostes, ab extremis Germaniae finibus profugi, novas sedes quaerebant, exclusique Gallia et Hispania cum in Italiam remigrarent, a Romanis ut aliquid sibi terrae darent petierunt. Repulsi, quod nequiverant precibus, armis petere constituunt. Tres duces Romani impetus barbarorum non sustinuerunt. Omnes fugati, exuti castris. Actum erat de imperio Romano, nisi Marius fuisset. Hic primo Teutones sub ipsis Alpium radicibus adsecutus proelio oppressit. Vallem fluviumque medium hostes tenebant: Romanis aquarum nulla copia. Aucta necessitate virtus causa victoriae fuit. Nam flagitante aquam exercitu Marius "Viri" inquit "estis, en illic aquam habetis." Itaque tanto ardore pugnatum est eaque caedes hostium fuit, ut Romani victores de cruento flumine non plus aquae biberent quam sanguinis barbarorum. Caesa traduntur hostium ducenta milia, capta nonaginta. Rex ipse Teutobochus in proximo saltu comprehensus insigne spectaculum triumphi fuit: quippe vir proceritatis eximiae super tropaea ipsa eminebat.

Deletis Teutonibus, C. Marius in Cimbros se convertit. Qui cum ex alia parte Italiam ingressi Athesim flumen non ponte nec navibus, sed iniectis arborum truncis, velut aggere, traiecissent, occurrit iis C. Marius. Cimbri legatos ad consulem miserunt, agros urbesque sibi et fratribus postulantes, Teutonum enim cladem ignorabant. Quaerente Mario quos illi fratres dicerent, cum Teutones nominassent, ridens Marius "Omittite" inquit "fratres; tenent hi acceptam a nobis terram aeternumque tenebunt." Tum legati se ludibrio haberi sentientes ultionem Mario minati sunt, simul atque Teutones advenissent. "Atqui adsunt" inquit Marius "nec sane civile foret vos fratribus vestris non salutatis discedere." Tum vinctos adduci iussit Teutonum duces, qui in proelio capti erant.

His rebus auditis, Cimbri egrediuntur castris et cum paucis suorum ad vallum Romanum adequitans Boiorix, Cimbrorum dux, Marium ad pugnam provocat et diem pugnae a Romanorum imperatore petit. Proximum dedit consul. Marius cum aciem ita instituisset, ut pulvis in oculos et ora hostium ferretur, incredibili strage prostrata est illa Cimbrorum multitudo: caesa traduntur centum octoginta hominum milia. Nec minor cum uxoribus pugna quam cum viris fuit, cum obiectis undique plaustris, desuper, quasi e turribus, lanceis contisque pugnarent. Victae tamen cum missa ad Marium legatione libertatem non impetrassent, suffocatis elisisque infantibus suis aut mutuis conciderunt vulneribus aut vinculo e crinibus suis facto ab arboribus pependerunt. Canes quoque defendere, Cimbris caesis, eorum domos. Marius pro duobus triumphis, qui offerebantur, uno contentus fuit. Primores civitatis, qui ei aliquamdiu ut novo homini ad tantos honores evecto inviderant, conservatam ab eo rem publicam fatebantur. In ipsa acie Marius duas Camertium cohortes, mira virtute vim Cimbrorum sustinentes contra legem civitate donaverat. Quod quidem factum et vere et egregie postea excusavit, dicens inter armorum strepitum verba se iuris civilis exaudire non potuisse.

Illa tempestate primum Romae bellum civile commotum est. Causam bello dedit C. Marius. Cum enim Sulla consul contra Mithridatem, regem Ponti, missus fuisset, Sulpicius, tribunus plebis, legem ad populum tulit ut Sullae imperium abrogaretur, C. Mario bellum decerneretur Mithridaticum. Qua re Sulla commotus cum exercitu ad urbem venit, eam armis occupavit, Sulpicium interfecit, Marium fugavit. Marius hostes persequentes fugiens aliquamdiu in palude delituit. Sed paulo post repertus extractusque, ut erat nudo corpore caenoque oblitus, iniecto in collum loro Minturnas raptus et in custodiam coniectus est. Missus est ad eum occidendum servus publicus, natione Cimber, quem Marius vultus auctoritate deterruit. Cum enim hominem ad se stricto gladio venientem vidisset "Tune, homo," inquit "C. Marium audebis occidere?" Quo audito attonitus ille ac tremens abiecto ferro fugit, Marium se non posse occidere clamitans. Marius deinde ab iis, qui prius eum occidere voluerant, e carcere emissus est.

Accepta navicula in Africam traiecit et in agrum Carthaginiensem pervenit. Ibi cum in locis solitariis sederet, venit ad eum lictor Sextilii praetoris, qui tum Africam obtinebat. Ab hoc, quem numquam laesisset, Marius humanitatis tamen aliquod officium exspectabat; at lictor decedere eum provincia iussit, nisi in se animadverti vellet: torveque intuentem et vocem nullam emittentem Marium rogavit tandem ecquid renuntiari praetori vellet? Marius "Abi" inquit, "nuntia vidisse te Gaium Marium in Carthaginis ruinis sedentem." Duobus clarissimis exemplis de inconstantia rerum humanarum eum admonebat, cum et urbis maximae excidium et viri clarissimi casum ante oculos poneret.

Profecto ad bellum Mithridaticum Sulla, Marius revocatus a Cinna in Italiam rediit, efferatus magis calamitate quam domitus. Cum exercitu Romam ingressus eam caedibus et rapinis vastavit; omnes adversae factionis nobiles variis suppliciorum generibus adfecit: quinque dies continuos totidemque noctes illa scelerum omnium duravit licentia. Hoc tempore admiranda sane populi Romani abstinentia fuit. Cum enim Marius occisorum domos multitudini diripiendas obiecisset, inveniri potuit nemo, qui civili luctu praedam peteret: quae quidem tam misericors continentia plebis tacita quaedam crudelium victorum vituperatio fuit. Tandem Marius, senio et laboribus confectus, in morbum incidit et ingenti omnium laetitia vitam finivit. Cuius viri si examinentur cum virtutibus vitia, haud facile sit dictu utrum bello melior, an pace perniciosior fuerit: namque quam rem publicam armatus servavit, eam primo togatus omni genere fraudis, postremo armis hostiliter evertit.

Erat Marius durior ad humanitatis studia et ingenuarum artium contemptor. Cum aedem Honoris de manubiis hostium vovisset, spreta peregrinorum marmorum nobilitate artificumque Graecorum arte, eam vulgari lapide per artificem Romanum curavit aedificandam. Et Graecas litteras despiciebat, quod doctoribus suis parum ad virtutem profuissent. At idem fortis, validus, adversus dolorem confirmatus. Cum ei varices in crure secarentur, vetuit se adligari. Acrem tamen fuisse doloris morsum ipse ostendit: nam medico, alterum crus postulanti, noluit praebere, quod maiorem esse remedii quem morbi dolorem iudicaret.

[Sidenote: B.C. 88.]

Illâ tempestâte prîmum Rômae bellum cîvîle commôtum est. Causam bellô dedit C. Marius. Cum enim Sulla[1] cônsul contrâ Mithridâtem,[2] rêgem Pontî, missus fuisset, Sulpicius, {85} tribûnus plêbis, lêgem[3] ad populum tulit ut Sullae imperium abrogârêtur, C. Missus est ad eum occîdendum servus[6] pûblicus, nâtiône Cimber, quem Marius vultûs auctôritâte dêterruit. Cum enim hominem ad sê strictô gladiô venientem vîdisset "Tûne, homô," {95} inquit "C. Marium audêbis occîdere?" Quô audîtô attonitus ille ac tremêns abiectô ferrô fûgit, Marium sê nôn posse occîdere clâmitâns. Marius deinde ab iîs, quî prius eum occîdere voluerant, ê carcere êmissus est. {99}

Acceptâ nâviculâ in Âfricam trâiêcit et in agrum Carthâginiênsem pervênit. Ibi cum in locîs sôlitâriîs[7] sedêret, vênit ad eum lîctor Sextiliî praetôris, quî tum Âfricam obtinêbat. Ab hôc, quem[8] numquam laesisset, Marius hûmânitâtis tamen[9] aliquod [[73]] officium exspectâbat; at lîctor dêcêdere eum prôvinciâ iussit, {104} nisi in sê animadvertî vellet: torvêque intuentem et vôcem nûllam êmittentem Marium rogâvit tandem ecquid renûntiârî praetôrî vellet? Marius "Abî" inquit, "nûntiâ vîdisse tê Gâium Marium in Carthâginis ruînîs sedentem." Duôbus clârissimîs exemplîs dê incônstantiâ rêrum hûmânârum eum admonêbat, cum et urbis mâximae excidium et virî clârissimî câsum ante {110} oculôs pôneret.

Profectô ad bellum Mithridâticum Sullâ, Marius revocâtus â Cinnâ[1] in Îtaliam rediit, efferâtus magis calamitâte quam domitus. Cum exercitû Rômam ingressus eam caedibus et rapînîs {114} vâstâvit; omnês adversae factiônis nôbilês variîs[2] suppliciôrum generibus adfêcit: quînque diês continuôs totidemque noctês illa scelerum omnium dûrâvit licentia.[3] Hôc tempore admîranda sânê populî Rômânî abstinentia fuit. Tandem Marius, seniô et labôribus cônfectus, in morbum {122} incidit et ingentî[8] omnium laetitiâ vîtam fînîvit. Cûius virî sî exâminentur cum virtûtibus vitia, haud facile sit dictû[9] utrum bellô melior, an pâce perniciôsior fuerit: namque quam rem {125} pûblicam armâtus[10] servâvit, eam prîmô togâtus[10] omnî genere fraudis, postrêmô armîs hostîliter êvertit.

[[74]] Erat Marius dûrior[1] ad hûmânitâtis[2] studia et ingenuârum[3] artium contemptor. Cum aedem Honôris dê manubiîs hostium {129} vôvisset, sprêtâ[4] peregrînôrum marmorum nôbilitâte artificumque Graecôrum arte, eam vulgârî lapide[5] per artificem Rômânum cûrâvit aedificandam. Et Graecâs litterâs dêspiciêbat, quod[6] doctôribus suîs parum ad virtûtem prôfuissent. At îdem fortis, validus, adversus dolôrem cônfîrmâtus. Cum eî varicês in crûre secârentur, vetuit sê adligârî. Âcrem tamen fuisse dolôris morsum ipse ostendit: nam medicô, alterum crûs pôstulantî, nôluit {136} praebêre, quod mâiôrem esse remediî quem morbî dolôrem

#XXIV. Lucius Cornelius Sulla# [[stripped text]]

138-78 B.C.

Cornelius Sulla cum parvulus a nutrice ferretur, mulier obvia "Salve" inquit "puer tibi et rei publicae tuae felix," et statim quaesita quae haec dixisset, nôn potuit inveniri.

Hic bello Iugurthino quaestor Marii fuit. Qui cum usque ad quaesturae comitia vitam libidine, vino, ludicrae artis amore inquinatam perduxisset, C. Marius consul moleste tulisse traditur, quod sibi gravissimum bellum gerenti tam delicatus quaestor sorte obvenisset. Eiusdem tamen, postquam in Africam venit, virtus enituit. Bello Cimbrico, legatus consulis bonam operam navavit. Consul ipse deinde factus, pulso in exsilium Mario, adversus Mithridatem profectus est. Mithridates enim, Ponticus rex, vir bello acerrimus, virtute eximius, odio in Romanos non inferior Hannibale, occupata Asia necatisque in ea omnibus civibus Romanis, quos quidem eadem die atque hora per omnes civitates interimi iusserat, Europae quoque Italiaeque imminere videbatur. Ac primo Sulla illius praefectos duobus proeliis in Graecia profligavit; dein transgressus in Asiam Mithridatem ipsum fudit; et oppressisset, nisi ad bellum civile adversus Marium festinans qualemcumque pacem componere maluisset. Mithridatem tamen pecunia multavit; Asia aliisque provinciis, quas occupaverat, decedere paternisque finibus contentum esse coegit.

Sulla propter motus urbanos cum victore exercitu Romam properavit; eos, qui Mario favebant, omnes superavit. Nihil autem ea victoria fuit crudelius. Sulla, urbem ingressus et dictator creatus, vel in eos, qui se sponte dediderant, iussit animadverti. Quattuor milia deditorum inermium civium in Circo interfici iussit. Quis autem illos potest computare, quos in urbe passim, quisquis voluit, occidit, donec admoneret Fufidius quidam vivere aliquos debere, ut essent, quibus imperaret. Novo et inaudito exemplo tabulam proscriptionis proposuit, qua nomina eorum, qui occidendi essent, continebantur; cumque omnium orta esset indignatio, postridie plura etiam adiecit nomina. Ingens caesorum fuit multitudo. Nec solum in eos saevivit, qui armis contra se dimicavissent, sed etiam quieti animi cives propter pecuniae magnitudinem proscriptorum numero adiecit. Civis quidam innoxius, cui fundus in agro Albano erat, cum legens proscriptorum nomina se quoque videret ascriptum, "Vae" inquit "misero mihi! me fundus Albanus persequitur." Neque longe progressus a quodam, qui eum agnoverat, confossus est.

Depulsis prostratisque inimicorum partibus Sulla Felicem se edicto appellavit, cumque eius uxor geminos eodem tunc partu edidisset, puerum Faustum puellamque Faustam nominari voluit. Sed paucis annis post repente contra omnium exspectationem dictaturam deposuit. Dimissis lictoribus diu in Foro cum amicis deambulavit. Stupebat populus eum privatum videns, cuius modo tam formidolosa fuerat potestas; quodque non minus mirandum fuit, privato ei non solum salus, sed etiam dignitas constitit, qui cives innumeros occiderat. Unus adulescens fuit, qui auderet queri et recedentem usque ad fores domus maledictis incessere. Atque ille, cuius iram potentissimi viri maximaeque civitates nec effugere nec placare potuerant, unius adulescentuli contumelias patienti animo tulit, id tantum in limine iam dicens: "Hic adulescens efficiet ne quis posthac tale imperium deponat."

Sulla deinde in villam profectus rusticari et venando vitam agere coepit. Ibi morbo correptus interiit, vir ingentis animi, cupidus voluptatum, sed gloriae cupidior; litteris Graecis atque Latinis eruditus et virorum litteratorum adeo amans, ut sedulitatem etiam mali cuiusdam poetae aliquo praemio dignam duxerit: nam cum ille epigramma in eum fecisset eique subiecisset, Sulla statim praemium ei dari iussit, sed ea lege, ne quid postea scriberet. Ante victoriam laudandus, in iis vero, quae secuta sunt, numquam satis vituperandus, urbem enim et Italiam civilis sanguinis fluminibus inundavit. Non solum in vivos saeviit, sed ne mortuis quidem pepercit: nam Gai Marii, cuius, etsi postea hostis, aliquando tamen quaestor fuerat, erutos cineres in flumen proiecit. Qua crudelitate rerum praeclare gestarum gloriam corrupit.

#XXV. Lucius Lucullus# [[stripped text]]

Lucius Lucullus ingeniô, doctrina, virtute fuit insignis. In Asiam quaestor profectus ibi per multos annos admirabili quadam laude provinciae praefuit, deinde absens factus aedilis, continuo praetor, inde ad consulatum promotus est, quem ita gessit, ut omnes diligentiam admirarentur, ingenium agnoscerent. Post ad Mithridaticum bellum missus a senatu non modo opinionem vicit omnium, sed etiam gloriam superiorum ducum. Idque eo fuit mirabilius, quod ab eo laus imperatoria non admodum exspectabatur, qui adulescentiam in forensi opera, quaesturae diuturnum tempus in Asiae pace consumpserat; sed incredibilis quaedam ingenii magnitudo non desideravit usus disciplinam. Itaque cum totum iter et navigationem consumpsisset partim in percontando a peritis, partim in rebus gestis legendis, in Asiam factus imperator venit, cum esset Roma profectus rei militaris rudis.

Lucullus eo bello magnas ac memorabiles res gessit; Mithridatem saepe multis locis fudit; Tigranem, regum maximum, in Armenia vicit, ultimamque bello manum magis noluit imponere, quam non potuit; sed alioqui per omnia laudabilis et bello paene invictus pecuniae cupidini nimium deditus fuit; quam tamen ideo expetebat, ut per luxuriam effunderet. Itaque postquam de Mithridate triumphavit, abiecta omnium rerum cura coepit delicate ac molliter vivere otioque et luxu diffluere: magnifice et immenso sumptu villas aedificavit atque ad eorum usum mare ipsum vexavit. Nam in quibusdam locis moles mari iniecit; in aliis, suffossis montibus, mare in terras induxit, unde eum haud infacete Pompeius Xerxem togatum vocare adsueverat.

Habebat Lucullus villam prospectu et ambulatione pulcherrimam. Quo cum venisset Pompeius, id unum reprehendit, quod ea habitatio esset quidem aestate peramoena, sed hieme minus commoda videretur; cui Lucullus "Putasne" inquit "me minus sapere quam hirundines, quae adveniente hieme sedem commutant?" Villarum magnificentiae respondebat epularum sumptus. Cum aliquando modica ei, utpote soli, cena esset posita, coquum graviter obiurgavit, eique excusanti ac dicenti se non debuisse lautum parare convivium, quod nemo esset ad cenam invitatus, "Quid ais?"

inquit iratus Lucullus. "Nesciebasne Lucullum hodie cenaturum esse apud Lucullum?"

Laudanda est Luculli impensa et studium in libris. Nam et multos et optimos conquisivit eosque liberaliter dedit utendos. Patebat omnibus bibliotheca, et in porticus ei adiectas velut ad Musarum aedem veniebant maxime Graeci tempusque ibi iucunde inter se traducebant ab aliis curis liberi. Saepe cum iis versabatur Lucullus et inter magnam doctorum virorum turbam ambulabat.

The aedileship, however, might be omitted. 78.1: Cf. p. 72, n. 2. Lucullus assumed command against Mithridates in 74 B.C. 78.2: 'surpassed,' 'outstripped.' 78.3: causal abl., explained by #quod . . . exspectâbâtur#. 78.4: 'ability.' 78.5: #forênsî operâ#: 'legal business,' i.e. the practice of law. In or near the Forum were the law courts, as well as business places in general. 78.6: #in Asiae pâce#: 'in Asia, which was then at peace.' 78.7: #quîdam# is often used, as here, to soften a phrase which the writer fears may seem exaggerated. 78.8: #ûsûs dîsciplînam#: 'the training of experience.' 78.9: #iter et nâvigâtiônem#: 'voyage.' 78.10: 'experts.' Sc. #reî mîlitâris#. 78.11: #rêbus gestîs#: 'history'; here, of course, military history especially. 78.12: Cf. our use of the word 'finished.' 78.13: The statements in lines 9-15 are untrue, since Lucullus had served with distinction under Sulla in the first Mithridatic War. 78.14: King of Armenia, and son-in-law of Mithridates, with whom he had formed alliance. 78.15: #ultimam . . . potuit#: 'his failure to put the finishing touches (#ultimam manum#) to the war was due more to unwillingness than to inability.' How literally? Here too the biographer shows his prejudice. Lucullus' failure to end the war was due to the mutiny of his soldiers, who were weary of their incessant exertions, and angry because L. did not permit them to gratify their greed for plunder. 78.16: '(though) praiseworthy.' #invictus# must be similarly translated. 78.17: Cf. p. 18, n. 7. 78.18: 'convenience.' 79.1: #môlês . . . iniêcit#: 'he built huge structures out into the sea.' 79.2: Cf. p. 73, n. 10. Xerxes, king of Persia, made an expedition against Greece in 480 B.C., in the course of which he executed certain important engineering works. 79.3: _adsuêscô_. 79.4: #prôspectû . . . pulcherrimam#: 'with a very beautiful view and promenade.' #prôspectû# and #ambulâtiône# are abl. of specification. 79.5: Why subjunctive? 79.6: #utpote sôlî# = _quod sôlus erat_. In phrases like this Latin suffers from the lack of a present part. to _sum_. 80.1: #dedit ûtendôs#: i.e. loaned them. For #ûtendôs#, see p. 2, n. 18. 80.2: The Muses were patrons of literature in its various forms.]

#XXVI. Gnaeus Pompeius Magnus# [[stripped text]]

Gnaeus Pompeius, stirpis senatoriae, bello civili se et patrem consilio servavit. Cum enim Pompei pater exercitui suo ob avaritiam esset invisus, facta in eum conspiratione, Terentius quidam, Gnaei Pompei filii contubernalis, hunc occidendum suscepit, dum alii tabernaculum patris incenderent. Quae res cum iuveni Pompeio cenanti nuntiata esset, nihil periculo motus solito hilarius bibit et cum Terentio eadem, qua antea, comitate usus est. Deinde cubiculum ingressus clam subduxit se tentorio et firmam patri circumdedit custodiam. Terentius tum destricto ense ad lectum Pompei accessit multisque ictibus stragula percussit. Orta mox seditione Pompeius se in media coniecit agmina, militesque tumultuantes precibus et lacrimis placavit ac duci reconciliavit.

Eodem bello Pompeius partes Sullae secutus ita se gessit ut ab eo maxime diligeretur. Annos tres et viginti natus, ut Sullae auxilio veniret, paterni exercitus reliquias conlegit, statimque dux peritus exstitit. Magnus illius apud militem amor, magna apud omnes admiratio fuit; nullus ei labor taedio, nulla defatigatio molestiae erat. Cibi vinique temperans, somni parcus; inter milites corpus exercens cum alacribus saltu, cum velocibus cursu, cum validis luctando certabat. Tum ad Sullam iter intendit et in eo itinere tres hostium exercitus aut fudit aut sibi adiunxit. Quem ubi Sulla ad se accedere audivit egregiamque sub signis iuventutem aspexit, desiliit ex equo Pompeiumque salutavit imperatorem et postea ei venienti solebat sella adsurgere et caput aperire et equo descendere, quem honorem nemini nisi Pompeio tribuebat.

Postea Pompeius in Siciliam profectus est, ut eam a Carbone, Sullae inimico, occupatam reciperet. Carbo comprehensus et ad Pompeium ductus est: quem Pompeius, etsi Carbo muliebriter mortem extimescens demisse et flebiliter mortem deprecabatur, ad supplicium duci iussit. Longe moderatior fuit Pompeius erga Sthenium, Siciliae cuiusdam civitatis principem. Cum enim in eam civitatem animadvertere decrevisset, quae sibi adversata fuisset, inique eum facturum Sthenius exclamavit, si ob unius culpam omnes puniret. Interroganti Pompeio quisnam ille unus esset, "Ego" inquit Sthenius "qui cives meos ad id induxi." Tam libera voce delectatus Pompeius omnibus et Sthenio ipsi pepercit.

Transgressus inde in Africam Iarbam, Numidiae regem, qui Marii partibus favebat, bello persecutus intra dies quadraginta oppressit et Africam subegit adulescens quattuor et viginti annorum. Deinde cum litterae ei a Sulla redditae essent, quibus exercitu dimisso cum una legione successorem exspectare iubebatur, Pompeius, quamquam aegre id ferebat, tamen paruit et Romam revertit. Revertenti incredibilis hominum multitudo obviam ivit; Sulla quoque laetus eum excepit et Magni cognomine consalutavit. Nihilo minus Pompeio triumphum petenti restitit: neque vero ea re a proposito deterritus est Pompeius aususque dicere plures adorare solem orientem quam occidentem: quo dicto innuebat Sullae potentiam minui, suam crescere. Ea voce audita Sulla, confidentia adulescentis perculsus, "Triumphet! triumphet!" exclamavit.

Metello iam seni et bellum in Hispania segnius gerenti conlega datus Pompeius adversus Sertorium vario eventu dimicavit. Maximum ibi in proelio quodam periculum subiit: cum enim vir vasta corporis magnitudine impetum in eum fecisset, Pompeius manum amputavit; sed multis in eum concurrentibus vulnus in femore accepit et a suis fugientibus desertus in hostium potestate erat. At praeter spem evasit: barbari enim equum eius auro phalerisque eximiis instructum ceperant. Dum igitur praedam inter se altercantes partiuntur, Pompeius eorum manus effugit. Altero proelio cum Metellus Pompeio laboranti auxilio venisset, Sertorius recedere coactus dixisse fertur: "Nisi anus illa supervenisset, ego hunc puerum verberibus castigatum Romam dimisissem." Metellum anum appellabat, quia is, iam senex, ad mollem et effeminatam vitam deflexerat. Sertorio interfecto Pompeius Hispaniam recepit.

Cum piratae illa tempestate maria omnia infestarent et quasdam etiam Italiae urbes diripuissent, ad eos opprimendos cum imperio extraordinario missus est Pompeius. Nimiae viri potentiae obsistebant quidam ex optimatibus et imprimis Quintus Catulus. Qui cum in contione dixisset esse quidem praeclarum virum Cn. Pompeium, sed non esse uni omnia tribuenda, adiecissetque: "Si quid huic acciderit, quem in eius locum substituetis?" summo consensu succlamavit universa contio, "Te, Quinte Catule." Tam honorifico civium testimonio victus Catulus e contione discessit. Pompeius, dispositis per omnes maris recessus navibus, brevi terrarum orbem illa peste liberavit; praedones multis locis victos fudit; eosdem in deditionem acceptos in urbibus et agris procul a mari conlocavit. Nihil hac victoria celerius, nam intra quadragesimum diem piratas toto mari expulit.

Confecto bello piratico, Gnaeus Pompeius contra Mithridatem profectus in Asiam magna celeritate contendit. Proelium cum rege conserere cupiebat, neque opportuna dabatur pugnandi facultas, quia Mithridates interdiu castris se continebat, noctu vero haud tutum erat congredi cum hoste in locis ignotis. Nocte tamen aliquando cum Pompeius Mithridatem aggressus esset, luna magno fuit Romanis adiumento. Quam cum Romani a tergo haberent, umbrae corporum longius proiectae ad primos usque hostium ordines pertinebant, unde decepti regii milites in umbras, tamquam in propinquum hostem, tela mittebant. Victus Mithridates in Pontum profugit. Pharnaces filius bellum ei intulit, qui, occisis a patre fratribus, vitae suae ipse timebat. Mithridates a filio obsessus venenum sumpsit; quod cum tardius subiret, quia adversus venena multis antea medicamentis corpus firmaverat, a milite Gallo, a quo ut adiuvaret se petierat, interfectus est.

Tigrani deinde, Armeniae regi, qui Mithridatis partes secutus erat, Pompeius bellum intulit eumque ad deditionem compulit. Qui cum procubuisset ad genua Pompei, eum erexit, et benignis verbis recreatum diadema, quod abiecerat, capiti reponere iussit, aeque pulchrum esse iudicans et vincere reges et facere. Inde in Iudaeam profectus Romanorum primus Iudaeos domuit, Hierosolyma, caput gentis, cepit, templumque iure victoriae ingressus est. Rebus Asiae compositis, in Italiam versus ad urbem venit, non, ut plerique timuerant, armatus, sed dimisso exercitu, et tertium triumphum biduo duxit. Insignis fuit multis novis inusitatisque ornamentis hic triumphus; sed nihil inlustrius visum, quam quod tribus triumphis tres orbis partes devictae causam praebuerant: Pompeius enim, quod antea contigerat nemini, primum ex Africa, iterum ex Europa, tertio ex Asia triumphavit, felix opinione hominum futurus, si, quem gloriae, eundem vitae finem habuisset neque adversam fortunam esset expertus iam senex.

Posteriore enim tempore orta inter Pompeium et Caesarem gravi dissensione, quod hic superiorem, ille parem ferre non posset, bellum civile exarsit. Caesar infesto exercitu in Italiam venit. Pompeius, relicta urbe ac deinde Italia ipsa, Thessaliam petit et cum eo consules senatusque omnis: quem insecutus Caesar apud Pharsalum acie fudit. Victus Pompeius ad Ptolemaeum, Aegypti regem, cui tutor a senatu datus erat, profugit, qui Pompeium interfici iussit. Latus Pompei sub oculis uxoris et liberorum mucrone confossum est, caput praecisum, truncus in Nilum coniectus. Deinde caput cum anulo ad Caesarem delatum est, qui eo viso lacrimas non continens illud multis pretiosissimisque odoribus cremandum curavit.

Is fuit Pompei post tres consulatus et totidem triumphos vitae exitus. Erant in Pompeio multae et magnae virtutes ac praecipue admiranda frugalitas. Cum ei aegrotanti praecepisset medicus ut turdum ederet, negarent autem servi eam avem usquam aestivo tempore posse reperiri, nisi apud Lucullum, qui turdos domi saginaret, vetuit Pompeius turdum inde peti, medicoque dixit: "Ergo, nisi Lucullus perditus deliciis esset, non viveret Pompeius?" Aliam avem, quae parabilis esset, sibi iussit apponi.

Viris doctis magnum honorem habebat Pompeius. Ex Syria decedens, confecto bello Mithridatico, cum Rhodum venisset, Posidonium cupiit audire; sed cum audivisset eum graviter esse aegrum, quod vehementer eius artus laborarent, voluit tamen nobilissimum philosophum visere. Mos erat ut, consule aedes aliquas ingressuro, lictor fores percuteret, admonens consulem adesse, at Pompeius fores Posidonii percuti honoris causa vetuit. Quem ut vidit et salutavit, moleste se dixit ferre, quod eum non posset audire. At ille "Tu vero" inquit "potes, nec committam ut dolor corporis efficiat ut frustra tantus vir ad me venerit." Itaque cubans graviter et copiose de hoc ipso disputavit: nihil esse bonum nisi quod honestum esset, nihil malum dici posse, quod turpe non esset. Cum vero dolores acriter eum pungerent, saepe "Nihil agis," inquit "dolor! quamvis sis molestus, numquam te esse malum confitebor."

#XXVI. Gnaeus Pompêius Mâgnus# [[as printed]]

[Illustration: POMPEY]

Gnaeus Pompêius,[3] stirpis senâtôriae, bellô[4] cîvîlî sê et patrem cônsiliô servâvit. Cum enim Pompêî pater exercituî suô ob avâritiam esset invîsus, factâ in eum cônspîrâtiône, Terentius quîdam, Gnaeî Pompêî fîliî[5] contubernâlis, hunc[6] {5} occîdendum suscêpit, dum[7] aliî tabernâculum patris incenderent.[7] Quae rês cum iuvenî Pompêiô cênantî nûntiâta esset, nihil perîculô môtus solitô[8] hilarius bibit et cum Terentiô eâdem, quâ[9] anteâ, cômitâte ûsus est. Deinde cubiculum ingressus clam {10} subdûxit sê tentôriô et fîrmam patrî circumdedit cûstôdiam. Terentius tum dêstrictô ênse ad lectum Pompêî accessit multîsque îctibus strâgula percussit.[10] Ortâ mox sêditiône Pompêius sê in [[81]] media coniêcit âgmina, mîlitêsque tumultuantês precibus et lacrimîs plâcâvit ac ducî reconciliâvit. {15}

Eôdem bellô Pompêius partês Sullae secûtus ita sê gessit ut ab eô mâximê dîligerêtur. Annôs três et vîgintî nâtus, ut Sullae auxiliô venîret, paternî exercitûs reliquiâs conlêgit, statimque dux perîtus exstitit.[1] Mâgnus illîus apud mîlitem amor, mâgna apud omnês admîrâtiô fuit; nûllus eî[2] labor taediô,[2] nûlla dêfatîgâtiô {20} molestiae[2] erat. Cibî[3] vînîque[3] temperâns, somnî parcus[4]; inter mîlitês corpus exercêns cum alacribus saltû,[5] cum vêlôcibus cursû,[5] cum validîs luctandô[5] certâbat. Tum ad Sullam iter intendit et in eô itinere três hostium exercitûs aut fûdit aut sibi adiûnxit. Quem ubi Sulla ad sê accêdere audîvit êgregiamque {25} sub sîgnîs iuventûtem âspexit, dêsiliit ex equô Pompêiumque salûtâvit imperâtôrem et posteâ eî[6] venientî solêbat sellâ adsurgere et caput aperîre et equô dêscendere, quem honôrem nêminî nisi Pompêiô tribuêbat.

Posteâ Pompêius in Siciliam profectus est, ut eam â Carbône, {30} Sullae inimîcô, occupâtam reciperet. Carbô comprehênsus et ad Pompêium ductus est: quem Pompêius, etsi Carbô[7] muliebriter mortem extimêscêns dêmissê et flêbiliter mortem dêprecâbâtur, ad supplicium dûcî iussit. Longê moderâtior fuit Pompêius ergâ Sthenium, Siciliae cûiusdam cîvitâtis prîncipem. Cum enim in {35} eam cîvitâtem animadvertere dêcrêvisset, quae[8] sibi adversâta fuisset, inîquê eum factûrum Sthenius exclâmâvit,[9] sî ob ûnîus culpam omnês pûnîret. Interrogantî Pompêiô quisnam ille ûnus esset, "Ego" inquit Sthenius "quî cîvês meôs ad id indûxî." [[82]] Tam lîberâ vôce dêlectâtus Pompêius omnibus et Stheniô ipsî {40} pepercit.[1]

Trânsgressus inde in Âfricam Iarbam, Numidiae rêgem, quî Mariî partibus favêbat, bellô persecûtus intrâ diês quadrâgintâ oppressit et Âfricam subêgit adulêscêns[2] quattuor et vîgintî annôrum. Deinde cum litterae eî â Sullâ redditae essent, quibus {45} exercitû[3] dîmissô cum ûnâ legiône successôrem exspectâre iubêbâtur, Pompêius, quamquam aegrê id ferêbat, tamen pâruit et Rômam revertit. Revertentî incrêdibilis hominum multitûdô obviam îvit; Sulla quoque laetus eum excêpit et Mâgnî côgnômine cônsalûtâvit. Nihilô minus Pompêiô triumphum petentî {50} restitit: neque vêrô eâ rê â prôpositô dêterritus est Pompêius aususque[4] dîcere plûrês adôrâre sôlem orientem quam occidentem: quô dictô innuêbat Sullae potentiam minuî, suam crêscere. Eâ vôce audîtâ Sulla, cônfîdentiâ adulêscentis perculsus,[5] "Triumphet! triumphet!" exclâmâvit. {55}

Metellô[6] iam senî[7] et bellum in Hispâniâ sêgnius gerentî conlêga datus Pompêius adversus Sertôrium variô êventû dîmicâvit. Mâximum ibi in proeliô quôdam perîculum subiit: cum enim vir vâstâ corporis mâgnitûdine impetum in eum fêcisset, Pompêius manum amputâvit; sed multîs[8] in eum concurrentibus vulnus in {60} femore accêpit et â suîs fugientibus dêsertus in[9] hostium potestâte erat. At praeter spem êvâsit: barbarî enim equum êius aurô phalerîsque eximiîs înstrûctum cêperant. Dum igitur praedam inter sê altercantês[10] partiuntur, Pompêius eôrum manûs effûgit. Alterô proeliô cum Metellus Pompêiô labôrantî auxiliô vênisset, {65} Sertôrius recêdere coâctus dîxisse fertur: "Nisi anus illa [[83]] supervênisset,[1] ego hunc puerum verberibus castîgâtum Rômam dîmîsissem."[1] Metellum anum appellâbat, quia is, iam senex,[2] ad mollem et effêminâtam vîtam dêflexerat. Sertôriô interfectô Pompêius Hispâniam recêpit. {70}

[Sidenote: B.C. 67.]

Cum[3] pîrâtae illâ tempestâte maria omnia înfêstârent[3] et quâsdam etiam Îtaliae urbês dîripuissent,[3] ad eôs opprimendôs cum imperiô extraôrdinâriô {75} missus est Pompêius. Nimiae virî potentiae obsistêbant quîdam ex optimâtibus et imprîmîs Quîntus Catulus. Quî cum in côntiône dîxisset esse quidem[4] praeclârum virum Cn. Pompêium, sed[4] nôn esse ûnî omnia tribuenda, adiêcissetque: "Sî quid huîc acciderit, quem in êius locum substituêtis?" summô cônsênsû succlâmâvit {81} ûniversa côntiô, "Tê, Quînte Catule." Tam honôrificô cîvium têstimôniô victus Catulus ê côntiône discessit. Pompêius, dispositîs[5] per omnês maris recessûs nâvibus, brevî terrârum orbem illâ pêste lîberâvit; praedônês multîs locîs victôs fûdit; eôsdem in dêditiônem acceptôs in urbibus et agrîs procul â marî {86} conlocâvit. Nihil hâc victôriâ celerius, nam intrâ quadrâgêsimum diem pîrâtâs tôtô marî expulit.

[Sidenote: B.C. 66.]

Cônfectô bellô pîrâticô, Gnaeus Pompêius contrâ Mithridâtem profectus in Asiam mâgnâ celeritâte contendit. Proelium {90} cum rêge cônserere cupiêbat, neque[6] opportûna dabâtur pûgnandî facultâs, quia Mithridâtês interdiû castrîs sê continêbat, noctû vêrô haud tûtum erat congredî cum hoste in locîs îgnôtîs. Nocte tamen aliquandô cum Pompêius Mithridâtem aggressus esset, lûna mâgnô fuit Rômânîs adiûmentô. Quam cum Rômânî {95} [[84]] â[1] tergô habêrent, umbrae corporum longius prôiectae ad prîmôs ûsque hostium ôrdinês pertinêbant, unde dêceptî rêgiî mîlitês in umbrâs, tamquam in propinquum hostem, têla mittêbant. Victus Mithridâtês in Pontum profûgit. Pharnacês fîlius bellum eî {99} intulit, quî, occîsîs â patre frâtribus, vîtae suae ipse timêbat. Mithridâtês â fîliô obsessus[2] venênum sûmpsit; quod cum tardius subîret, quia adversus venêna multîs anteâ medicâmentîs corpus fîrmâverat, â mîlite Gallô, â[3] quô ut adiuvâret sê petierat, interfectus est.

[Illustration: DIADÊMA]

[Sidenote: B.C. 63.]

Tigrânî deinde, Armeniae rêgî, quî Mithridâtis partês secûtus {105} erat, Pompêius bellum intulit eumque ad dêditiônem compulit. Quî cum prôcubuisset ad genua Pompêî, eum êrêxit,[4] et benîgnîs verbîs recreâtum diadêma, quod abiêcerat, capitî repônere iussit, aequê[5] pulchrum esse iûdicâns et vincere rêgês et {110} facere. Inde in Iûdaeam profectus Rômânôrum prîmus[6] Iûdaeôs domuit, Hierosolyma, caput gentis, cêpit, templumque iûre[7] victôriae ingressus est. Rêbus Asiae {114} compositîs, in Italiam versus[8] ad urbem[9] vênit, nôn, ut plêrîque timuerant, armâtus, sed dîmissô exercitû, et tertium triumphum bîduô[10] dûxit. Însîgnis fuit multîs novîs inûsitâtîsque ôrnâmentîs hîc triumphus; sed nihil inlûstrius vîsum, quam quod[11] tribus triumphîs três orbis partês dêvictae causam praebuerant: Pompêius [[85]] enim, quod[1] anteâ contigerat nêminî, prîmum ex Âfricâ, {120} iterum ex Eurôpâ, tertiô ex Asiâ triumphâvit, fêlîx opîniône hominum futûrus, sî, quem[2] glôriae, eundem vîtae fînem habuisset neque adversam fortûnam esset expertus iam senex.

[Sidenote: B.C. 49.]

Posteriôre enim tempore ortâ inter Pompêium et Caesarem[3] gravî dissênsiône, quod[4] hîc[5] superiôrem, ille[5] parem ferre nôn posset, bellum cîvîle exârsit. Caesar înfêstô[6] exercitû {126} in Îtaliam vênit. Pompêius, relîctâ urbe ac deinde Îtaliâ ipsâ, Thessaliam petit et cum eô cônsulês senâtusque omnis: quem însecûtus Caesar apud Pharsâlum aciê fûdit. Victus Pompêius ad Ptolemaeum, Aegyptî rêgem, cuî tûtor â senâtû datus erat, {130} profûgit, quî Pompêium interficî iussit. Latus Pompêî sub oculîs uxôris et lîberôrum mûcrône cônfossum est, caput praecîsum, truncus in Nîlum coniectus. Deinde caput cum ânulô ad Caesarem dêlâtum est, quî eô vîsô lacrimâs nôn continêns illud multîs pretiôsissimîsque odôribus cremandum cûrâvit. {135}

Is fuit Pompêî post três cônsulâtûs et totidem triumphôs vîtae exitus. Erant in Pompêiô multae et mâgnae virtûtês ac praecipuê admîranda frûgâlitâs. Cum eî aegrôtantî praecêpisset medicus ut turdum ederet, negârent autem[7] servî eam avem ûsquam aestîvô tempore posse reperîrî, nisi apud Lûcullum, quî {140} turdôs domî sagînâret, vetuit Pompêius turdum inde petî, medicôque dîxit: "Ergô,[8] nisi Lûcullus perditus dêliciîs esset, nôn vîveret Pompêius?" Aliam avem, quae parâbilis esset, sibi iussit appônî.

[[86]] Virîs[1] doctîs mâgnum honôrem habêbat Pompêius. Ex Syriâ {145} dêcêdêns, cônfectô bellô Mithridâticô, cum Rhodum vênisset, Posîdônium cupiit audîre[2]; sed cum audîvisset eum graviter esse aegrum, quod[3] vehementer êius artûs labôrârent, voluit tamen nôbilissimum philosophum vîsere. Môs erat ut, cônsule[4] aedês {149} aliquâs ingressûrô, lîctor forês percuteret,[5] admonêns cônsulem adesse, at Pompêius forês Posîdôniî percutî honôris causâ vetuit. Quem ut vîdit et salûtâvit, molestê sê dîxit ferre, quod eum nôn posset audîre. At ille "Tû vêrô" inquit "potes, nec committam ut dolor corporis efficiat[5] ut frûstrâ tantus vir ad mê vênerit.[5]" Itaque cubâns graviter et côpiôsê dê hôc ipsô disputâvit: nihil {155} esse[6] bonum nisi quod honestum esset, nihil malum dîcî posse, quod turpe nôn esset. Cum vêrô dolôrês âcriter eum pungerent, saepe "Nihil agis," inquit "dolor! quamvîs[7] sîs molestus, numquam tê esse malum cônfitêbor."

80.3: See Vocab., _Pompêius_. 80.4: The reference is to the war between Marius and Sulla. See selections XXIV and XXV. 80.5: Cf. _iuvenî_, l. 7. We should say 'the younger.' He was at this time but nineteen years of age. 80.6: #hunc . . . suscêpit#: 'undertook to kill him.' How literally? For #occîdendum#, see p. 2, n. 18. 80.7: #dum#, though meaning 'while' (cf. p. xx, G 2), takes the subjunctive here because of the informal indir. disc. Terenti said: _fîlium . . . suscipiam dum aliî incenditis_. 80.8: #solitô hilarius#: 'with (even) more gaiety than usual.' #solitô# is here a noun. Neuter adj. and part. are often so used. For its case, see p. 10, n. 18. 80.9: #quâ anteâ#: sc. _ûsus erat_. 80.10: _percutiô_. 81.1: 'proved himself.' 81.2: See p. 25, n. 6. 81.3: objective gen. denotes both time and cause; see p. xxiii, K 6. The prefix in #concurrentibus# conveys the idea of 'from every side.' 82.9: #in . . . erat# = _ab hostibus captus est_. 82.10: #altercantês partiuntur#: lit., 'wrangling they divided' = 'they wrangled about the division.' 83.1: Why subjunctive? 83.2: '_though_ already old.' What is the meaning of the change of tense in #dîripuissent#? 83.4: Cf. p. 10, n. 10. 83.5: See p. xxiii, K 10. 83.6: #neque . . . facultâs#: 'but no opportunity,' etc. 84.1: #â tergô#: 'in the rear.' See p. 11, n. 10. 84.2: _obsideô_. 84.3: #â quô . . . petierat#: 'whom he had asked to help him.' How literally? #ut adiuvâret sê# is a substantive clause of purpose and object of _petierat_. See p. 7, n. 20. 84.4: _êrigô_. 84.5: #aequê . . . facere#: lit., 'because he thought it an equally fine thing both to conquer kings and to create them.' The expression is somewhat careless. We would say: 'as glorious to create kings as to conquer them.' #aequê pulchrum# is predicate, #et vincere . . . et facere# subject to #esse#. 84.6: #prîmus . . . domuit#: cf. p. 38, n. 1. 84.7: #iûre victôriae#: 'by right of (i.e. on the strength of) his victory.' 84.8: 'turning'; lit., 'having turned himself.' Cf. n. on _cingitur_, XIII, l. 29. 84.9: 'the City,' i.e. Rome. 84.10: Cf. p. xvii, D 1. 84.11: #quod . . . praebuerant#: 'the fact that the conquest of (the) three parts,' etc. Cf. p. 5, n. 15, and p. xxiv, L 4. 85.1: 'something which'; its antecedent is the clause #prîmum . . . triumphâvit# below. 85.2: With #quem glôriae#, sc. _fînem habuit_. 85.3: The famous C. Julius Caesar, for whom see next selection. 85.4: #quod . . . posset#: 'because (as men said) the one,' etc. For the subjunctive, see p. xxi, H 4. 85.5: #hîc . . . ille#: 'the one (Caesar) . . . the other (Pompey).' 85.6: #înfêstô exercitû#: abl. of accompaniment: H 474, 2, N. 1 (419, III, 1, 1): M 634: A 243, _a_, N.: G 392, R. 1: B 222, 1. 85.7: #autem# contrasts #negârent# with #praecêpisset#. There is a contrast also between #servî# and #medicus#. 85.8: #Ergô . . . Pompêius#? The force of this sentence can be given only by a free rendering, thus: 'Shall it be said, then, that Pompey would not be alive, had not Lucullus ruined himself by his luxury?' 86.1: #Virîs . . . habêbat#: 'he highly honored learned men.' 86.2: _audiô_, like our 'hear,' is often used of listening to lectures or to teachers. 86.3: #quod . . . labôrârent#: i.e. because he had the gout. 86.4: #cônsule . . . ingressûrô#: 'whenever the consul,' etc.; a temporal abl. abs. 86.5: Subjunctive in substantive clauses of result: see p. xix, F 3. 86.6: infinitive, because the clause in which it stands is in apposition to #hôc#. This use of the infin. is common. 86.7: #quamvîs sîs#: concessive subjunctive: H 586, II (515, III): M 875: A 313, _a_: G 606: B 308.]

#XXVII. Gaius Iulius Caesar# [[stripped text]]

C. Iulius Caesar, nobilissima Iuliorum genitus familia, annum agens sextum et decimum patrem amisit. Corneliam, Cinnae filiam, duxit uxorem; cuius pater cum esset Sullae inimicissimus, is Caesarem voluit compellere ut eam repudiaret; neque id potuit efficere. Qua re Caesar bonis spoliatus cum etiam ad necem quaereretur, mutata veste nocte urbe elapsus est et quamquam tunc quartanae morbo laborabat, prope per singulas noctes latebras commutare cogebatur; et comprehensus a Sullae liberto, ne ad Sullam perduceretur, vix data pecunia evasit. Postremo per propinquos et adfines suos veniam impetravit. Satis constat Sullam, cum deprecantibus amicissimis et ornatissimis viris aliquamdiu denegasset atque illi pertinaciter contenderent, expugnatum tandem proclamasse, vincerent, dummodo scirent eum, quem incolumem tanto opere cuperent, aliquando optimatium partibus, quas secum simul defendissent, exitio futurum; nam Caesari multos Marios inesse.

Stipendia prima in Asia fecit. In expugnatione Mitylenarum corona civica donatus est. Mortuo Sulla, Rhodum secedere statuit, ut per otium Apollonio Moloni, tunc clarissimo dicendi magistro, operam daret. Huc dum traicit, a praedonibus captus est mansitque apud eos prope quadraginta dies. Per omne autem illud spatium ita se gessit, ut piratis pariter terrori venerationique esset. Comites interim servosque ad expediendas pecunias, quibus redimeretur, dimisit. Viginti talenta piratae postulaverant: ille quinquaginta daturum se spopondit. Quibus numeratis cum expositus esset in litore, confestim Miletum, quae urbs proxime aberat, properavit ibique contracta classe invectus in eum locum, in quo ipsi praedones erant, partem classis fugavit, partem mersit, aliquot naves cepit piratasque in potestatem redactos eo supplicio, quod illis saepe minatus inter iocum erat, adfecit crucique suffixit.

Quaestori ulterior Hispania obvenit. Quo profectus cum Alpes transiret et ad conspectum pauperis cuiusdam vici comites per iocum inter se disputarent num illic etiam esset ambitioni locus, serio dixit Caesar malle se ibi primum esse, quam Romae secundum. Dominationis avidus a prima aetate regnum concupiscebat semperque in ore habebat hos Euripidis, Graeci poetae, versus:

Nam si violandum est ius, regnandi gratia Violandum est. Aliis rebus pietatem colas.

Cumque Gades, quod est Hispaniae oppidum, venisset, animadversa apud Herculis templum magni Alexandri imagine ingemuit et quasi pertaesus ignaviam suam, quod nihildum a se memorabile actum esset in ea aetate, qua iam Alexander orbem terrarum subegisset, missionem continuo efflagitavit ad captandas quam primum maiorum rerum occasiones in urbe.

Aedilis praeter comitium ac Forum etiam Capitolium ornavit porticibus. Venationes autem ludosque et cum conlega M. Bibulo et separatim edidit: quo factum est ut communium quoque impensarum solus gratiam caperet. His autem rebus patrimonium effudit tantumque conflavit aes alienum, ut ipse diceret sibi opus esse millies sestertium, ut haberet nihil.

Consul deinde creatus cum M. Bibulo, societatem cum Gnaeo Pompeio et Marco Crasso iunxit Caesar, ne quid ageretur in re publica, quod displicuisset ulli ex tribus. Deinde legem tulit ut ager Campanus plebi divideretur. Cui legi cum senatus repugnaret, rem ad populum detulit. Bibulus conlega in Forum venit, ut legi obsisteret, sed tanta in eum commota est seditio, ut in caput eius cophinus stercore plenus effunderetur fascesque ei frangerentur atque adeo ipse armis Foro expelleretur. Qua re cum Bibulus per reliquum anni tempus domo abditus Curia abstineret, unus ex eo tempore Caesar omnia in re publica ad arbitrium administrabat, ut nonnulli urbanorum, si quid testandi gratia signarent, per iocum non, ut mos erat, 'consulibus Caesare et Bibulo' actum scriberent, sed 'Iulio et Caesare,' unum consulem nomine et cognomine pro duobus appellantes.

Functus consulatu Caesar Galliam provinciam accepit. Gessit autem novem annis, quibus in imperio fuit, haec fere: Galliam in provinciae formam redegit; Germanos, qui trans Rhenum incolunt, primus Romanorum ponte fabricato aggressus maximis adfecit cladibus. Aggressus est Britannos, ignotos antea, superatisque pecunias et obsides imperavit. Hic cum multa Romanorum militum insignia narrantur, tum illud egregium ipsius Caesaris, quod, nutante in fugam exercitu, rapto fugientis e manu scuto in primam volitans aciem proelium restituit. Idem alio proelio legionis aquiliferum ineundae fugae causa iam conversum faucibus comprehensum in contrariam partem detraxit dextramque ad hostem tendens "Quorsum tu" inquit "abis? Illic sunt, cum quibus dimicamus." Qua adhortatione omnium legionum trepidationem correxit vincique paratas vincere docuit.

Interfecto interea apud Parthos Crasso et defuncta Iulia, Caesaris filia, quae, nupta Pompeio, generi socerique concordiam tenebat, statim aemulatio erupit. Iam pridem Pompeio suspectae Caesaris opes et Caesari Pompeiana dignitas gravis, nec hic ferebat parem, nec ille superiorem. Itaque cum Caesar in Gallia detineretur, et, ne imperfecto bello discederet, postulasset ut sibi liceret, quamvis absenti, alterum consulatum petere, a senatu, suadentibus Pompeio eiusque amicis, negatum ei est. Hanc iniuriam acceptam vindicaturus in Italiam rediit et bellandum ratus cum exercitu Rubiconem flumen, qui provinciae eius finis erat, transiit. Hoc ad flumen paulum constitisse fertur ac reputans quantum moliretur, conversus ad proximos, "Etiamnunc" inquit "regredi possumus; quod si ponticulum transierimus, omnia armis agenda erunt." Postremo autem "Iacta alea esto!" exclamans exercitum traici iussit plurimisque urbibus occupatis Brundisium contendit, quo Pompeius consulesque confugerant.

Qui cum inde in Epirum traiecissent, Caesar, eos secutus a Brundisio, Dyrrachium inter oppositas classes gravissima hieme transmisit; copiisque quas subsequi iusserat diutius cessantibus, cum ad eas arcessendas frustra misisset, mirae audaciae facinus edidit. Morae enim impatiens castris noctu egreditur, clam naviculam conscendit, obvoluto capite, ne agnosceretur, et quamquam mare saeva tempestate intumescebat, in altum tamen protinus dirigi navigium iubet et, gubernatore trepidante, "Quid times?" inquit "Caesarem vehis!" neque prius gubernatorem cedere adversae tempestati passus est, quam paene obrutus esset fluctibus.

Deinde Caesar in Epirum profectus Pompeium Pharsalico proelio fudit, et fugientem persecutus, ut occisum cognovit, Ptolemaeo regi, Pompeii interfectori, a quo sibi quoque insidias tendi videret, bellum intulit; quo victo in Pontum transiit Pharnacemque, Mithridatis filium, rebellantem et multiplici successu praeferocem intra quintum ab adventu diem, quattuor, quibus in conspectum venit, horis una profligavit acie, more fulminis, quod uno eodemque momento venit, percussit, abscessit. Nec vana de se praedicatio est Caesaris ante victum hostem esse quam visum. Pontico postea triumpho trium verborum praetulit titulum: "Veni, vidi, vici." Deinde Scipionem et Iubam, Numidiae regem, reliquias Pompeianarum partium in Africa refoventes, devicit.

Victorem Africani belli Gaium Caesarem gravius excepit Hispaniense, quod Cn. Pompeius, Magni filius, adulescens fortissimus, ingens ac terribile conflaverat, undique ad eum auxiliis paterni nominis magnitudinem sequentium ex toto orbe confluentibus. Sua Caesarem in Hispaniam comitata fortuna est: sed nullum umquam atrocius periculosiusque ab eo initum proelium, adeo ut, plus quam dubio Marte, descenderet equo consistensque ante recedentem suorum aciem increpans fortunam, quod se in eum servasset exitum, denuntiaret militibus vestigio se non recessurum; proinde viderent, quem et quo loco imperatorem deserturi essent. Verecundia magis quam virtute acies restituta est. Cn. Pompeius victus et interemptus est. Caesar, omnium victor, regressus in urbem omnibus, qui contra se arma tulerant, ignovit et quinquies triumphavit.

Bellis civilibus confectis, conversus iam ad ordinandum rei publicae statum fastos correxit annumque ad cursum solis accommodavit, ut trecentorum sexaginta quinque dierum esset et, intercalario mense sublato, unus dies quarto quoque anno intercalaretur. Ius laboriosissime ac severissime dixit. Repetundarum convictos etiam ordine senatorio movit. Peregrinarum mercium portoria instituit: legem praecipue sumptuariam exercuit. De ornanda instruendaque urbe, item de tuendo ampliandoque imperio plura ac maiora in dies destinabat: imprimis ius civile ad certum modum redigere atque ex immensa legum copia optima quaeque et necessaria in paucissimos conferre libros; bibliothecas Graecas et Latinas, quas maximas posset, publicare; siccare Pomptinas paludes: viam munire a Mari Supero per Apennini dorsum ad Tiberim usque: Dacos, qui se in Pontum effuderant, coercere: mox Parthis bellum inferre per Armeniam.

Haec et alia agentem et meditantem mors praevenit. Dictator enim in perpetuum creatus agere insolentius coepit: senatum ad se venientem sedens excepit et quendam, ut adsurgeret monentem, irato vultu respexit. Cum Antonius, Caesaris in omnibus bellis comes et tunc consulatus conlega, capiti eius in sella aurea sedentis pro rostris diadema, insigne regium, imposuisset, id ita ab eo est repulsum, ut non offensus videretur. Quare coniuratum in eum est a sexaginta amplius viris, Cassio et Bruto ducibus conspirationis, decretumque eum Idibus Martiis in senatu confodere.

Plurima indicia futuri periculi obtulerant dii immortales. Uxor Calpurnia, territa nocturno visu, ut Idibus Martiis domi subsisteret orabat et Spurinna haruspex praedixerat ut proximos dies triginta quasi fatales caveret, quorum ultimus erat Idus Martiae. Hoc igitur die Caesar Spurinnae "Ecquid scis" inquit "Idus Martias iam venisse?" et is "Ecquid scis illas nondum praeterisse?" Atque cum Caesar eo die in senatum venisset, adsidentem conspirati specie officii circumsteterunt ilicoque unus, quasi aliquid rogaturus, propius accessit renuentique ab utroque umero togam apprehendit. Deinde clamantem "Ista quidem vis est!" Casca, unus e coniuratis, adversum vulnerat paulum infra iugulum. Caesar Cascae bracchium adreptum graphio traiecit conatusque prosilire alio vulnere tardatus est. Dein ut animadvertit undique se strictis pugionibus peti, toga caput obvolvit et ita tribus et viginti plagis confossus est. Cum Marcum Brutum, quem filii loco habebat in se inruentem vidisset, dixisse fertur: "Tu quoque, mi fili!"

Illud inter omnes fere constitit talem ei mortem paene ex sententia obtigisse. Nam et quondam cum apud Xenophontem legisset Cyrum ultima valetudine mandasse quaedam de funere suo, aspernatus tam lentum mortis genus subitam sibi celeremque optaverat, et pridie quam occideretur, in sermone nato super cenam quisnam esset finis vitae commodissimus, repentinum inopinatumque praetulerat.

Percussorum autem neque triennio quisquam amplius supervixit neque sua morte defunctus est. Damnati omnes alius alio casu perierunt, pars naufragio, pars proelio; nonnulli semet eodem illo pugione, quo Caesarem violaverant, interemerunt.

Quo rarior in regibus et principibus viris moderatio, hoc laudanda magis est. C. Iulius Caesar victoria civili clementissime usus est; cum enim scrinia deprehendisset epistularum ad Pompeium missarum ab iis, qui videbantur aut in diversis aut in neutris fuisse partibus, legere noluit, sed combussit, ne forte in multos gravius consulendi locum darent. Cicero hanc laudem eximiam Caesari tribuit, quod nihil oblivisci soleret nisi iniurias. Simultates omnes, occasione oblata, libens deposuit. Ultro ac prior scripsit C. Calvo post famosa eius adversum se epigrammata. Valerium Catullum, cuius versiculis famam suam laceratam non ignorabat, adhibuit cenae. C. Memmii suffragator in petitione consulatus fuit, etsi asperrimas fuisse eius in se orationes sciebat.

Fuisse traditur excelsa statura, ore paulo pleniore, nigris vegetisque oculis, capite calvo; quam calvitii deformitatem, quod saepe obtrectatorum iocis obnoxia erat, aegre ferebat. Ideo ex omnibus decretis sibi a senatu populoque honoribus non alium aut recepit aut usurpavit libentius quam ius laureae perpetuo gestandae. Vini parcissimum eum fuisse ne inimici quidem negaverunt. Verbum Catonis est unum ex omnibus Caesarem ad evertendam rem publicam sobrium accessisse. Armorum et equitandi peritissimus, laboris ultra fidem patiens; in agmine nonnumquam equo, saepius pedibus anteibat, capite detecto, seu sol, seu imber erat. Longissimas vias incredibili celeritate conficiebat, ut persaepe nuntios de se praeveniret: neque eum morabantur flumina, quae vel nando vel innixus inflatis utribus traiciebat.

[Sidenote: B.C. 60.]

Cônsul deinde creâtus cum M. Bibulô, societâtem[9] cum Gnaeô Pompêiô et Marcô Crassô iûnxit Caesar, nê quid agerêtur in {55} rê pûblicâ, quod displicuisset ûllî ex tribus. Deinde lêgem [[89]] tulit ut ager Campânus plêbî dîvîderêtur. Cuî lêgî cum senâtus repûgnâret, rem ad populum dêtulit. Bibulus conlêga in Forum vênit, ut lêgî obsisteret, sed tanta in eum commôta est sêditiô, ut in caput êius cophinus stercore plênus effunderêtur fascêsque eî {60} frangerentur atque adeô ipse armîs Forô expellerêtur. Quâ rê cum Bibulus per reliquum annî tempus domô abditus Cûriâ abstinêret, ûnus ex eô tempore Caesar omnia in rê pûblicâ ad arbitrium administrâbat, ut nônnûllî urbânôrum, sî[1] quid têstandî grâtiâ sîgnârent, per iocum nôn, ut môs erat, 'cônsulibus[2] Caesare et {65} Bibulô' âctum[3] scrîberent, sed 'Iûliô et Caesare,' ûnum cônsulem nômine et côgnômine prô duôbus appellantês.

Fûnctus[4] cônsulâtû Caesar Galliam prôvinciam accêpit. [Sidenote: B.C. 49.]

Interfectô intereâ apud Parthôs Crassô et dêfûnctâ Iûliâ, Caesaris fîliâ, quae, nûpta Pompêiô, generî socerîque concordiam tenêbat,[1] statim aemulâtiô êrûpit. Iam prîdem Pompêiô sûspectae[2] Caesaris opês et Caesarî Pompêiâna dîgnitâs gravis, {85} nec hîc[3] ferêbat parem, nec ille[3] superiôrem. Itaque cum Caesar in Galliâ dêtinêrêtur, et, nê imperfectô bellô discêderet, pôstulâsset ut sibi licêret, quamvîs absentî,[4] alterum cônsulâtum petere, â senâtû, suâdentibus Pompêiô êiusque amîcîs, negâtum eî est. Hanc iniûriam acceptam vindicâtûrus[5] in Îtaliam rediit et {90} bellandum[6] ratus cum exercitû Rubicônem flûmen, quî[7] prôvinciae êius fînis erat, trânsiit. Hôc ad flûmen paulum cônstitisse fertur ac reputâns quantum môlîrêtur, conversus ad proximôs, "Etiamnunc" inquit "regredî possumus; quod sî ponticulum trânsierimus, omnia armîs agenda erunt." Postrêmô autem {95} "Iacta âlea estô!" exclâmâns exercitum trâicî iussit plûrimîsque urbibus occupâtîs Brundisium contendit, quô Pompêius cônsulêsque cônfûgerant.

Quî cum inde in Êpîrum trâiêcissent, Caesar, eôs secûtus â {99} Brundisiô, Dyrrachium inter[8] oppositâs classês gravissimâ hieme trânsmîsit; côpiîsque[9] quâs subsequî iusserat diûtius cessantibus, cum ad eâs arcessendâs frûstrâ mîsisset, mîrae audâciae facinus [[91]] êdidit. Morae enim impatiêns castrîs noctû êgreditur, clam nâviculam cônscendit, obvolûtô capite, nê âgnôscerêtur, et quamquam mare saevâ tempestâte intumêscêbat, in altum tamen prôtinus {105} dîrigî nâvigium iubet et, gubernâtôre trepidante, "Quid timês?" inquit "Caesarem vehis!" neque prius[1] gubernâtôrem cêdere adversae tempestâtî passus est, quam[1] paene obrutus esset[1] fluctibus.

Deinde Caesar in Êpîrum profectus Pompêium Pharsâlicô {110} proeliô fûdit, et fugientem persecûtus, ut occîsum côgnôvit, Ptolemaeô rêgî, Pompêiî interfectôrî, â quô sibi quoque însidiâs tendî vidêret, bellum intulit; quô victô in Pontum trânsiit Pharnacemque, Mithridâtis fîlium, rebellantem et {114} multiplicî successû[2] praeferôcem intrâ[3] quîntum ab adventû diem, quattuor, quibus[4] in cônspectum vênit, hôrîs[4] ûnâ prôflîgâvit aciê, môre fulminis, quod ûnô eôdemque mômentô vênit, percussit, abscessit. Nec vâna dê sê praedicâtiô est Caesaris ante victum hostem esse quam vîsum.[5] Ponticô[6] posteâ triumphô trium verbôrum praetulit titulum: "Vênî, vîdî, vîcî." Deinde {120} Scîpiônem[7] et Iubam, Numidiae rêgem, reliquiâs Pompêiânârum partium in Âfricâ refoventês, dêvîcit.[8]

Victôrem Âfricânî bellî Gâium Caesarem gravius excêpit Hispâniênse, quod Cn. Pompêius, Mâgnî[9] fîlius, adulêscêns fortissimus, ingêns ac terribile cônflâverat, undique ad eum auxiliîs[10] {125} paternî nôminis mâgnitûdinem sequentium[11] ex tôtô orbe cônfluentibus. [[92]] Sua[1] Caesarem in Hispâniam comitâta fortûna est:

Caesar's operations were confined to the southern portion of Great Britain. 89.7: = _Hôc tempore_, i.e. during this campaign. The language of this whole sentence is somewhat loose. The writer begins as if he were going to say: _Hîc, cum . . . nârrantur, tum Caesarem ipsum êgregium fêcisse nârrant_, but changes the construction at #tum#. 89.8: #cum . . . tum#: cf. p. 67, n. 7. 89.9: #illud# is explained by the clause #quod . . . restituit#. The episode occurred in one of Caesar's Gallic campaigns, not, as here stated, in Britain. It is related in the second book of Caesar's _Gallic War_. Caesar said: _ante victus est quam vîsus_ (_est_). The infinitive #vîsum# (_esse_) is due to attraction of the neighboring infinitive #victum esse#. 91.6: #Ponticô . . . triumphô#: i.e. the procession in which he celebrated his victory in Pontus. #triumphô# is dat. with #praetulit#. 91.7: Q. Cf. _volentibus_, XIII, 97. 92.1: 'His own,' i.e. his usual. 92.2: #plûs . . . Mârte#: 'since the battle was more than doubtful.' The battle was fought at Munda, 45 B.C. 92.3: Cf. p. 63, n. 5. 92.4: = _quâlem_. So #quô# = _quâlî_. 92.5: #fâstôs corrêxit#: In III, 22, it is stated that Numa divided the year into twelve months according to the course of the moon. This year contained only 355 days. In order, therefore, to make the months coincide with the seasons to which they belong, Numa ordered that every two years an extra month, called a _mênsis intercalâris_, should be added. These intercalary months were inserted after February 23d, and contained alternately 22 and 23 days. This arrangement made the average length of the year 366-1/4 days. A further cause of confusion was the fact that the Pontifices, who had charge of the calendar, often, for political reasons, omitted the intercalary month. In Caesar's time the error amounted to about three months. The calendar arranged by him is almost identical with that in use to-day. 92.6: from _quisque_: 'each,' 'every.' 92.7: Sc. _rêrum_. _rês repetundae_ was a technical term for 'extortion.' For the gen., see p. 36, n. 8. 92.8: A _lêx sumptuâria_ was a law regulating the sums of money which might be spent for various purposes. Caesar attempted especially to check extravagance in dress and at banquets. 92.9: The infinitives in lines 146-151 are used because the clauses in which they stand are in apposition to _plûra ac mâiôra_, l. 144. See p. 86, n. 5. 93.1: #quâs . . . pûblicâre#: 'to throw open to the public as large libraries as possible.' 93.2: The celebrated Mark Antony. 93.3: #â . . . virîs#: 'by more than sixty men.' For the case of #virîs#, see p. 10, n. 18. 93.4: 'had warned him,' _not_ 'had predicted': hence it may be construed with a substantive clause of purpose (#ut . . . cavêret#) as its object. 93.5: #speciê officiî#: 'under pretense of doing him honor.' Cf. _per speciem vênandî_, XIX, 60. 93.6: Sc. _eî_: dat. of interest. 93.7: 'by'; cf. p. 11, n. 10. 93.8: #adversum# (sc. _eum_) #vulnerat#: 'wounds him in front.' The wound was in the shoulder. For #adversum# as = an adverbial phrase, cf. p. 4, n. 4. 94.1: 'assailed.' 94.2: _obtingô_. 95.1: #suâ morte#: 'a natural death'; an ablative of manner. 95.2: #Quô rârior . . . hôc laudanda magis#: 'The rarer . . . the more praiseworthy.' #Quô# and #hôc# are ablative of the degree of difference (a variety of the ablative of means): cf. p. 39, n. 12. 95.3: i.e. over his fellow-citizens. 95.4: #quî . . . partibus#: 'who had apparently belonged,' etc. How literally? With #dîversîs# sc. _Pompêiô_. 95.5: #nê . . . darent#: 'that they might not by any chance give occasion to vigorous measures,' etc. 95.6: #cûius . . . îgnôrâbat#: 'by whose verses, as he very well knew, his own fair fame had been wounded.' 95.7: ablatives of characteristic. 95.8: #paulô plêniôre#: 'somewhat full.' 95.9: Sc. _corônae_, and cf. the frequent omission of _manus_ with _dextra_ and _sinistra_. 96.1: #Vînî parcissimum#: cf. _Cibî vînîque temperâns, somnî parcus_, XXVI, 21, and note. 96.2: #ut . . . praevenîret# expresses result, not purpose.]

#XXVIII. Marcus Tullius Cicero# [[stripped text]]

Marcus Tullius Cicero, equestri genere, Arpini, quod est Volscorum oppidum, natus est. Ex eius avis unus verrucam in extremo naso sitam habuit, ciceris grano similem; inde cognomen Ciceronis genti inditum. Suadentibus quibusdam ut id nomen mutaret, "Dabo operam" inquit "ut istud cognomen nobilissimorum nominum splendorem vincat." Cum a patre Romam missus, ubi celeberrimorum magistrorum scholis interesset, eas artes disceret, quibus aetas puerilis ad humanitatem solet informari, tanto successu tantaque cum praeceptorum tum ceterorum discipulorum admiratione id fecit, ut, cum fama de Ciceronis ingenio et doctrina ad alios manasset, non pauci, qui eius videndi et audiendi gratia scholas adirent, reperti esse dicantur.

Cum nulla re magis ad summos in re publica honores viam muniri posse intellegeret quam arte dicendi et eloquentia, toto animo in eius studium incubuit, in quo quidem ita versatus est, ut non solum eos, qui in Foro et iudiciis causas perorarent, studiose sectaretur, sed privatim quoque diligentissime se exerceret. Primum eloquentiam et libertatem adversus Sullanos ostendit. Nam cum Roscium quendam, parricidii accusatum, ob Chrysogoni, Sullae liberti, qui in eius adversariis erat, potentiam nemo defendere auderet, tanta eloquentiae vi eum defendit Cicero, ut iam tum in arte dicendi nullus ei par esse videretur. Ex quo invidiam veritus Athenas studiorum gratia petiit, ubi Antiochum philosophum studiose audivit. Inde eloquentiae causa Rhodum se contulit, ubi Molonem, Graecum rhetorem tum disertissimum, magistrum habuit. Qui cum Ciceronem dicentem audivisset, flevisse dicitur, quod per hunc Graecia eloquentiae laude privaretur.

Romam reversus quaestor Siciliam habuit. Nullius vero quaestura aut gratior aut clarior fuit; cum magna tum esset annonae difficultas, initio molestus erat Siculis, quos cogeret frumenta in urbem mittere; postea vero, diligentiam et iustitiam et comitatem eius experti, maiores quaestori suo honores quam ulli umquam praetori detulerunt. E Sicilia reversus Romam in causis dicendis ita floruit, ut inter omnes causarum patronos et esset et haberetur princeps.

Consul deinde factus L. Sergii Catilinae coniurationem singulari virtute, constantia, cura compressit. Catilinae proavum, M. Sergium, incredibili fortitudine fuisse Plinius refert. Stipendia is fecit secundo bello Punico. Secundo stipendio dextram manum perdidit: stipendiis duobus ter et vicies vulneratus est: ob id neutra manu, neutro pede satis utilis, plurimisque postea stipendiis debilis miles erat. Bis ab Hannibale captus, bis vinculorum eius profugus, viginti mensibus nullo non die in catenis aut compedibus custoditus. Sinistra manu sola quater pugnavit, duobus equis, insidente eo, suffossis. Dextram sibi ferream fecit eaque religata proeliatus Cremonam obsidione exemit, Placentiam tutatus est, duodena castra hostium in Gallia cepit. Ceteri profecto, Plinius addit, victores hominum fuere, Sergius vicit etiam fortunam.

Singularem huius viri gloriam foede dehonestavit pronepotis scelus. Hic enim rei familiaris, quam profuderat, inopia multorumque scelerum conscientia in furorem actus et dominandi cupiditate incensus indignatusque, quod in petitione consulatus repulsam passus esset, coniuratione facta senatum confodere, consules trucidare, urbem incendere, diripere aerarium constituerat. Actum erat de pulcherrimo imperio, nisi illa coniuratio in Ciceronem et Antonium consules incidisset, quorum alter industria rem patefecit, alter manu oppressit. Cum Cicero, habito senatu, in praesentem reum perorasset, Catilina, incendium suum ruina se restincturum esse minitans, Roma profugit et ad exercitum, quem paraverat, proficiscitur, signa inlaturus urbi. Sed socii eius, qui in urbe remanserant, comprehensi in carcere necati sunt. A. Fulvius, vir senatorii ordinis, filium, iuvenem et ingenio et forma inter aequales nitentem, pravo consilio Catilinae amicitiam secutum inque castra eius ruentem, ex medio itinere retractum supplicio mortis adfecit, praefatus non se Catilinae illum adversus patriam, sed patriae adversus Catilinam genuisse.

Neque eo magis ab incepto Catilina destitit, sed infestis signis Romam petens Antonii exercitu opprimitur. Quam atrociter dimicatum sit exitus docuit: nemo hostium bello superfuit; quem quisque in pugnando ceperat locum, eum amissa anima tegebat. Catilina longe a suis inter hostium cadavera repertus est: pulcherrima morte, si pro patria sic concidisset! Senatus populusque Romanus Ciceronem patrem patriae appellavit. Cicero ipse in oratione pro Sulla palam praedicat consilium patriae servandae fuisse iniectum sibi a diis, cum Catilina coniurasset adversus eam. "O dii immortales," inquit "vos profecto incendistis tum animum meum cupiditate conservandae patriae. Vos avocastis me a cogitationibus omnibus ceteris et convertistis ad salutem unam patriae. Vos denique praetulistis menti meae clarissimum lumen in tenebris tantis erroris et inscientiae. Tribuam enim vobis, quae sunt vestra. Nec vero possum tantum dare ingenio meo, ut dispexerim sponte mea in tempestate illa turbulentissima rei publicae, quid esset optimum factu."

Paucis post annis Ciceroni diem dixit Clodius tribunus plebis, quod cives Romanos indicta causa necavisset. Senatus maestus, tamquam in publico luctu, veste mutata pro eo deprecabatur. Cicero, cum posset armis salutem suam defendere, maluit urbe cedere quam sua causa caedem fieri. Proficiscentem omnes boni flentes prosecuti sunt. Dein Clodius edictum proposuit ut Marco Tullio igni et aqua interdiceretur: illius domum et villas incendit. Sed vis illa non diuturna fuit, mox enim totus fere populus Romanus ingenti desiderio Ciceronis reditum flagitare coepit et maximo omnium ordinum studio Cicero in patriam revocatus est. Nihil per totam vitam Ciceroni itinere, quo in patriam rediit, accidit iucundius. Obviam ei redeunti ab universis itum est: domus eius publica pecunia restituta est.

Gravissimae illa tempestate inter Caesarem et Pompeium ortae sunt inimicitiae, ut res nisi bello dirimi non posse videretur. Cicero quidem summo studio enitebatur ut eos inter se reconciliaret et a belli civilis calamitatibus deterreret, sed cum neutrum ad pacem ineundam permovere posset, Pompeium secutus est. Sed victo Pompeio, a Caesare victore veniam ultro accepit. Quo interfecto Octavianum, Caesaris heredem, fovit, Antonium impugnavit effecitque ut a senatu hostis iudicaretur.

Sed Antonius, inita cum Octaviano societate, Ciceronem iam diu sibi inimicum proscripsit. Qua re audita, Cicero transversis itineribus in villam, quae a mari proxime aberat, fugit indeque navem conscendit, in Macedoniam transiturus. Unde aliquotiens in altum provectum cum modo venti adversi rettulissent, modo ipse iactationem maris pati non posset, taedium tandem eum et fugae et vitae cepit regressusque ad villam "Moriar" inquit "in patria saepe servata." Satis constat, adventantibus percussoribus, servos fortiter fideliterque paratos fuisse ad dimicandum, ipsum deponi lecticam et quietos pati, quod sors iniqua cogeret, iussisse. Prominenti ex lectica et immotam cervicem praebenti caput praecisum est. Manus quoque abscissae; caput relatum est ad Antonium eiusque iussu cum dextra manu in rostris positum.

Quamdiu res publica Romana per eos gerebatur, quibus se ipsa commiserat, in eam curas cogitationesque fere omnes suas conferebat Cicero et plus operae ponebat in agendo quam in scribendo. Cum autem dominatu unius C. Iulii Caesaris omnia tenerentur, non se angoribus dedidit nec indignis homine docto voluptatibus. Fugiens conspectum Fori urbisque rura peragrabat abdebatque se, quantum licebat, et solus erat. Nihil agere autem cum animus non posset, existimavit honestissime molestias posse deponi, si se ad philosophiam rettulisset, cui adulescens multum temporis tribuerat, et omne studium curamque convertit ad scribendum: atque ut civibus etiam otiosus aliquid prodesse posset, elaboravit ut doctiores fierent et sapientiores, pluraque brevi tempore, eversa re publica, scripsit, quam multis annis ea stante scripserat. Sic facundiae et Latinarum litterarum parens evasit paruitque virorum sapientium praecepto, qui docent non solum ex malis eligere minima oportere, sed etiam excerpere ex his ipsis, si quid insit boni.

Multa exstant facete ab eo dicta. Cum Lentulum, generum suum, exiguae staturae hominem, vidisset longo gladio accinctum, "Quis" inquit "generum meum ad gladium adligavit?"--Matrona quaedam iuniorem se, quam erat, simulans dictitabat se triginta tantum annos habere; cui Cicero "Verum est," inquit "nam hoc viginti annos audio."--Caesar, altero consule mortuo die Decembris ultima, Caninium consulem hora septima in reliquam diei partem renuntiaverat; quem cum plerique irent salutatum de more, "Festinemus" inquit Cicero "priusquam abeat magistratu." De eodem Caninio scripsit Cicero: "Fuit mirifica vigilantia Caninius, qui toto suo consulatu somnum non viderit."

Mârcus Tullius Cicerô, equestrî genere, Arpînî, quod est Volscôrum oppidum, nâtus est. Ex êius avîs[3] ûnus verrûcam[4] in extrêmô nâsô[5] sitam habuit, ciceris[6] grânô similem; inde côgnômen Cicerônis gentî inditum. Suâdentibus quibusdam {5} ut id nômen mûtâret, "Dabô operam" inquit "ut istud côgnômen nôbilissimôrum nôminum splendôrem vincat." Cum â patre Rômam missus, ubi[7] celeberrimôrum magistrôrum scholîs interesset, eâs artês dîsceret, quibus aetâs puerîlis ad {10} hûmânitâtem[8] solet înfôrmârî, tantô successû tantâque cum praeceptôrum tum cêterôrum dîscipulôrum admîrâtiône id fêcit, ut, cum fâma dê Cicerônis ingeniô et doctrînâ ad aliôs mânâsset,[9] nôn paucî, quî êius videndî et audiendî grâtiâ scholâs adîrent, repertî esse dîcantur. {15}

Cum nûllâ rê magis ad summôs in rê pûblicâ honôrês viam mûnîrî posse intellegeret quam arte dîcendî et êloquentiâ, tôtô [[97]] animô in êius studium incubuit,[1] in quô quidem ita versâtus[2] est, ut nôn sôlum eôs, quî in Forô et iûdiciîs[3] causâs perôrârent,[4] studiôsê sectârêtur,[5] sed prîvâtim quoque dîligentissimê sê {20} exercêret. Prîmum êloquentiam et lîbertâtem[6] adversus Sullânôs ostendit. Nam cum Rôscium quendam, parricîdiî accûsâtum, ob Chrysogonî, Sullae lîbêrtî,[7] quî in êius adversâriîs erat, potentiam nêmô dêfendere audêret, tantâ êloquentiae vî eum dêfendit Cicerô, ut iam tum in arte dîcendî nûllus eî pâr esse vidêrêtur. Ex quô {25} invidiam veritus[8] Athênâs studiôrum grâtiâ petiit, ubi Antiochum philosophum studiôsê audîvit. Inde êloquentiae causâ Rhodum sê contulit, ubi Molônem, Graecum rhêtorem tum disertissimum,[9] magistrum habuit. Quî cum Cicerônem dîcentem audîvisset, flêvisse dîcitur, quod per hunc Graecia êloquentiae laude {30} prîvârêtur.[10]

Rômam reversus quaestor Siciliam habuit. Nûllîus vêrô quaestûra aut grâtior aut clârior fuit; cum mâgna tum esset annônae[11] difficultâs, initiô molestus erat Siculîs, quôs côgeret frûmenta in urbem mittere; posteâ vêrô, dîligentiam et iûstitiam et cômitâtem[12] êius expertî,[13] mâiôrês quaestôrî suô honôrês quam ûllî {36} umquam praetôrî dêtulêrunt. Ê Siciliâ reversus Rômam in causîs dîcendîs ita flôruit, ut inter omnês causârum patrônôs[14] et esset et habêrêtur prînceps.

Cônsul deinde factus L. Sergiî Catilînae coniûrâtiônem singulârî {40} virtûte, cônstantiâ, cûrâ compressit.[15] Catilînae proavum,[16] M. Sergium, incrêdibilî fortitûdine fuisse Plînius refert. Stîpendia[17] is fêcit secundô bellô Pûnicô. Secundô stîpendiô[18] dextram {43} manum perdidit: stîpendiîs[18] duôbus ter et vîciês vulnerâtus est: ob id neutrâ manû, neutrô pede satis ûtilis, plûrimîsque[19] posteâ [[98]] stîpendiîs dêbilis[1] mîles erat. Bis ab Hannibale captus, bis[2] vinculôrum êius profugus, vîgintî mênsibus nûllô[3] nôn diê in catênîs[4] aut compedibus[5] cûstôdîtus. Sinistrâ manû sôlâ quater pûgnâvit, duôbus equîs, însidente eô, suffossîs.[6] Dextram sibi ferream fêcit eâque religâtâ[7] proeliâtus Cremônam obsidiône {50} exêmit, Placentiam tûtâtus est, duodêna castra hostium in Galliâ cêpit. Cêterî profectô, Plînius addit, victôrês hominum fuêre, Sergius vîcit etiam fortûnam.

Singulârem hûius virî glôriam foedê dehonestâvit pronepôtis[8] scelus. Hîc enim reî familiâris, quam profûderat, inopiâ {55} multôrumque scelerum cônscientiâ in furôrem âctus et dominandî cupiditâte incênsus indîgnâtusque, quod in petîtiône cônsulâtûs repulsam[9] passus esset, coniûrâtiône factâ senâtum cônfodere, cônsulês trucîdâre,[10] urbem incendere, dîripere aerârium cônstituerat. Âctum[11] erat dê pulcherrimô imperiô, nisi illa coniûrâtiô {60} in[12] Cicerônem et Antônium cônsulês incidisset, quôrum alter[13] indûstriâ rem patefêcit, alter manû[14] oppressit. Cum Cicerô, habitô senâtû, in praesentem reum[15] perôrâsset, Catilîna, incendium suum ruînâ[16] sê restinctûrum esse minitâns, Rômâ profûgit et ad exercitum, quem parâverat, proficîscitur, sîgna inlâtûrus {65} urbî. Sed sociî êius, quî in urbe remânserant, comprehênsî in carcere necâtî sunt. A. Fulvius, vir senâtôriî ôrdinis, fîlium, iuvenem et ingeniô et fôrmâ inter aequâlês nitentem,[17] prâvô cônsiliô Catilînae amîcitiam secûtum inque castra êius ruentem, ex mediô itinere retrâctum suppliciô mortis adfêcit, praefâtus[18] nôn sê Catilînae illum adversus patriam, sed patriae adversus {71} Catilînam genuisse.[19]

[[99]] Neque eô magis ab inceptô Catilîna dêstitit, sed înfêstîs sîgnîs Rômam petêns Antôniî exercitû opprimitur. Quam atrôciter dîmicâtum sit exitus docuit: nêmô hostium bellô superfuit; {75} quem quisque in pûgnandô cêperat locum, eum âmissâ animâ[1] tegêbat. Catilîna longê â suîs inter hostium cadâvera[2] repertus est: pulcherrimâ morte,[3] sî prô patriâ sîc concidisset! Senâtus populusque Rômânus Cicerônem patrem patriae appellâvit. Cicerô ipse in ôrâtiône prô Sullâ palam praedicat cônsilium patriae {80} servandae fuisse iniectum sibi â diîs, cum Catilîna coniûrâsset adversus eam. "Ô diî immortâlês," inquit "vôs profectô incendistis tum animum meum cupiditâte cônservandae patriae. Vôs âvocâstis mê â côgitâtiônibus omnibus cêterîs et convertistis ad salûtem ûnam patriae. Vôs dênique praetulistis mentî meae {85} clârissimum lûmen in tenebrîs tantîs errôris et înscientiae. Tribuam enim vôbîs, quae sunt vestra. Nec vêrô possum tantum dare ingeniô meô, ut[4] dîspexerim sponte meâ in tempestâte illâ turbulentissimâ reî pûblicae, quid esset optimum factû."

Paucîs post annîs Cicerônî diem dîxit Clôdius tribûnus plêbis, {90} quod cîvês Rômânôs indictâ[5] causâ necâvisset. Senâtus maestus,[6] tamquam in pûblicô lûctû, veste[7] mûtâtâ prô eô dêprecâbâtur. Cicerô, cum posset armîs salûtem suam dêfendere, mâluit urbe cêdere quam suâ causâ caedem fierî. Proficîscentem omnês bonî flentês prôsecûtî sunt. Dein Clôdius êdictum prôposuit ut Mârcô {95} Tulliô[8] îgnî et aquâ interdîcerêtur: illîus domum et vîllâs incendit. Sed vîs illa nôn diuturna fuit, mox enim tôtus ferê populus Rômânus ingentî dêsîderiô Cicerônis reditum flâgitâre coepit et mâximô omnium ôrdinum studiô Cicerô in patriam revocâtus est. [[100]] Nihil per tôtam vîtam Cicerônî itinere, quô in patriam rediit, {100} accidit iûcundius. Obviam[1] eî redeuntî ab ûniversîs itum est: domus êius pûblicâ pecûniâ restitûta est.

Gravissimae illâ tempestâte inter Caesarem et Pompêium ortae sunt inimîcitiae, ut rês[2] nisi bellô dîrimî nôn posse vidêrêtur. Cicerô quidem summô studiô ênîtêbâtur[3] ut eôs inter sê reconciliâret et â bellî cîvîlis calamitâtibus dêterrêret, sed cum neutrum {106} ad pâcem ineundam permovêre posset, Pompêium secûtus est. Sed victô Pompêiô, â Caesare victôre veniam ultrô accêpit. Quô interfectô Octâviânum, Caesaris hêrêdem, fôvit,[4] Antônium impûgnâvit effêcitque ut â senâtû hostis iûdicârêtur. {110}

Sed Antônius, initâ cum Octâviânô societâte,[5] Cicerônem iam diû sibi inimîcum prôscrîpsit. Quâ rê audîtâ, Cicerô trânsversîs[6] itineribus in vîllam, quae â marî proximê aberat, fûgit indeque nâvem cônscendit, in Macedoniam trânsitûrus. Unde aliquotiêns in altum prôvectum cum modo[7] ventî adversî rettulissent, modo {115} ipse iactâtiônem maris patî nôn posset, taedium[8] tandem eum et fugae et vîtae cêpit regressusque ad vîllam "Moriar" inquit "in patriâ saepe servâtâ." Satis cônstat, adventantibus percussôribus, servôs fortiter fidêliterque parâtôs fuisse ad dîmicandum, ipsum dêpônî lectîcam[9] et quiêtôs patî, quod {120} sors inîqua côgeret, iussisse. Prôminentî[10] ex lectîcâ et immôtam cervîcem[11] praebentî[10] caput praecîsum est. Manûs quoque abscissae; caput relâtum est ad Antônium êiusque iussû cum dextrâ manû in rôstrîs positum. {125}

Quamdiû rês pûblica Rômâna per eôs gerêbâtur, quibus sê ipsa commîserat, in eam cûrâs côgitâtiônêsque ferê omnês suâs cônferêbat [[101]] Cicerô et plûs[1] operae pônêbat in agendô quam in scrîbendô. Cum autem dominâtû ûnîus C. Iûliî Caesaris omnia tenêrentur, nôn sê angôribus[2] dêdidit nec indîgnîs homine doctô voluptâtibus. Fugiêns cônspectum Forî urbisque rûra peragrâbat abdêbatque {131} sê, quantum licêbat, et sôlus erat. Nihil agere autem cum animus nôn posset, exîstimâvit honestissimê molestiâs posse dêpônî, sî sê ad philosophiam rettulisset, cuî adulêscêns multum temporis tribuerat, et omne studium cûramque convertit ad scrîbendum: atque ut cîvibus etiam ôtiôsus[3] aliquid prôdesse[4] posset, {136} êlabôrâvit ut doctiôrês fierent et sapientiôrês, plûraque brevî tempore, êversâ rê

Multa exstant facêtê[9] ab eô dicta. Cum Lentulum, generum[10] suum, exiguae statûrae hominem, vîdisset longô gladiô accinctum, "Quis" inquit "generum meum ad gladium adligâvit?"--Mâtrôna {145} quaedam iûniôrem sê, quam erat, simulâns dictitâbat sê trîgintâ tantum annôs habêre; cuî Cicerô "Vêrum est," inquit "nam hôc vîgintî annôs audiô."--Caesar, alterô cônsule mortuô diê[11] Decembris ûltimâ, Canînium cônsulem hôrâ septimâ in reliquam diêî partem renûntiâverat; quem cum plêrîque îrent {150} salûtâtum dê môre, "Fêstînêmus" inquit Cicerô "priusquam abeat magistrâtû." Dê eôdem Canîniô scrîpsit Cicerô: "Fuit mîrificâ[12] vigilantiâ Canînius, quî tôtô suô cônsulâtû somnum nôn vîderit.[13]"

#XXIX. Marcus Brutus# [[stripped text]]

M. Brutus, ex illa gente, quae Roma Tarquinios eiecerat, oriundus, Athenis philosophiam, Rhodi eloquentiam didicit. Eius pater, qui Sullae partibus adversabatur, iussu Pompei interfectus erat, unde Brutus cum eo graves gesserat simultates. Bello tamen civili Pompei causam, quod iustior videretur, secutus dolorem suum rei publicae utilitati posthabuit. Victo Pompeio Brutus a Caesare servatus est et praetor etiam factus. Postea vero, cum Caesar superbia elatus senatum contemnere et regnum adfectare coepisset, populus, praesenti statu haud laetus, vindicem libertatis requirebat. Subscripsere quidam L. Bruti statuae: "Utinam viveres!" Item ipsius Caesaris statuae: "Brutus, quia reges eiecit, primus consul factus est; hic, quia consules eiecit, postremo rex factus est." Inscriptum quoque est M. Bruti praetoris tribunali: "Dormis, Brute!"

Cognita populi Romani voluntate, Brutus adversus Caesarem conspiravit. Pridie quam Caesar est occisus, Porcia, Bruti uxor, Catonis filia, consilii conscia, egresso cubiculum Bruto, cultellum tonsorium quasi unguium resecandorum causa poposcit eoque velut forte elapso se vulneravit. Clamore deinde ancillarum in cubiculum revocatus obiurgare eam coepit, quod tonsoris praeripuisset officium. Cui secreto Porcia "Non est" inquit "hoc temerarium factum meum, sed in tali statu nostro mei erga te amoris certissimum indicium. Experiri enim volui, si tibi propositum ex sententia parum cessisset, quam aequo animo me ferro essem interemptura." Quibus verbis auditis Brutus ad caelum manus et oculos sustulisse dicitur et exclamavisse: "Utinam dignus tali coniuge maritus videri possem!"

Interfecto Caesare, cum Antonius vestem eius sanguinolentam ostentans populum veluti furore quodam adversus coniuratos inflammasset, Brutus in Macedoniam concessit ibique apud urbem Philippos adversus Antonium et Octavianum dimicavit. Victus acie, cum in tumulum se nocte recepisset, audita Cassii morte, ne in hostium manus veniret, uni ex comitibus latus transfodiendum praebuit. Antonius Bruti corpus liberto suo sepeliendum tradidit, quoque honoratius cremaretur, inici ei suum paludamentum iussit, iacentem non hostem, sed civem deposito existimans odio. Cumque interceptum a liberto paludamentum comperisset, ira percitus protinus in eum animadvertit, praefatus: "Quid? tu ignorasti cuius tibi viri sepulturam commisissem?" Non eadem fuit Octaviani erga Brutum moderatio, is enim avulsum Bruti caput Romam misit, ut Gai Caesaris statuae subiceretur. Porcia cum victum et interemptum virum suum cognovisset, quia ferrum non dabatur, ardentes ore carbones hausit, virilem patris exitum mulier imitata novo mortis genere.

M. Brûtus, ex illâ gente, quae Rômâ Tarquiniôs êiêcerat, oriundus,[1] Athênîs philosophiam, Rhodî êloquentiam didicit. #XXX. Octavianus Caesar Augustus# [[stripped text]]

Octavianus, Iuliae, Gai Caesaris sororis, nepos, quartum annum agens patrem amisit. Ab avunculo adoptatus profectum eum in Hispanias adversus Gnaei Pompei liberos secutus est. Deinde ab eo Apolloniam missus studiis vacavit. Utque primum occisum Caesarem heredemque se comperit, in urbem regressus hereditatem adiit, nomen Caesaris sumpsit conlectoque veteranorum exercitu opem Decimo Bruto tulit, qui ab Antonio Mutinae obsidebatur. Cum autem urbis aditu prohiberetur, ut Brutum de omnibus rebus certiorem faceret, primo litteras misit plumbeis laminis inscriptas, quas ad bracchium religatas urinatores Scultennam amnem transnantes ad Brutum deferebant. Quin et avibus internuntiis utebatur. Columbis enim, quas inclusas ante fame adfecerat, epistulas ad collum religabat easque a proximo moenibus loco emittebat. Illae, lucis cibique avidae, altissima aedificiorum petentes excipiebantur a Decimo Bruto, qui eo modo de omnibus rebus certior fiebat, utique postquam disposito quibusdam locis cibo columbas illuc devolare instituerat.

Bellum Mutinense Octavianus duobus proeliis confecit, quorum in altero non ducis modo, sed militis etiam functus est officio atque in media dimicatione, aquilifero legionis suae graviter saucio, aquilam umeris subisse diuque fertur portasse. Postea reconciliata cum Antonio gratiaiunctisque cum eo copiis, ut Gai Caesaris necem ulcisceretur, ad urbem hostiliter accessit misitque qui nomine exercitus sibi consulatum deposcerent. Cunctante senatu centurio, princeps legationis, reiecto sagulo, ostendens gladii capulum non dubitavit in Curia dicere: "Hic faciet, si vos non feceritis."

Ita cum Octavianus vicesimo aetatis anno consulatum invasisset, pacem fecit cum Antonio et Lepido, ita ut triumviri rei publicae constituendae per quinquennium essent ipse et Lepidus et Antonius, et ut suos quisque inimicos proscriberent. Quae proscriptio Sullana longe crudelior fuit. Exstant autem ex ea multa vel extremae impietatis vel mirae fidei ac constantiae exempla. T. Toranius, triumvirorum partes secutus, proscripti patris sui, praetorii et ornati viri, latebras, aetatem notasque corporis, quibus agnosci posset, centurionibus edidit, qui eum persecuti sunt. Alius quidam cum proscriptum se cognovisset, ad clientem suum confugit; sed filius eius per ipsa vestigia patris militibus ductis occidendum eum in conspectu suo obiecit.

Cum C. Plotius Plancus a triumviris proscriptus in regione Salernitana lateret, servi eius, comprehensi multumque ac diu torti, negabant se scire ubi dominus esset. Non sustinuit deinde Plancus tam fideles tamque boni exempli servos ulterius cruciari; sed processit in medium iugulumque gladiis militum obiecit. Senatoris cuiusdam servus cum ad dominum proscriptum occidendum milites advenisse cognosset, commutata cum eo veste, permutato etiam anulo, illum postico clam emisit, se autem in cubiculum ad lectulum recepit et ut dominum occidi passus est.

"Quanti viri est" addit Seneca, "cum praemia proditionis ingentia ostendantur, praemium fidei mortem concupiscere!"

Octavianus deinde M. Brutum, interfectorem Caesaris, bello persecutus id bellum, quamquam invalidus atque aeger, duplici proelio transegit; quorum priore castris exutus vix fuga evasit. Victor acerbissime se gessit: in nobilissimum quemque captivum non sine verborum contumelia saeviit. Uni suppliciter sepulturam precanti respondisse dicitur iam istam in volucrum fore potestate. Alios, patrem et filium, pro vita rogantes sortiri fertur iussisse ut alterutri concederetur, ac cum, patre quia se obtulerat occiso, filius quoque voluntaria occubuisset nece, spectasse utrumque morientem. Orare veniam vel excusare se conantibus, una voce occurrebat moriendum esse. Scribunt quidam trecentos ex dediticiis electos ad aram divo Iulio exstructam Idibus Martiis hostiarum more mactatos.

Abalienatus postea est ab Antonio, quod is, repudiata Octavia sorore, Cleopatram, Aegypti reginam, duxisset uxorem: quae quidem mulier cum Antonio luxu et deliciis certabat. Una se cena centies sestertium absumpturam aliquando dixerat. Cupiebat discere Antonius, sed fieri posse non arbitrabatur. Postero igitur die magnificam alias cenam, sed cottidianam Antonio apposuit inridenti, quod promisso stare non potuisset. At illa inferri mensam secundam iussit. Ex praecepto ministri unum tantum vas ante eam posuere aceti, cuius asperitas visque margaritas resolvit. Exspectante igitur Antonio quidnam esset actura, margaritam, quam auribus gerebat, detraxit et aceto liquefactam absorbuit. Victum Antonium omnes, qui aderant, pronuntiaverunt.

Octavianus cum Antonio apud Actium, qui locus est in Epiro, navali proelio dimicavit. Victum et fugientem persecutus Aegyptum petiit, et Alexandream, quo Antonius cum Cleopatra confugerat, obsedit. Antonius in ultima rerum desperatione, cum habitu regis in solio regali sedisset, mortem sibi ipse conscivit. Cleopatra, quam Octavianus, Alexandrea in potestatem redacta, magno opere cupiebat vivam comprehendi triumphoque servari, aspidem sibi adferendam curavit eiusque morsu periit. Cleopatrae mortuae communem cum Antonio sepulturam tribuit.

Tandem Octavianus, hostibus victis solus imperio potitus, clementem se exhibuit. Omnia deinceps in eo plena mansuetudinis et humanitatis. Multis ignovit vel iis qui saepe graviter eum offenderant. Reversus in Italiam triumphans Romam ingressus est. Tum bellis toto orbe compositis Iani gemini portas sua manu clausit, quae bis tantum antea clausae fuerant, primum sub Numa rege, iterum post primum Punicum bellum. Tunc omnes praeteritorum malorum oblivio cepit populusque Romanus praesentis otii laetitia perfruebatur. Octaviano maximi honores a senatu delati sunt. Ipse Augustus cognominatus et in honorem eius mensis Sextilis eodem nomine appellatus est, quod illo mense bellis civilibus finis esset impositus. Patris patriae cognomen universi maximo consensu detulerunt ei. Deferentibus lacrimans respondit Augustus his verbis: "Compos factus votorum meorum, patres conscripti, quid habeo aliud, quod deos immortales precer, quam ut hunc consensum vestrum ad ultimum vitae finem mihi perferre liceat!"

Dictaturam magna vi offerente populo deprecatus est. Domini appellationem semper exhorruit eamque sibi tribui edicto vetuit. Immo de restituenda re publica non semel cogitavit, sed reputans et se privatum non sine periculo fore, et rem publicam plurium arbitrio commissum iri, summam retinuit potestatem, id vero studuit ne quem novi status paeniteret. Bene de iis etiam, quos adversarios expertus erat, et sentiebat et loquebatur. Legentem aliquando unum e nepotibus invenit; cumque puer territus volumen Ciceronis, quod manu tenebat, veste tegeret, Augustus librum cepit eoque statim reddito, "Hic vir," inquit "fili mi, doctus fuit et patriae amans."

Pedibus saepe per urbem incedebat summaque comitate adeuntes excipiebat. Convenit aliquando eum veteranus miles, qui vocatus in ius periclitabatur rogavitque ut sibi adesset. Statim Augustus unum e comitatu suo elegit advocatum, qui litigatorem commendaret. Tum veteranus exclamavit: "At non ego, te periclitante bello Actiaco, vicarium quaesivi, sed ipse pro te pugnavi," simulque detexit cicatrices. Erubuit Augustus atque ipse venit in advocationem.

Cum post Actiacam victoriam Octavianus Romam reverteretur, occurrit ei inter gratulantes opifex quidam corvum tenens, quem instituerat haec dicere: "Ave, Caesar, victor, imperator!" Miratus Caesar officiosam avem viginti milibus nummorum emit. Socius opificis, ad quem nihil ex illa liberalitate pervenerat, adfirmavit Caesari habere illum et alium corvum, quem ut adferre cogeretur rogavit. Adlatus verba, quae didicerat, expressit: "Ave, Antoni, victor, imperator!" Nihil exasperatus Caesar satis duxit iubere illum dividere donativum cum contubernali. Salutatus similiter a psittaco emi eum iussit.

Exemplum sutorem pauperem sollicitavit ut corvum institueret ad parem salutationem. Qui impendio exhaustus saepe ad avem non respondentem dicere solebat "Opera et impensa periit!" Aliquando tamen corvus coepit dicere dictam salutationem. Hac audita, dum transit, Augustus respondit: "Satis domi talium salutatorum habeo." Superfuit corvo memoria, ut et illa, quibus dominum querentem solebat audire, subtexeret: "Opera et impensa periit." Ad quod Caesar risit emique avem iussit, quanti nullam ante emerat.

Solebat Graeculus quidam descendenti e palatio Caesari honorificum aliquod epigramma porrigere. Id cum frustra saepe fecisset et tamen rursus eum idem facturum duxisset Augustus, breve sua manu in charta exaravit Graecum epigramma et Graeculo advenienti obviam misit. Ille inter legendum laudare mirarique tam voce quam vultu gestuque. Deinde cum accessisset ad sellam, qua Caesar vehebatur, demissa in pauperem crumenam manu paucos denarios protulit, quos principi daret, dixitque se plus daturum fuisse, si plus habuisset. Secuto omnium risu, dispensatorem Caesar vocavit et satis grandem pecuniae summam numerari Graeculo iussit.

Augustus fere nulli se invitanti negabat. Exceptus igitur a quodam cena satis parca et paene cottidiana, hoc tantum insusurravit: "Non putabam me tibi esse tam familiarem." Cum aliquando apud Pollionem quendam cenaret fregissetque unus e servis vas crystallinum, rapi eum ad mortem Pollio iussit et obici muraenis quas ingens piscina continebat. Evasit e manibus puer et ad pedes Caesaris confugit, nihil aliud petiturus quam ut aliter periret nec esca piscium fieret. Motus est novo crudelitatis genere Caesar et illum quidem mitti, crystallina autem omnia coram se frangi iussit complerique piscinam.

Augustus in quadam villa aegrotans noctes inquietas agebat, rumpente somnum eius crebro noctuae cantu. Qua molestia cum liberari se vehementer cupere significasset, miles quidam, aucupii peritus, noctuam prehendendam curavit, vivamque Augusto attulit, spe ingentis praemii. Cui cum Augustus mille nummos dari iussisset, ille minus dignum praemium existimans dicere ausus est: "Malo ut vivat," et avem dimisit. Imperatori nec ad irascendum causa deerat nec ad ulciscendum potestas: hanc tamen iniuriam aequo animo tulit Augustus hominemque impunitum abire passus est.

Augustus amicitias neque facile admisit et constantissime retinuit. Imprimis familiarem habuit Maecenatem, equitem Romanum; qui ea, qua apud principem valebat, gratia ita semper usus est, ut prodesset omnibus, quibus posset, noceret nemini. Ius aliquando dicebat Augustus et multos capite damnaturus videbatur. Aderat tum Maecenas, qui per circumstantium turbam perrumpere et ad tribunal propius accedere conabatur. Quod cum frustra tentasset, haec verba in tabella scripsit: "Surge tandem, carnifex!" eamque tabellam ad Augustum proiecit. Qua lecta is statim surrexit neque quisquam est morte multatus.

Habitavit Augustus in aedibus modicis, neque laxitate neque cultu conspicuis, ac per annos amplius quadraginta in eodem cubiculo hieme et aestate mansit. Suppellex quoque eius vix privatae elegantiae erat. Raro veste alia usus est quam confecta ab uxore, sorore, filia neptibusque. Item tamen Romam, quam pro maiestate imperii non satis ornatam invenerat, adeo excoluit, ut iure gloriaretur marmoream se relinquere, quam latericiam accepisset.

Forma fuit Augustus eximia et per omnes aetatis gradus venustissima. Erat tamen omnis lenocinii neglegens et in capite comendo tam incuriosus, ut eo ipso tempore, quo illud tonsoribus committeret, aut legeret aliquid aut etiam scriberet.

Paucis annis antequam moreretur, gravissimam in Germania accepit cladem, tribus legionibus cum duce Varo legatisque et auxiliis omnibus caesis. Hac nuntiata excubias per urbem indixit, ne quis tumultus exsisteret, et magnos ludos Iovi optimo maximo vovit, si res publica in meliorem statum vertisset. Adeo denique consternatum ferunt, ut, per continuos menses barba capilloque submisso, caput interdum foribus inlideret, vociferans: "Quintili Vare, legiones redde!" diemque cladis quotannis maestum habuerit ac lugubrem.

Tandem adflicta valetudine in Campaniam concessit, ubi, remisso ad otium animo, nullo hilaritatis genere abstinuit. Supremo vitae die petito speculo capillum sibi comi iussit et amicos circumstantes percontatus ecquid iis videretur mimum vitae commode transegisse, adiecit solitam clausulam: "Edite strepitum vosque omnes cum gaudio applaudite." Obiit Nolae sextum et septuagesimum annum agens.

#XXX. Octâviânus Caesar Augustus# [[as printed]]

Octâviânus, Iûliae, Gâî Caesaris sorôris, nepôs, quârtum annum agêns patrem âmîsit. Ab avunculô adoptâtus profectum eum in Hispâniâs[12] adversus Gnaeî

Ita cum Octâviânus vîcêsimô aetâtis annô cônsulâtum invâsisset, pâcem fêcit cum Antôniô et Lepidô, ita ut triumvirî reî [[105]] pûblicae cônstituendae per quînquennium essent ipse et Lepidus et Antônius, et ut suôs quisque inimîcôs prôscrîberent. "Quantî[6] virî est" addit Seneca,[7] "cum praemia prôditiônis ingentia ostendantur, praemium fideî mortem concupîscere!"

Octâviânus deinde M. Brûtum, interfectôrem Caesaris, bellô persecûtus id bellum, quamquam invalidus atque aeger, duplicî {55} proeliô trânsêgit; quôrum priôre castrîs exûtus[8] vix fugâ êvâsit. Victor acerbissimê sê gessit: in nôbilissimum

Abaliênâtus posteâ est ab Antôniô, quod is, repudiâtâ Octâviâ sorôre, Cleopatram, Aegyptî rêgînam, dûxisset uxôrem: quae quidem mulier cum Antôniô lûxû et dêliciîs[6] certâbat. Ûnâ sê cênâ centiês[7] sêstertium absûmptûram aliquandô dîxerat. Cupiêbat {70} dîscere Antônius, sed fierî posse nôn arbitrâbâtur. Ex praeceptô ministrî ûnum tantum {74} vâs ante eam posuêre acêtî,[10] cûius asperitâs vîsque margarîtâs[11] resolvit.[12] Exspectante igitur Antôniô quidnam esset âctûra, margarîtam, quam auribus gerêbat, dêtrâxit et acêtô liquefactam absorbuit. Victum Antônium omnês, quî aderant, prônûntiâvêrunt. {78}

Octâviânus cum Antôniô apud Actium, quî locus est in Êpîrô, {80} nâvâlî proeliô dîmicâvit. Victum et fugientem persecûtus Aegyptum petiit, et Alexandrêam, quô Antônius cum Cleopatrâ cônfûgerat, obsêdit. Antônius in ultimâ rêrum dêspêrâtiône, cum habitû rêgis in soliô[13] rêgâlî sêdisset, mortem sibi ipse cônscîvit. Cleopatra, quam Octâviânus, Alexandrêâ in potestâtem redâctâ, {85} mâgnô opere cupiêbat vîvam comprehendî triumphôque servârî, aspidem[14] sibi adferendam cûrâvit êiusque morsû periit. Cleopatrae mortuae commûnem cum Antôniô sepultûram tribuit.

[[107]] Tandem Octâviânus, hostibus victîs sôlus imperiô potîtus, clêmentem sê exhibuit.[1] Omnia deinceps in eô plêna mânsuêtûdinis[2] et hûmânitâtis. Multîs îgnôvit vel iîs quî saepe graviter {91} eum offenderant. Reversus in Îtaliam triumphâns Rômam ingressus est. Tum bellîs tôtô orbe compositîs Iânî geminî portâs suâ manû clausit, quae bis tantum anteâ clausae fuerant, prîmum sub Numâ rêge, iterum post prîmum Pûnicum bellum. Tunc {95} omnês praeteritôrum malôrum oblîviô cêpit populusque Rômânus praesentis ôtiî laetitiâ perfruêbâtur. Octâviânô mâximî honôrês â senâtû dêlâtî sunt. Ipse Augustus côgnôminâtus et in honôrem êius mênsis Sextîlis[3] eôdem nômine appellâtus est, quod illô mênse bellîs cîvîlibus fînis esset impositus. Patris patriae {100} côgnômen ûniversî mâximô cônsênsû dêtulêrunt eî. Dêferentibus lacrimâns respondit Augustus hîs verbîs: "Compos[4] factus vôtôrum meôrum, patrês conscrîptî, quid habeô aliud, quod deôs immortâlês precer, quam ut hunc cônsênsum vestrum ad ultimum vîtae fînem mihi perferre liceat!" {105}

Dictâtûram mâgnâ vî offerente populô dêprecâtus est. Dominî appellâtiônem semper exhorruit eamque sibi tribuî êdictô vetuit. Immô[5] dê restituendâ rê pûblicâ nôn semel côgitâvit, sed reputâns et sê prîvâtum nôn sine perîculô fore, et rem pûblicam plûrium arbitriô commissum[6] îrî, summam retinuit potestâtem, {110} id vêrô studuit nê quem novî statûs paenitêret. Bene dê iîs etiam, quôs adversâriôs expertus erat, et sentiêbat et loquêbâtur. Legentem aliquandô ûnum ê nepôtibus invênit; cumque puer territus volûmen Cicerônis, quod manû tenêbat, veste tegeret, Augustus librum cêpit eôque statim redditô, "Hîc vir," inquit {115} "fîlî mî, doctus fuit et patriae amâns."

[[108]] Pedibus saepe per urbem incêdêbat summâque cômitâte adeuntês excipiêbat. Convênit[1] aliquandô eum veterânus mîles, quî vocâtus in iûs perîclitâbâtur rogâvitque ut sibi adesset. Statim Augustus ûnum ê comitâtû[2] suô êlêgit advocâtum, quî lîtigâtôrem commendâret. Tum veterânus exclâmâvit: "At nôn ego, {121} tê perîclitante bellô Actiacô, vicârium[3] quaesîvî, sed ipse prô tê pûgnâvî," simulque dêtêxit cicâtrîcês.[4] Êrubuit[5] Augustus atque ipse vênit in advocâtiônem.

Cum post Actiacam victôriam Octâviânus Rômam reverterêtur, {125} occurrit eî inter grâtulantês opifex[6] quîdam corvum[7] tenêns, quem înstituerat haec dîcere: "Avê,[8] Caesar, victor, imperâtor!" Mîrâtus Caesar officiôsam avem vîgintî mîlibus nummôrum[9] êmit. Socius opificis, ad quem nihil ex illâ lîberâlitâte pervênerat, adfîrmâvit Caesarî habêre illum et alium corvum, quem ut adferre côgerêtur rogâvit. Adlâtus verba, quae didicerat, expressit: {131} "Avê, Antônî, victor, imperâtor!" Nihil exasperâtus Caesar satis dûxit iubêre illum dîvidere dônâtîvum[10] cum contubernâlî. Salûtâtus similiter â psittacô[11] emî eum iussit.

Exemplum sûtôrem[12] pauperem sollicitâvit ut corvum înstitueret ad parem salûtâtiônem. Quî impendiô[13] exhaustus saepe ad {136} avem nôn respondentem dîcere solêbat "Opera et impênsa[13] periit[14]!" Aliquandô tamen corvus coepit dîcere dictam salûtâtiônem. Hâc audîtâ, dum trânsit, Augustus respondit: "Satis domî tâlium salûtâtôrum habeô." Superfuit corvô memoria, ut {140} et illa, quibus dominum querentem solêbat audîre, subtexeret[15]: "Opera et impênsa periit." Ad quod Caesar rîsit emîque avem iussit, quantî[16] nûllam ante êmerat.

Solêbat Graeculus quîdam dêscendentî ê palâtiô Caesarî honôrificum aliquod epigramma porrigere.[17] Id cum frûstrâ saepe fêcisset {145} [[109]] et tamen rûrsus eum idem factûrum dûxisset Augustus, breve suâ manû in chartâ[1] exarâvit[2] Graecum epigramma et Graeculô advenientî obviam mîsit. Ille inter legendum laudâre[3] mîrârîque[3] tam[4] vôce quam[4] vultû gestûque. Deinde cum accessisset {149} ad sellam, quâ Caesar vehêbâtur, dêmissâ in pauperem crumênam[5] manû paucôs dênâriôs[6] prôtulit, quôs prîncipî daret, dîxitque sê plûs datûrum fuisse, sî plûs habuisset. Secûtô omnium rîsû, dispênsâtôrem[7] Caesar vocâvit et satis grandem pecûniae summam numerârî Graeculô iussit.

Augustus ferê nûllî sê invîtantî negâbat. Exceptus igitur â {155} quôdam cênâ satis parcâ et paene cottîdiânâ, hôc tantum însusurrâvit[8]: "Nôn putâbam mê tibi esse tam familiârem." Cum aliquandô apud Pôlliônem quendam cênâret frêgissetque ûnus ê servîs vâs crystallinum, rapî eum ad mortem Pôlliô iussit et {159} obicî mûraenîs[9] quâs ingêns piscîna[10] continêbat. Êvâsit ê manibus puer et ad pedês Caesaris cônfûgit, nihil aliud petîtûrus quam ut aliter perîret nec êsca[11] piscium fieret. Môtus est novô crûdêlitâtis genere Caesar et illum quidem mittî,[12] crystallina autem omnia côram sê frangî iussit complêrîque piscînam.

Augustus in quâdam vîllâ aegrôtâns noctês inquiêtâs agêbat, {165} rumpente somnum êius crêbrô noctuae[13] cantû. Quâ molestiâ cum lîberârî sê vehementer cupere sîgnificâsset, mîles quîdam, aucupiî perîtus, noctuam prehendendam cûrâvit, vîvamque Augustô attulit, spê ingentis praemiî. Cuî cum Augustus mîlle nummôs[14] darî {169} iussisset, ille minus dîgnum praemium exîstimâns dîcere ausus est: "Mâlô ut vîvat," et avem dîmîsit. Imperâtôrî nec ad îrâscendum causa deerat nec ad ulcîscendum potestâs: hanc tamen iniûriam aequô animô tulit Augustus hominemque impûnîtum abîre passus est.

[[110]] Augustus amîcitiâs neque facile admîsit et cônstantissimê retinuit. Imprîmîs familiârem habuit Maecênâtem, equitem Rômânum; {175} quî eâ, quâ apud prîncipem valêbat, grâtiâ ita semper ûsus est, ut prôdesset omnibus, quibus posset, nocêret nêminî. Iûs aliquandô dîcêbat Augustus et multôs capite damnâtûrus vidêbâtur. Aderat tum Maecênâs, quî per circumstantium turbam perrumpere et {180} ad tribûnal propius accêdere cônâbâtur. Quod cum frûstrâ tentâsset, haec verba in tabellâ scrîpsit: "Surge tandem, carnifex[1]!" eamque tabellam ad Augustum prôiêcit. Quâ lêctâ is statim surrêxit {185} neque quisquam est morte multâtus.

[Illustration: AUGUSTUS]

Habitâvit Augustus in aedibus modicîs, neque laxitâte[2] neque cultû[3] cônspicuîs, ac per annôs amplius quadrâgintâ in eôdem cubiculô hieme et aestâte {190} mânsit. Suppellex[4] quoque êius vix prîvâtae êlegantiae erat. Rârô veste aliâ ûsus est quam cônfectâ ab uxôre, sorôre, fîliâ neptibusque.[5] Item tamen Rômam, quam prô mâiestâte imperiî nôn {195} satis ôrnâtam invênerat, adeô excoluit, ut iûre glôriârêtur marmoream sê relinquere, quam laterîciam[6] accêpisset.

Fôrmâ fuit Augustus eximiâ et per omnês aetâtis gradûs venustissimâ. Erat tamen omnis lênôciniî[7] neglegêns et in capite cômendô tam incûriôsus, ut eô ipsô tempore, quô illud tônsôribus committeret, aut legeret aliquid aut etiam scrîberet. {201}

Paucîs annîs antequam morerêtur, gravissimam in Germâniâ accêpit clâdem, tribus legiônibus cum duce Vârô lêgâtîsque et [[111]] auxiliîs omnibus caesîs. 1. Scipio would have been slain in the battle at the river Ticinus, if his son Publius had not rescued him. 2. When Publius Scipio was not yet twenty years old, he thought that he was old enough [had enough of years] to be a candidate for[1] the aedileship. 3. After the battle of Cannae, some young men of rank began to form plans for abandoning Italy. 4. Scipio hastened to their meeting-place, and, although[2] he was alone, he forced them to give[3] up their conspiracy.[3] 5. After the Romans had suffered two defeats in Spain, Scipio was chosen proconsul and sent thither. 6. Here he prosecuted the war with such wisdom and bravery that he earned the approval of all. 7. Do you not think that he was worthy of the honor? 8. He gained possession of a large amount of money and arms, but let the Spanish captives go without ransom. 9. He did not doubt that in this way he would secure for the Romans the favor of the Spanish [conciliate the Spanish to the Romans]. 10. Among the captive Africans he found a boy of remarkable beauty,[4] who said that his grandfather was the king of Numidia, and that he had crossed over into Spain with his uncle Masinissa to carry on war with the Romans. 11. Scipio freed the boy, and thus won the favor of the Numidian king. 12. When the Spaniards wanted to call Scipio king, he asked them to refrain from that title. 13. After Hannibal had been driven from Spain, Scipio, who had[5] long been planning to transfer the war to Africa, sent Laelius, whose[6] friendship he did not mistrust, to win over some of the African chiefs. 14. Afterwards he crossed over to Africa himself, and it is said that he met Hannibal [to him a meeting with Hannibal to have been] at the court of Syphax. 15. It happened that many of those chiefs were eager to form an alliance with Scipio. 16. His plan, therefore, was easily carried out. 17. Although the young men of Sicily shrank from so great a war themselves, still they were willing to furnish horses and arms. 18. Although they were wealthy, they were not (men) of great bravery. 19. In Africa the Romans fought with such determination that in a short time the Carthaginians recalled Hannibal from Italy to defend his country. 20. A battle was fought [it was fought] at Zama, a town five days' march from Carthage. 21. The Carthaginians were defeated, and forced to send ambassadors to sue for peace. 22. As peace was now secured, Scipio returned to Italy. 23. On[7] his arrival in Rome a vast multitude poured forth to meet him. 24. Scipio was not only the most illustrious general of his age, but he was also a man distinguished for [of distinguished] piety.[8] 25. The old writers say that he used to visit [resort to] the capitol every day, to consult with Jupiter about the public interests. 26. At Ephesus he[9] afterwards had a conversation with Hannibal. 27. It is reported that Hannibal acknowledged that Scipio was the greatest of all commanders. 28. When the senate seemed on the point[10] of transferring the conduct of the war against Antiochus from Lucius Scipio to Laelius, because (as was thought) the former[11] had too little courage and too little wisdom for such a war, Africanus promised to be himself his brother's lieutenant. 29. Scipio could endure no dishonor to his family. 30. After Antiochus had been defeated, when the senate demanded from Lucius Scipio an accounting of the spoils, Africanus prevented it. 31. He said that he had been of [for] so great aid to his country that his integrity ought not to be doubted. 32. It happened that Africanus himself was afterwards summoned for trial by the tribunes on the very day on which the battle of Zama had been fought.[12] 33. When ordered to plead his cause, he mounted the rostrum and said: "Let us offer thanks to Jupiter, by whose aid we obtained[13] so great a victory." 34. As the whole assembly followed him he was relieved from the insults of the tribunes. 35. Soon afterward Scipio retired to the country and never returned to Rome.

#Future conditions.#

1. Cornelia, the mother of the Gracchi, was the daughter of Scipio Africanus. 2. She had been educated with such care herself that she was able to train her sons wisely. 3. She told a Campanian woman, who was a guest at her house, that she[1] too had some very beautiful jewels. 4. Everybody knows that Cornelia's jewels were her sons. 5. She has justly been considered one of the wisest women of that age. 6. Though her sons were most worthy of their excellent mother, yet the nobles thought that they were disturbing the republic. 7. Both of the Gracchi thought more of [preferred] their country's safety than [to] their own lives. 8. Tiberius tried to protect the common people, but the senate thought that he was preparing for himself a way to regal power. 9. So Nasica urged[2] all loyal citizens to follow him. 10. When Gracchus saw that the senators were rushing upon him he fled, but was killed by a broken piece of a bench. 11. Caius had the same[3] love for the common people as[3] his brother. 12. All loyal citizens said that they opposed his plans because they wanted the republic to be safe. 13. "If the law about distributing grain to the common people is[4] passed," said Piso, "I shall come with the others to get the grain." 14. Finally this was decreed by the senate: "Let the consul see that the republic receive no harm." 15. Some say that Gracchus armed his household and took possession of the Aventine. 16. When he was put to flight he ordered his slave to kill him that he might not be arrested. 17. Such was the fate of the Gracchi, the jewels of Cornelia, the best sons of the Roman republic.

#Substantive clauses of purpose; latter supine.#

1. When Marius was in Spain with Scipio, some one asked this (question) of Scipio. 2. If anything happens[1] to you, what equally great commander will the republic have? 3. Scipio replied that Marius would be a great commander. 4. In the war against Jugurtha it is said that he made charges against Metellus so that he might be appointed commander himself. 5. If you make me consul, I will shortly bring Jugurtha under the power of the Romans. 6. Thus he persuaded the people to make[2] him consul. 7. After Jugurtha had been conquered, he carried on war with the Cimbri and Teutones. 8. His soldiers entreated Marius to lead them against the enemy. 9. The battle was fought right at the foot of the Alps. 10. As the Romans[3] had no water, Marius told his soldiers that, if they conquered[4] the enemy, they would have abundance of water. 11. It is said that after the battle the soldiers drank no less blood than water, because the river was filled with the bodies of the slain. 12. The Cimbri, having now entered Italy, sent messengers to Marius to ask him to give them some land. 13. Marius threatened them[5] with the same fate[5] which had befallen their brothers. 14. On the next day a battle was fought, and slaughter terrible to witness[6] followed. 15. When the women saw that they were defeated they strangled their babes and killed themselves. 16. Marius envied the new consul, Sulla, because the war against Mithridates had been assigned him. 17. When Sulla heard what Marius had done, he returned to Rome with his army and drove him into exile. 18. While Marius was hiding in a swamp, he was caught and thrown into prison. 19. He asked the slave, who was sent to kill him, whether he dared kill the great consul. 20. After Sulla had set out for Asia, Marius, who was a few days' journey from the city, returned and renewed the civil war. 21. When he had put to death the best men of the state, he gave over their homes to the rabble for plunder. 22. His death afforded the Romans[7] more joy than his victory at Aquae Sextiae.

The star prefixed to certain verbs, e.g. #flîgô# and #speciô#, indicates that the verb was obsolete, i.e. not in ordinary use. Compound verbs are defined under the simple verbs from which they are derived. To this practice there are, however, two exceptions: (1) When neither the simple verb nor any other compound formed from it occurs in the text, and (2) in the case of certain verbs like #sûmô# and #surgô#, which, though themselves compounds, came to be regarded virtually as simple verbs and served as the base of further compounds.

The student will therefore save time and labor if he accustoms himself when reading to analyze compound verbs before consulting the Vocabulary. This analysis will often make plain the meaning of the compound, and render it unnecessary to seek the aid of the Vocabulary at all.

Harkness's New Latin Grammars

=A COMPLETE LATIN GRAMMAR=

Cloth-leather binding. 12mo, 464 pages =$1.25=

=A SHORT LATIN GRAMMAR=

Cloth-leather binding. 12mo, 254 pages =.80=

By ALBERT HARKNESS, Ph.D., LL.D., Professor Emeritus in Brown University.

These new text-books are the crowning triumph of a life-work which has made the name of their author familiar to classical scholars and teachers everywhere. They represent the latest advances in philological science, and embody the results of the author's large experience in teaching and of his own linguistic studies, together with the suggestions and advice of eminent German specialists in the field of Historical and Comparative Grammar. The peculiar qualities of simplicity, clearness, and adaptation of treatment to the practical needs of the student and of the class room,--qualities that have always characterized the Harkness Grammars,--have been preserved and even intensified in these new books.

The Complete Latin Grammar is designed at once as a text-book for the class room and a book of reference for the student. It aims not only to present systematically for the benefit of the beginner the leading facts and laws of the Latin language, but also to provide accurately for the needs of the advanced student.

The Short Latin Grammar is published for the benefit of those who prefer to begin with a more elementary manual, or those who do not contemplate a collegiate course. In the preparation of this work the convenience and interest of the student have been carefully consulted. The paradigms, rules, and discussions have in general been introduced in the exact form and language of the Complete Latin Grammar by which it may at any time be supplemented. The numbering of the sections in the two books is also alike.

LATIN PROSE WRITING

=With Full Introductory Notes On Idiom=

By MAURICE W. MATHER, Ph.D. Formerly Instructor in Latin in Harvard University and ARTHUR L. WHEELER, Ph.D. Instructor in Latin in Yale University

=Half Leather, 12mo, 216 pages Price $1.00=

The present book furnishes all the essential material for the writing of average passages in Latin Prose. It is not intended to teach how to write isolated sentences, illustrative of given constructions, but the book assumes that the pupil, after a year or more of such practice, is ready to learn the art of writing connected narrative in Latin. The authors have based their exercises on Caesar's Gallic War Books III and IV, Nepos's Alcibiades and Hannibal, and Cicero's Manilian Law and Archias, inasmuch as these are not only models of good style, but are usually read in schools. As the book is not for beginners, the individual exercises have not been made vehicles for teaching any one or two constructions, but the authors have felt at liberty to introduce at any time even the more difficult constructions; indirect discourse, for instance, being taken up at the very beginning.

While, in general, the vocabulary and the constructions for any exercise are supplied in the Latin text on which the given exercise is based, yet enough variation from the language of the model is required to give the pupil abundant practice in handling forms and constructions. By this means the pupil's power of observation is increased, his interest is quickened by the pleasure of discovery, and he will remember the word much better than if he found it ready at hand in a dictionary.

A number of recent examination papers from various colleges have been inserted in the belief that they will be found useful for sight tests and occasional examinations. The notes accompanying some of the papers belong to the original examinations. At the end of the book are indexes of words and constructions, and of English words and phrases with references to sections of the Notes on Idiom in Part I.

Copies sent, prepaid, to any address on receipt of the price.

PEARSON'S ESSENTIALS OF LATIN FOR BEGINNERS

BY HENRY C. PEARSON Horace Mann School, Teachers' College, Columbia University

Cloth, 12mo, 320 Pages Price, 90 Cents

This book is designed to prepare pupils in a thorough fashion to read Caesar's Gallic War. It contains seventy lessons, including ten that are devoted exclusively to reading, and six supplementary lessons. The first seventy lessons contain the minimum of what a pupil should know before he is ready to read Latin with any degree of intelligence and satisfaction. The supplementary lessons deal largely with certain principles of syntax that some teachers may not wish to present to their pupils during the first year's work. They are independent of one another and of the rest of the book, and may therefore be taken up in any order that the teacher wishes, or any number of them may be omitted.

The work contains many features and pedagogical improvements which will commend themselves to teachers of first year Latin. Various simplifications in statement are introduced, and throughout the greatest care has been taken to preserve scientific accuracy while enunciating principles in the simplest forms.

Revised Edition

VIRGIL'S AENEID

With an Introduction, Notes, and Vocabulary by #HENRY S. FRIEZE#, late Professor of Latin in the University of Michigan. Revised by #WALTER DENNISON#, Professor of Latin in the University of Michigan.

First Six Books $1.30 Complete $1.50 Complete Text Edition $0.50

#This Work# differs in many respects from the former edition. Such changes and alterations have been introduced as are necessary to make the book conform to modern demands, and many important additions have also been made.

#The Introduction# has been enlarged by the addition of sections on the life and writings of Virgil, the plan of the Aeneid, the meter, manuscripts, editions, and helpful books of reference.

#The Text# has been corrected to conform to the readings that have become established, and the spellings are in accord with the evidence of inscriptions of the first century A.D. To meet the need of early assistance in reading the verse metrically, the long vowels in the first two books are fully indicated.

#The Notes# have been thoroughly revised and largely added to. The old grammar references are corrected and new ones (to Harkness's Complete, Lane & Morgan's, and Bennett's Grammars) added. The literary appreciation of the poet is increased by parallel quotations from English literature. The irregularities of scansion in each book are also given with sufficient explanations.

#The Vocabulary# has been made as simple as possible and includes only those words occurring in the Aeneid. The parts of compound words are not indicated separately when they appear unmodified in the compound form. The principal parts of verbs are given which are understood to be in actual use.

#The Illustrations# for the most part are new and fresh, and have been selected with great care with a view to assisting directly in the interpretation of the text. There are also maps showing the wanderings of Aeneas, the vicinity of Cumae, and pre-historic Rome, and a full-page facsimile of one of the best manuscripts of Virgil, the Codex Palatinus.

FRANK A. GALLUP, A.M. Professor of Latin, Colgate Academy

=Half Leather, 12mo, 566 pages, with Maps and Illustrations. Price, $1.30=

This edition of Cicero contains in addition to selected letters all the orations required by all the colleges throughout the country. It is intended to be distinctly practical and aims solely to meet the needs of secondary and preparatory schools.

=The Orations= have been arranged in the order in which it is thought they can be read to the best advantage and include, besides the four against Catiline, those for Archais, Milo, Marcellus, and Ligarius, Pompey's Commission, and the Fourteenth Philippic.

=The Letters= have been selected with special reference to their fitness for reading at sight and for this purpose they have no equal in Roman literature.

=The Introduction= includes a well balanced life of Cicero with a just estimate of his standing and character and many helpful features which will give the student a comprehensive knowledge of Roman life and politics.

=The Notes= suggest rather than tell the student and help him to get, instead of getting for him, that acquaintance with the orator and with the language which is the result of true study.

=The Vocabulary= shows great care and thoroughness and meets the requirements of the average student.

=The Maps= are accurate and drawn especially for this work and the Illustrations are happily chosen to illustrate both text and time.

LATIN LITERATURE OF THE EMPIRE

=Selected and Edited with Revised Texts and Brief Introductions=

By ALFRED GUDEMAN, Ph.D. Associate Professor of Classical Philology, University of Pennsylvania

=In Two Volumes. Cloth, 12mo. Per Volume, $1.80=

VOL. I--PROSE. Selections from Velleius, Curtius, Seneca Rhetor, Justinus (Trogus Pompeius), Seneca, Petronius, including Cena Trimalchionis, Pliny the Elder, Quintilian, Tacitus, Pliny the Younger, Suetonius, Minucius Felix Octavius, Apuleius--Ammianus Marcellinus, and Boethius.

VOL. II--POETRY. Pseudo Vergiliana, Aetna, Manilius, Calpurnius, Nemesianus, Phaedrus, Lucan, Valerius Flaccus, Seneca, the Octavia (anonymous), Persius, Statius, Silius Italicus, Martial, Juvenal, Pervigilium Veneris, Ausonius, and Claudianus.

The works of Latin Literature of the post-Augustan period have hitherto, with a few notable exceptions, been virtually excluded from the classical curricula of colleges and universities.

The present collection has been made primarily for the use of students in higher classes in colleges. The selections will be found useful as collateral reading in connection with lectures on classical literature, and will also furnish suitable material for sight reading.

The selections themselves contain nothing that is not eminently worthy of perusal. They are in every case sufficiently extensive to give a continuous and coherent story, which at the same time exhibits the author at his best. The text follows the best modern editions, the deviations from the standard texts being briefly recorded in critical appendices.

Copies sent, prepaid, to any address on receipt of the price.

INTRODUCTION TO THE STUDY OF LATIN INSCRIPTIONS

By JAMES C. EGBERT, Jr., Ph.D. Adjunct Professor of Latin, Columbia University

=Half Morocco, large 12mo, 468 pages. With numerous illustrations and exact reproductions of inscriptions Price, $3 50=

This work is designed as a text-book for the use of students in Universities and Colleges, and also to furnish an account of this branch of archaeological study for general readers. It has been prepared in the belief that a knowledge of epigraphy forms an essential part of the equipment of a teacher of the classics, and that the subject itself has become so important as to justify its introduction, in elementary form at least, into the curriculum of undergraduate studies.

A distinctive feature of the book is the number and character of its illustrations,--there being over seven hundred cuts and diagrams of inscriptions, for the purpose of illustrating the text, and for practice in reading. Of these, over one hundred are photographic reproductions, showing the forms of the letters and the arrangement of the inscriptions. The work is also supplied with an exhaustive bibliography and valuable tables of abbreviations, archaisms, etc.

Copies of Egbert's Latin Inscriptions will be sent, prepaid, to any address on receipt of the price by the Publishers:

FIRST LATIN READINGS

An Equivalent for Caesar

by

ROBERT ARROWSMITH, Ph.D.

and

G. M. WHICHER, M.A.

Instructor in Classics, Packer Collegiate Institute, Brooklyn, N.Y.

=Cloth, 12mo, 344 pages. Price, $1.25=

This work has been prepared in response to a growing demand for a new first reading book in Latin, offering more simple and interesting material for the second-year work than is now provided by Caesar's Commentaries, the first connected reading pupils meet in the Latin course.

It is the aim of the present volume to offer for the student's first reading in Latin, material in which the least difficult Latin comes first; which contains the largest possible general vocabulary, instead of a small special vocabulary; which is drawn from a wide, instead of a narrow, range of literature; and which may be associated with other departments of teaching with greater success and productiveness than Caesar's Commentaries.

The selections in First Latin Readings have, therefore, been chosen with reference to their difficulty, their interest as literature, and, as far as possible, their relation to Roman life and custom, and not with reference to their exclusive use as drilling material on formal classical construction.

Exercises in Latin prose composition, based on the text of each author represented, have been prepared, and are included in the book.

Copies of First Latin Readings will be sent, prepaid, to any address on receipt of the price by the Publishers:

LATIN DICTIONARIES

=HARPER'S LATIN DICTIONARY=

Founded on the translation of "Freund's Latin-German Lexicon." Edited by E. A. ANDREWS, LL.D. Revised, Enlarged, and in great part Rewritten by CHARLTON T. LEWIS, Ph.D., and CHARLES SHORT, LL.D.

Royal Octavo, 2030 pages Sheep, =$6.50=; Full Russia, =$10.00=

The translation of Dr. Freund's great Latin-German Lexicon, edited by the late Dr. E. A. Andrews, and published in 1850 has been from that time in extensive and satisfactory use throughout England and America. Meanwhile great advances have been made in the science on which lexicography depends. The present work embodies the latest advances in philological study and research, and is in every respect the most complete and satisfactory Latin Dictionary published.

=LEWIS'S LATIN DICTIONARY FOR SCHOOLS=

By CHARLTON T. LEWIS, Ph.D.

Large Octavo, 1200 pages Cloth, =$4 50=; Half Leather, =$5.00=

This dictionary is not an abridgment, but an entirely new and independent work, designed to include all of the student's needs, after acquiring the elements of grammar, for the interpretation of the Latin authors commonly read in school.

=LEWIS'S ELEMENTARY LATIN DICTIONARY=

By CHARLTON T. LEWIS, Ph.D.

Crown Octavo, 952 pages. Half Leather =$2.00=

This work is sufficiently full to meet the needs of students in secondary or preparatory schools, and also in the first and second years' work in colleges.
